To prevent misunderstanding of the Map showing the acquisition of British territory, it is necessary to explain that territory which became British in any given year, but which may have been subsequently transferred to a Native Government, is not shown in the Map as having become British territory in that year. E. g., the strip of territory between the present northern boundary of Oudh and the Himalayas became British territory in 1816 by conquest from Nipal. It was transferred to Oudh the same year in satisfaction of the second Oudh loan, and it again became British territory in 1856 on the annexation of Oudh. But as it was given back to Nipal in 1860, it is not shown on the Map as having become British territory in 1856. It is impossible to record such changes on one Map. The object of the Map in this volume is to show the time at which territory now actually in the possession of the British Government was acquired.

With reference to page 4, it may here be remarked that the Ex-King of Delhi died at Rangoon on the 7th November 1862.

31st January 1863.

N. W. PROVINCES, OUDH, AND NEPAL.

THE I.

DURING the disorders of Meer Jaffier's first administration of Bengal, Mahomed Kooli Khan, Subadar of Allahabad, instigated by two powerful zemindars, Rajas Somdar Sing and Bulwunt Sing, formed the purpose of invading Bengal. His kinsman the Nawab of Oudh joined in the design, and in order to give a colorable pretext to the invasion, the son of Alingser II, who had fled from his father's court to Rohilcund, and who was invested by the Emperor with the Subadaree of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, was put at the head of the expedition.

Towards the close of the year 1758, the army advanced, under Kooli Khan and the Prince, to Patna. But the Nawab of Oudh, who was following, treacherously seized the Fort of Allahabad. Kooli Khan returned to repossess himself of his territory. He threw himself on the generosity of the Nawab, who immediately seized him and put him to death. Left thus unsupported, the Shahzada agreed with Clive, who had advanced to Patna for the purpose, of DELHI. the invasion, to withdraw across the Kurumnassa on receiving a small sum for the supply of his immediate necessities.

In 1760 a second invasion was undertaken. In the meantime, the Emperor was murdered by his Vizier, and the intelligence of this reached the Prince shortly after he had begun his march. He at once assumed the title of Emperor Shah Alim, and conferred the office of Vizier on the Nawab of Oudh, in whose hands he was virtually a prisoner. The imperial army was finally defeated in January 1761, and the Emperor, tired of his dependence on the Vizier of Oudh, joined the English Camp. He was there met by Cossim Ali, who had been made Subadar of Bengal on the departure of Meer Jaffier, and who agreed to pay to the Emperor twenty-four lakhs of Rupees a year, on condition of being confirmed in his office. After making an offer to the English of the Dewanee of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, the Emperor marched towards Delhi to take possession of his paternal throne. The Mahrattas had before this overrun Northern India and possessed themselves of Delhi, but they met with a disastrous defeat at Paniput from Ahmed Shah Abadali, who, after proclaiming Shah Alim as Emperor of Hindoostan, and inviting him to Delhi, returned to Cabul. Want of money, and the opposition of Cossim Ali prevented the English from fulfilling their intention of aiding Shah Alim in the recovery of his throne.

After the deposition of Cossim Ali and his final defeat at Patna, Cossim Ali fled and claimed the protection of the Vizier of Oudh, who, with the Emperor rather as a prisoner than as a monarch, was encamped at Allahabad, planning an expedition against Bundelcund. The Vizier hoped, under the pretence of assisting Cossim Ali, to seize Bengal for himself, and a joint expedition across the Kurumnassa was commenced. The army of the invaders was overthrown in the battle of Buxar, on 23rd October 1764; the Emperor detached himself from the expedition and joined the English Camp, and the Vizier retreated to his own dominions. It was proposed to depose the Vizier, and put the Emperor in possession of his territories, with the exception of the country of Ghazeepore and Benares, which the Emperor granted (No. I.) to the English. The arrangements thus made, however, were severely condemned by the Court of Directors as burdensome

When the mutiny of 1857 broke out, the mutineers in Delhi applied to the King Bahadoor Shah to put himself at the head of the movement. At first his conduct was most vacillating, but he subsequently identified himself with the rebel cause. After the fall of Delhi, he was captured and tried on the charges of, 1st, aiding and abetting the mutiny of British Troops, 2nd, encouraging and assisting divers persons in waging war against the British Government; 3rd, assuming the sovereignty of India, 4th, causing and being accessory to the murder of Christians. The Ex-King was convicted on each and all of the charges, and was removed to Rangoon, where he is now imprisoned.

PROPOSALS made by the KING SHAH AALUM, and enclosed in a letter from MAJOR HECTOR MUNRO to the PRESIDENT and COUNCIL at BENGAL, dated from the Camp at Benares, the 22nd of November 1764

If this country is to be kept, put me in possession of it, and leave a small detachment of the troops with me, to show that I am protected by the English, and they shall be at my expense; that if any enemy come at any time against me, I will make such connections in the country, that, with my own troops, and the afore-mentioned small detachment, will defend the country, without any further assistance from the English, and I will pay them, of the revenues of the country, ~~what sum~~ they shall demand yearly. If the English will, contrary to their interest, make peace with the Vizier, I will go to Delhi; for I cannot think of returning again into the hands of a man who has used me so ill. I have no friends I depend on more than the English; their former behaviour to me will make me ever respect and regard them. Now is their time to be in possession of a country abounding with riches and treasure; I shall be satisfied with whatever share they please of it. The Rohillas were always enemies to the imperious Vizier. They are all my friends.

ARTICLES to be executed by the KING, enclosed in a letter from the PRESIDENT and COUNCIL at BENGAL to MAJOR HECTOR MUNRO, Commander-in-Chief of the Army, sent the 6th of December 1764

No. I.

In consideration of the assistance and fidelity of the English Company, which has freed us from the inconveniences we labored under, and strengthened the foundations of the Empire which God has given us, we have been graciously pleased to grant to the English Company our Royal favors according to the following Articles, which shall remain firm both in present and in future.

As the English Company have been put to great expense and their affairs exposed to danger by the war which the Nabob Shujah-ul Dowlah, unjustly, and contrary to our Royal pleasure, waged against them, we have therefore assigned to them the country of Ghauzepoor and the rest of the zemindarry of Bulwunt Sing, belonging to the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul Dowlah: and the regulation, and government thereof, we have given to their disposal in the same manner as it was in the Nabob Shujah-ul Dowlah's. The aforesaid Rajah having settled terms with the Chiefs of the English Company, is according thereto to pay the revenues to the Company; and the amount shall not belong to the books of the Royal revenue but shall be expunged from them.

The army of the English Company, having joined our standard, shall put us in possession of Illiabad and the rest of the countries belonging to the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul Dowlah; and the revenues, excepting those of Rajah Bulwunt's zemindarry, shall be in our entire management and disposal.

As the English Company will be at a further expense in putting us in possession of Illiabad and the rest of the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul Dowlah, we will therefore, as we get possession, grant to them out of our treasury, such a proportion of the revenues as the exigencies of our affairs will admit of, and when we are put in full possession, we will reimburse the whole expenses of the Company in this business from the time of their joining our Royal standard.

It becomes the Company to show their grateful sense of our Royal favors, and to exert themselves to the utmost in the proper management and regulation of the country; to encourage and befriend our subjects; to punish the contentious, and expel the rebellious from their territories. They must use their best endeavors to promote the welfare of our people, the ryots, and other inhabitants; to prohibit the use of things of an intoxicating nature, and such as are forbidden by the Law of God; in driving out enemies; in deciding causes, and settling matters agreeably to the rules of Mahomed and the Law of the Empire; so that the inhabitants may apply themselves, with peace of mind and satisfaction, to the cultivation of the country, and the exercise of other their professions, and that the weak may not labor under oppression and violence. R A M P O R E.

From a Report by the Commissioner of Rohilcund and other Papers in the Foreign Office.

THE first settlers of the Rohilla Afghans were two brothers, Shah Alim and Hqosin Khan. The son of the first of these, Daood Khan, achieved some distinction in the earlier part of the 18th century. But the rise of the family is owing mainly to his son, Ali Mahomed Khan, said to have been of Hindoo extraction, but who was adopted by Daood Khan. Ali Mahomed, by his successes on his father's death, collected many Afghan adventurers, and for his services against the Bara Syuds, he received the title of Nawab, and a grant of the greater part of Rohilcund. He happened to offend the Subadar of Oudh, who repaired to Delhi, and by his representations induced the King of Delhi, Mahomed Shah, to take the field against the Rohilla Chief. Ali Mahomed was compelled to surrender, and was made to relinquish his territory, and to deliver two of his sons as hostages.

Not long afterwards he was placed in charge of Simbind, but taking advantage of the confusion in the last months of the Emperor's reign, consequent on the invasion of Ahmud Shah Abadali, he passed into Rohilcund, and made good his supremacy over the province. In the next reign he obtained a confirmation of this territory from the son of Mahomed Shah.

Previous to his death, he made a disposition in favor of his six sons, and till the return from captivity of his two elder sons (who had been seized by Ahmud Shah) and the majority of his other sons, he entrusted his territory to the guardianship of Hafiz Ruhmut Khan, the brother, and Doodee Khan, the cousin, of Daood Khan. Not long after his death the two sons were released. The final arrangement made by the guardians was to place Eyzoolla in a jagheer, comprising Bander Coteria, estimated to be worth six lakhs per annum.

RAMPORE

When the Mahrattas had in 1771 placed Shah Alim on the throne of Delhi, they turned their attention to the conquest of the Rohil country. Alarmed by their approach, the Rohillas temporized with them, and meanwhile proposed an alliance with the Nawab of Oudh. In 1772, an alliance offensive and defensive (No. II) was concluded by which the Rohillas agreed to pay to the Nawab forty lakhs Rupees, on condition of his expelling the Mahrattas.

After the Mahrattas had extorted from the Emperor the grant of the districts of Allahabad and Corah, the Nawab became thoroughly alarmed, and applied to the English, who were bound by Treaty to assist him. At a conference with Warren Hastings at Benares, the Nawab procured the promise of troops to assist him in his design against the Rohillas, who were unable to resist the Mahrattas and who had failed in their pecuniary obligations. The Vizier also made a Treaty with the Emperor, in which it was stipulated that the Emperor should assist him in the expedition, and receive a share of the conquered territory.

The Rohillas, who resisted the invasion of their country, were defeated after a most gallant struggle, in which Hafiz Ruhmut was slain. Fyzoolla Khan withdrew with the remains of the Rohil army to the hills, and after some negotiations and petty skirmishes, an Agreement (No. III), known as the Treaty of Lall Dhang, was made between him and the Nawab under the British guarantee, by which he was secured in the estate of Rampore, on condition of military service to the Vizier. In 1783 the obligation of service was commuted (No. IV.) under the guarantee of the British Government a cash payment of Rupees 15,00,000.

On the death of Fyzoolla Khan, disturbances broke out in the family. Mahomed Ali Khan, the eldest son, was murdered by his brother Gholam Mahomed Khan, who usurped the jagheer. As the estate was held under British guarantee, the aid of British troops was given to the Nawab of Oudh in ejecting the usurper and installing Ahmed Ali Khan, the son of Mahomed Ali. A preliminary Agreement (No. V) was executed between the British Government, the Nawab, and the Rohilla tribe, after which Ahmed Ali Khan was restored by Treaty (No. VI.) under British guarantee to a portion of the estate, the rest being annexed to Rohilcund.

On the cession of Rohilkund to the British Government in 1801, the family were continued in their possessions. RAMPORE.
No. II.

Ahmed Ali Khan died in 1839. The succession of his only daughter was rejected, and the next heir, Mahomed Saeed Khan, the eldest son of Gholam Mahomed Khan, was put in possession of the estate. An Engagement (No. VII) was taken from him that he would govern his estate rightly, and provide for the inferior Rohilla Chiefs. A similar Engagement (No. VIII.) was taken from the present Nawab, Mahomed Yoosuf Ali Khan, the eldest son and successor of Mahomed Saeed Khan.

For his services during the rebellion of 1857 the Nawab received a grant of land (No. IX.), yielding Rupees 1,04,400. It was at first intended to grant the Pergunnah of Kasheepore, but villages on the Moradabad and Bareilly Frontier were afterwards substituted. The Nawab is bound to respect the rights of the zemindars in these villages.

The Nawab has also received the dignity of Knight of the most exalted Order of the Star of India. He has also been assured by Sunnud (No. X) that any succession to the government of his State, which may be legitimate according to Mahomedan Law, will be upheld. The Nawab receives a salute of 13 guns.

The area of the Rampore Territory is 1,140 square miles, and the population is 3,90,232.

TRANSLATION of the AGREEMENT given by HAFIZ RHAMUT KHAN to the VIZIER

As the Vizier of the Empire, the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowla, will put the Rohilla Sirdars in full possession of their country, it is at his own option to effect it either by peace or war. Should the Mahrattas at this time, without coming to an engagement or peace being established cross the river, and retreat owing to the rainy season, and after that is elapsed, commit disturbances in the country of the Rohillas, the quelling of these disturbances shall belong to the Vizier. The Rohilla Sirdars, after the aforesaid business, do agree to pay the sum of 40 lacks of Rupees on the following terms; viz., as the Mahrattas are now committing disorders in the country of the Rohillas, the Vizier shall march from Shahabad to such place as may be thought proper to arrive at, in order that the Rohilla dependents may come out of the jungles and arrive at their own homes. The sum of ten lacks of Rupees shall then be paid in ready money, in part of the stipulation, and 30 lacks of Rupees shall be discharged in three years, RAMPORE

Copy of a SUNNUD to NAWAB MOHAMED YOUSUF ALI KHAN of Rampoor

Her Majesty being desirous that the governments of the several Princes and Chiefs of India who now govern their own territories should be perpetuated, and that the representation and dignity of their houses should be continued, I hereby, in fulfilment of this desire, convey to you the assurance that, on failure of natural heirs, any succession to the Government of your State which may be legitimate according to Mahomedan law will be upheld.

Be assured that nothing shall disturb the Engagement thus made to you so long as your house is loyal to the Crown and faithful to the conditions of the Treaties, Grants, or Engagements which record its obligations to the British Government.

FURRUCKABAD.

BEFORE the cession of Rohilcund to the British Government the Furruckabad Territory was almost entirely surrounded by the dominions of the Vizier of Oudh. A tribute of Rupees 4,50,000 was paid by the Nawab Raees of Furruckabad to the Vizier. This tribute was ceded to the British Government by the Treaty with the Vizier of 10th November 1801. In 1802 the Nawab ceded (No. XI) the sovereignty of the province to the British Government, who settled on him and his heirs and successors a stipend of Rupees 1,08,000 a year.

The last Nawab Raees of Furruckabad, Tufuzzool Hossein, rebelled in 1857. He surrendered on 7th January 1859 under the proclamation of amnesty, and was tried before a Special Commission on various counts, charging him, first, with rebelling and waging war against the British Government, and acting as a leader and instigator in revolt; and, secondly, with being a principal and accessory both before and after the fact to the murder of many British subjects, European, Eurasian, and Native. He was convicted and sentenced to death, and all his property was adjudged to be confiscated. But it came out on the trial, and was pleaded by the prisoner as a bar to the execution of the sentence, that before his surrender a letter had been written to him by Major Barrow, the Special Commissioner with the camp of the Commander-in-Chief, in which he was invited to surrender; and that in this letter he was told that pardon had been extended to all who had not personally committed the murder of British subjects, and that if he had not personally committed the murder of British subjects he might surrender without apprehension. Government condemned and disavowed this act of Major Barrow, but forbore in consequence of it from carrying out the capital sentence, on condition that Tufuzzool Hossein should immediately quit the British Territories for ever. He was carried to Aden and sent across the frontier in the direction of Mecca, and warned that if ever he set foot on British Territory, the sentence of death which has been passed upon him will be carried out.

FURRUCK-
ABAD
No. XI.

As regards the Treaty of 1802, it was held that, as between the British Government and the Nawab Raees, the Treaty was cancelled by Tufuzzool Hossein's rebellion, but that this breach of engagement by Tufuzzool Hossein did not of itself affect the rights of third parties recognized or created by the Treaty. The pension guaranteed by Article 2, the property and annual payments guaranteed by Articles 3, 4, and 7, were therefore resumed, and a small subsistence allowance was granted to those who were dependent on these payments, and had no other means of support, provided they took no part in and gave no encouragement to rebellion. But the pensions guaranteed by Article 5 and the rent-free land and jagheers alluded to in Article 8 were continued to the holders, provided they were not implicated in rebellion, and did not hold their pensions or lands on condition of service, the performance of which is no longer possible.

B E N A R E S.

THIS family was founded by Munsa Ram, Zemindar of Gungapore, who died in 1740, and was succeeded by Rajah Bulwunt Sing. Bulwunt Sing joined Shah Alim and Shujah-o-Dowla in their invasion of Bengal in 1763. He joined the British Camp with the Emperor after the battle of Buxar, and in the arrangements made with the Emperor in 1764,* his zemindarry was transferred from Oudh to the British Government. The arrangements thus made were disapproved by the Home Government, and when the Treaty of 1765 was concluded with Shujah-o-Dowla, the Estate of Rajah Bulwunt Sing was restored to Oudh, the Nawab engaging to continue him in possession on condition of his paying the same revenue as before.

In 1770, on the death of Bulwunt Sing, the Vizier of Oudh wished to dispossess the family, but the British Government compelled him to recognize the succession of Cheit Sing, son of Bulwunt Sing, and to grant him a Sunnud (No. XII.) under their guarantee. By the Treaty concluded with the Nawab in 1775, the sovereignty of the districts dependent on Rajah Cheit Sing was ceded in perpetuity to the British Government. A Sunnud (No. XIII) was given to the Rajah confirming him in his zemindarry, and the Civil and Criminal Administration thereof, subject to a tribute of Sicca Rupees 22,66,180, and on condition of adopting measures for the interest and security of the country and the preservation of the peace. The Rajah was also allowed to coin money.

In 1778 it was proposed that the Rajah should be required to pay a subsidy of five lakhs of Rupees for the maintenance of three battalions of sepoy. He consented to the arrangement for one year. The contribution was again levied in 1779 and in 1780, and the Rajah was also required to employ his Cavalry for the general service of the State. Cheit Sing manifested great reluctance to meet these demands, and to fulfil his feudal obligations to the British Government. He was also believed to be secretly disaffected, and to have corresponded with the enemies of the British Government, and he was therefore put in arrest in his own house in 1781, by order of Warren Hastings. A tumult ensued, in which the Military Guard over the Rajah were cut down and the Rajah escaped. Cheit Sing collected his troops, and appealed for aid to some of the Princes of Hindoostan. But his troops were defeated in several petty skirmishes, and the rebellion was crushed. Rajah Cheit Sing was deprived of his estate, which was given (No. XIV) to his nephew, Rajah Mohipnarain grandson of Rajah Bulwunt Sing, subject to a tribute of forty lakhs of Rupees. The Criminal Administration of the zemindarry and the Civil and Criminal Administration of the City of Benares, together with the power of the Mint, were taken out of the new Rajah's hands. Rajah Cheit Sing took refuge with Sindia, and died at Gwalior, in 1810.

Rajah Mohipnarain died in 1795, and was succeeded by his son Oditnarain Sing, who was succeeded in 1835 by his nephew and adopted son, Isree Persad Narain, the present Rajah. In March 1861 the Maharajah received the assurance by Sunnud (No. XV) that on failure of natural heirs Government will permit and confirm an adoption of a successor made by himself or by any future Chief of his State that may be in accordance with Hindoo law and the customs of his race. The Maharajah receives a salute of 13 guns.

Gurhwal.—On the termination of the Nipal War in 1815, Rajah Soodursun Sah, who had been deprived of his country by the Goorkhas, was found in great poverty at Dehra That portion of his hereditary possessions which lay to the west of the Alikamunda River was restored to him by Sunnud (No. XVI), the lands to the east, and the Dehra Doon and the Pergunnah of Ramgurh being retained by the British Government

During the Mutinies of 1857, the Rajah rendered valuable assistance to Government. He died in June 1859, and in consideration of his services, his eldest illegitimate son, Bhowan Sing, was allowed to succeed (No. XVII.) He has since received a Sunnud (No. XVIII.), guaranteeing the right of adoption.

The revenue of the country is about Rupees 80,000, and the population 200,000. The Rajah has no troops of any kind, and pays no tribute.

Shahpoora.—The Rajah Dheeraj of Shahpoora is of the Sesodea Rajpoot clan, and immediately descended from a former Rana of Oodeypore. The founder of the house of Shahpoora was Sooruj Mull, a younger son of the Rana, from whom the present Chief is tenth in direct lineal descent. Sooraj Mull received as his portion the Pergunnah of Khyrar, in Meywar, and his son also acquired from the Emperor Shah Jehan of Delhi, in reward of his gallant services, a grant out of the crown lands of Ajmeer, of the Pergunnah of Phoolca, upon condition of furnishing certain horse and footmen for service He abandoned the town of Phoolca, and founded the present town of Shahpoora.

The present Rajah thus holds Khyrar under the Sovereign of Oodeypore, and Shahpoora under the British Government as part of Ajmeer. His possessions are estimated to yield nearly three lakhs per annum.

In 1848 he received a Sunnud (No. XIX) from Government, fixing the amount of his tribute at Rupees 10,000 per annum, but with the proviso that, if the customs duties levied in Ajmeer were abolished, he should also cease to collect such duties, and, in consideration of such loss of revenue, his tribute should be reduced to Rupees 2,000. He is not subject to any of the Ajmeer Courts, but is required by the terms of his Sunnud to report all heinous crimes, involving the punishment of death or imprisonment for life, to the officer in charge of Ajmeer, and to adjudicate upon them with his advice and concurrence.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granting the TERRITORY of GURHWAL to RAJAH BHOWA SING, dated 6th September 1859.

Be it known to the chowdhories, canongoes and zemindars of the Gurhwal Ilaga, that the Chief of Gurhwal having died, leaving no legitimate issue, the above territory has lapsed to the Government with proprietary rights therein, but in consideration of the firm attachment and steady friendship of the late Rajah, and the valuable services which he rendered in 1857, the Government has resolved to confer upon Bhowan Sing, son of the deceased, and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, the Territory of Gurhwal, which was in the possession of the late Rajah. I therefore do hereby grant to Bhow Sing and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, the title Rajah, and the State of Gurhwal.

Be it also known that British subjects, both Native and European, shall have free access into the Rajah's territories for commerce or otherwise, that they shall receive the same consideration as protection as the subjects of the Rajah, that the Government shall have power to make roads through the Gurhwal Territory; and that this grant has been made on condition of good behaviour and of service, military and political, in time of danger and disturbance

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD continuing PERGUNNAH PHOOLEA to RAJAH JUGGUT
SING JEO, Chief of Shahpoora, dated 27th June 1848

Whereas the question of fixing the tribute of Pergunnah Phoolea payable by the Chief of Shahpoora, has been under the consideration of the British Officers for a long time, and from the enquiries which have now been made, it appears that at first Pergunnah Phoolea was granted in jaghire by Aurungzeb Alumgeer, King of Delhi, to Rajah Sooja Sing Jeo, the founder of the family of the Chief of Shahpoora and from that period to the present day, the Pergunnah has been in the possession and enjoyment of the descendants of the said Rajah and Rajah Juggut Sing Jeo, son of the late Rajah Madho Sing Jeo, holds it now as a right of succession to his father: Therefore the Government, with reference to the foregoing circumstances, has decided that Pergunnah Phoolea shall, as before, remain in the possession of Rajah Juggut Sing Jeo and his heirs, and has fixed a sum of ten thousand Company's Rupees as its annual tribute, which should be paid annually by the Chief of Shahpoora to the Government. As it is the wish of the British Officers to lay down certain stipulations with regard to the administration of the affairs of the Ilaqa, it has been deemed proper to insert in this Sunnud the following condition for future observance, viz. :—

1st.—That if at any time the customs duties, &c., be abolished in the District of Ajmere, and if the Government wish that the customs duties should also be abolished in Pergunnah Phoolea, the Chief of Shahpoora shall cease to collect any customs duties in that Pergunnah, and in this case the sum of ten thousand Rupees, which has been fixed as annual tribute to Government, shall be reduced to two thousand Rupees only. If the customs duties shall not be abolished entirely, but only a portion thereof cease to be levied, the annual revenue now fixed shall be reduced in proportion to the loss which may be found to be entailed upon the Chief by the abolition of the duties. It will likewise be understood that the amount which the Government will take as its revenue shall, on no account, be less than two thousand Rupees.

2nd.—That all the rules and regulations which are now existing in respect to the civil and criminal cases, shall remain in force, but in a criminal case no one shall be liable to punishment which may be deemed unjust and against the established rules, such as is sometimes inflicted in Native States. All cases of heinous crime, involving the punishment of death, or imprisonment for life, shall be reported to the Agent and Commissioner of Ajmere, and disposed of in accordance with his advice.

3rd.—That the rights which the brothers and sons of the Chief or others are in the enjoyment of, shall be respected and continued to them, but it is proper for them all to present peshkush, or to render service, &c., as they may, agreeably to the custom of Pergunnah Shahpoora, be required to do, and in no respect to fail in performing the same.

4th.—That should at any time the affairs of Pergunnah Phoolea be found mismanaged, the Government shall draw the attention of the Chief of Shahpoora to that circumstance, and direct him to adopt proper measures for the better management thereof. Thereafter the Government shall, if it be necessary, make such arrangements as may be deemed proper, either through the Chief or without him.

5th.—That the Chief of Shahpoora shall, without any excuse on account of calamities, failure of crop, &c., pay by two equal instalments, into the Treasury of Government, the sum of ten thousand Company's Rupees per annum, fixed as above, viz., five thousand Rupees in the month of Ughan, and five thousand Rupees in the month of Bysakh. The Rajah of Shahpoora, considering this document as a Sunnud for the perpetual grant of Pergunnah Phoolea, should be under obligation to Government. He shall deem the above-mentioned conditions as binding on him, and continue to abide by them.

OUDH.

THE founder of the Oudh family was Sadut Khan, who was appointed Subadar of Oudh in the voluptuous reign of Mahomed Shah. He was succeeded by his son-in-law Suffder Jung, who died in 1753, and was succeeded by his son Suja-ô-Dowla, who was created Vizier by the Emperor Shah Alim.

After his defeat at Buxar, in 1764 (see Delhi), the Vizier, having retreated to his own dominions, obtained the assistance of a body of Mahrattas. But this weak force was scattered in a skirmish at Corah, and the Vizier, reduced to extremities, threw himself on the generosity of the British Government. The arrangements which had been made with the Emperor in 1764, by which he ceded Ghazeepore and Benares to the Company, being himself put in possession of all the rest of the Vizier's dominions, was disapproved by the Court of Directors. It was considered expedient to preserve the dominions of the Vizier as a barrier against the Mahrattas, and therefore, by the Treaty of 1765 (No. XX.), the Vizier was restored to all his territories, except Allahabad and Corah, which were given to the Emperor for the support of his dignity and expenses.

Some uneasiness was still felt as to the designs of the Vizier, who had the Emperor completely in his power, and who was ambitious of of them to be equipped or drilled like English Troops.

At this time the position of the Mahrattas was most threatening. The Emperor had put himself in their hands and been placed by them on the throne of Delhi, but he had no real power, and his name was used as a cloak for the justification of the Mahratta usurpations. * On leaving Allahabad in 1771 the Emperor put the Vizier in possession of the Fort. But when the Mahrattas extorted from him the cession of Corah and Allahabad, it was deemed necessary, for protection against the Mahrattas, that both the Fort of Chunar and the Fort of Allahabad should be held by English Troops, and Agreements (Nos. XXII. and XXIII.) to this effect were executed on 20th March 1772. The grant of Corah and Allahabad to the Mahrattas was considered to be contrary to the meaning of the Treaty of 1765, by which these districts were given to the Emperor for the support of his dignity, and as the Emperor had abandoned possession of them, they were sold (No. XXIV.) to the Vizier for fifty lakhs of Rupees, and at the same time the Vizier agreed to pay Sicca Rupees 2,10,000 per month for each brigade of English Troops that might march to his assistance.

In 1775 the Vizier Suja-6-Dowla died and was succeeded by his son Asuf-6-Dowla. On his accession a new Treaty (No. XXV) was concluded, confirming him in the possession of Corah and Allahabad, raising the payment for British Troops to Rupees 2,60,000 a month for each brigade, and ceding to the British Government, Benares, Jaunpore, Ghazeepore, and the possessions of Rajah Cheyt Sing. In his pecuniary obligations to the British Government the new Nawab soon fell deeply into arrears. Pressed by his pecuniary embarrassments, the Nawab endeavored to deprive the mother of Suja-6-Dowla and his own mother, the Buhoo Begum, of the property which had been left them. In 1775 the Buhoo Begum complained that Rupees 26,00,000 had been extorted from her. An Agreement (No. XXVI.), however, was made between her and her son Asuf-6-Dowla, which was guaranteed by the English Government, maintaining her in the full enjoyment of her jaghires and property.

In 1781, at a personal interview with Warren Hastings at Chunar, a new Treaty (No. XXVII.) was negotiated to give relief to the Nawab by the withdrawal of all the English Troops, except a single brigade and one additional regiment, and authorizing the Nawab to resume jaghires, but requiring him to grant equivalent pensions to jaghiredars, whose estates were guaranteed by the British Government. This was taken advantage of by the Nawab for the resumption of the jaghires of the Begums, which were subsequently in part resumed, and for the spoliation of their treasures, on the alleged ground of their being implicated in Cheyt Sing's rebellion Warren Hastings' share in these transactions formed one of the charges against him on his impeachment.

The weakness of the Nawab's Government prevented the withdrawal of the English Troops as provided for by the Treaty of 1781. When Lord Cornwallis assumed the Government in 1786 the Nawab pressed for some mitigation of his burdens. It was not deemed safe to reduce the British Troops, but an arrangement (No. XXVIII.) was made, by which the Nawab's payment was fixed at Rupees 50,00,000 a year in lieu of all claims, and a large portion of the balance due to the British Government was remitted.

In the following year a Commercial Treaty (No. XXIX.) was concluded with the Vizier, providing for the levy at fixed places of an ad-valorem duty on goods, and prohibiting the levy of transit duties by landholders and others

The pecuniary difficulties in which the Vizier continued to be involved arose chiefly from his incapacity and misgovernment. In 1797 Sir John Shore paid a visit to Lucknow, to induce the Vizier to reform his administration and to pay part of the increased military establishment which it had been found necessary to keep up. An Agreement (No. XXX) was at this time made, by which the Vizier undertook to pay for one additional regiment of European and one of Native Cavalry, provided the annual cost should not exceed five and a half lakhs of Rupees.

In 1797 Asuf-ô-Dowla died, and his reputed son Mirza Ali was acknowledged as his successor. His paternity having been afterwards proved to be spurious, he was deposed, and Sadut Ali, the eldest surviving son of Suja-ô-Dowla, and the brother of Asuf-ô-Dowla, was proclaimed in his stead. On the accession of Sadut Ali a Treaty (No. XXXI) was concluded, by which, among other arrangements, the Vizier's payments to the British Government were raised to seventy-six lakhs a year, and the minimum British Force to be maintained in the country was fixed at 10,000 men. At the same time the Vizier made an Agreement (No. XXXII.) with the Buhoo Begum, granting her certain jaghires in Gonda and Fyzabad under the guarantee of the British Government.

The Vizier's army was an armed rabble, ill disciplined, and would have been rather a source of danger than a help had the invasion of Zeman Shah, from Afghanistan, with the anticipations of which the people of India were periodically alarmed, taken place. In 1799, therefore, the Marquis Wellesley addressed the Vizier, with a view to induce him to disband his troops, and replace them by a British subsidiary force. Major Scott was deputed to conduct negotiations for the above purpose, and to secure, by a cession of territory from the Vizier, a resource for the regular payment of the subsidy. The Vizier was very reluctant to agree to the proposals made to him, and threatened to abdicate in favor of his son. But at length, after protracted negotiations and the deputation of the Honorable Mr. Wellesley, the Governor-General's brother, to Lucknow, a Treaty (No. XXXIII.) was signed on 10th November 1801, by which the Vizier ceded to the British Government lands in the Doab, yielding a revenue of Rupees 1,35,23,474, in lieu of the subsidy and all future expenses incurred in defending his territory; reduced his troops to four battalions of Infantry and one of Nujeebs, 2,000 Cavalry and 300 Golundaz; and agreed to introduce a good system of government in his remaining territories. The Treaty also provided for the free navigation of the Ganges and other, rivers, where they formed the mutual boundary of the British Territories and Oudh. At a personal interview with the Vizier at Lucknow, the Governor-General, after some discussion, settled various points arising out of the Treaty of 10th November which remained to be adjusted, and explained the general principles which should regulate the connection and intercourse between the two States as resulting from the Treaty. The results of this conference were embodied in a Memorandum (No. XXXIV.), of which a copy, signed and sealed by the Governor-General, was delivered to the Vizier.

In 1812 a Treaty (No. XXXV.) was made with the Nawab Sadut Ali, to prevent disputes arising out of the frequent changes in the course of the rivers forming the boundaries between the British Territories and Oudh. The Treaty related merely to the prevention of disputes between the two States, and had no reference whatever to the rights of zemindars.

Sadut Ali Khan died on 11th July 1814, and was succeeded by his eldest son Ghazi-ood-Deen Hyder. On his accession Engagements (No. XXXVI.) were exchanged between him and the Governor-General, declaring all Treaties and Engagements made with the late Nawab to be in full force to all intents and purposes

During the negotiations with Sadut Ali Khan, which led to the cession of Rohilcund, the Buhoo Begum had offered to make the English Government her heir on condition of her being released from dependance on her grandson, and of her connections and dependants being secured in the undisturbed possession of their property. It was believed that the Vizier's principal objections to the proposed Treaty for the cession of Rohilcund proceeded from the expectation of his acquiring great wealth on the Begum's death. The Governor-General therefore expressed his intention of accepting the Begum's offer. The arrangements, however, were never completed, and in consequence of the altered relations between the Vizier and the Begum, after the conclusion of the Treaty of 1801, Government eventually declined the bequest.

In 1808 the Begum executed a Will, making the British Government heir to the residue of her property, after maintaining certain jaghires and pensions, and paying certain sums for the construction of a Mausoleum, &c. Government, however, declared its intention of yielding the legacy to the Vizier and making over the residue of the property to him. The Will was subsequently revoked, and a Deed of Deposit (No. XXXVII) was executed, the provisions of which the British Government guaranteed to execute so far as depended on them. The arrangements proposed were, with the Begum's consent, disclosed to the Vizier, who was assured that he would be acknowledged by Government as the Begum's heir on his agreeing in the whole of the purposes of the Will. To this arrangement Ghazi-ood-Deen Hyder intimated his assent in a letter to the Resident, dated 4th August 1814.

The Begum died on 15th December 1815, leaving property to the value of Rupees 99,48,916. After her death it was proposed to embody the obligations of the British Government and the Vizier in regard to her property in a Treaty. But as the Nawab expressed an unwillingness to execute any further documents, which were unnecessary after his engagement in 1814, the Treaty was not pressed on him. All the personal property of the Begum was made over to the Vizier on his paying into the British Treasury Rupees 56,84,082, the interest on which was to yield certain pensions which, by the Deed of Deposit, were to be defrayed from the funds left by the Begum. These pensions are now known as the amanut or trust pensions. But besides these there were certain jaghires and pensions payable from the Oudh Treasury, in case of the diminution or resumption of which by the Vizier the British Government was to make a provision of corresponding amount for the holders from the residue of the Begum's property. To this class belonged the pensions of Mirza Ali, Salar Jung and his three sons, and the several members of the Khas Mehal. The pensions of Mirza Ali, Salar Jung and his three sons were subsequently provided for in the arrangements made with the Vizier for the payment of the first Oudh Loan. Of the Khas Mehal pensions, three, namely, those of Lootf-oon-Nissa, Mirza Mahomed Tuckee Khan, and Mirza Nusseer and their children, aggregating Rupees 6,000 a month, were secured by the guarantee of the British Government. These are now known as the zamanut or security pensions.

In 1814, when Lord Moira proceeded to the Upper Provinces to be near the scene of action in the Nipal War, he was visited at Cawn-pore by the Nawab, who offered to him a crore of Rupees as a free gift. The gift was declined, but a loan of Rupees 1,08,50,000, at 6 per cent. per annum, was accepted, the interest, Rupees 6,51,000, being devoted from 14th November 1814 to defray certain stipends (No. XXXVIII.) guaranteed by the British Government. The principal of lapsed stipends was repayable to the Oudh Government, and up to 1855 there had been repaid at various times Rupees 72,42,765, leaving outstanding, at 6 per cent., Rupees 36,07,235.

In the month of March 1815, in consequence of the vast expenditure during the Nipal War, Government applied to the Nawab for a second loan of one crore of Rupees, at 6 per cent. On the conclusion of the war, this second loan was extinguished by the cession, by Treaty (No. XXXIX.), to the Nawab, of the District of Khyreegurh and the Terai lands conquered from the Goorkhas, between the Gogra on the West and the District of Goruckpore. By the same Treaty, a part of the District of Goruckpore was ceded to exchange by the British Government for the tract of country intervening between the British Districts of Jaunpore, Mirzapore, and Allahabad.

In 1825, the Vizier, who, in 1819, had been raised by the British Government to the dignity of King, proposed that the British Government should cede to him a portion of its territories in exchange for a sum of money. There were, however, insuperable objections to the alienation of any portion of British Territory. But as the Government were suffering from the financial difficulties caused by the protracted hostilities in Burmah, and the King's Treasury was full, a proposal was made to take a loan of a crore of Rupees, at 5 per cent. interest, from the King. The interest of this loan was by a Treaty (No. XL.), dated 17th August 1825, devoted in perpetuity to the payment of certain stipends, and the British Government agreed to be the protector of the honor and prosperity of the stipendiaries.

In the following year a fourth loan of half a crore of Rupees was taken, at 5 per cent interest, repayable after two years. Before his death, in 1827, the King Ghazi-ood-deen Hyder requested that this loan might be made perpetual, and that the interest should be devoted to meet certain pensions, the stipendiaries being guaranteed the protection of the British Government. But the previous guarantees which Government had given had produced so much embarrassment that the request of the King was declined.

Ghazi-ood-deen Hyder was succeeded by his son Nusseer-ood-deen Hyder. Being anxious to make a permanent provision for certain ladies of his household, Nusseer-ood-deen Hyder proposed to grant another loan, at 5 per cent. interest, consisting of the half crore lent in the previous year, with an additional sum of Rupees 12,40,000. This loan was accepted (No. XLI.), but was made redeemable at any time after the death of the original stipendiaries. No guarantee was given of protection to the stipendiaries, but a promise was made that they would always be treated with special favor and kindness. Rupees 38,40,000 of this loan were repaid, in 1853, to the heirs of some of the original grantees, Rupees 2,40,000 being paid in cash, and Rupees 36,00,000 by transfer to the Government 4 per cent. loan.

In 1833, at the request of the King, Government accepted another loan of Rupees 3,00,000, at 4 per cent., and agreed (No. XLII.) to pay the interest in monthly charitable payments to the poor in the city of Lucknow ODDH

Nusseer-ood-deen Hyder died in 1837, and was succeeded by his Uncle, Mahomed Ali Shah. On his accession a Treaty (No XLIII.) was concluded with him by the Governor-General in Council. The assent of the King was most reluctantly given to this Treaty. The Home Government therefore disallowed it, and directed the restoration of the relations with the State of Oudh to the footing on which they previously stood. The King was thereupon informed of the determination of Government to relieve him from all that was onerous in the conditions respecting the subsidiary force established under the Treaty, and to defray from the British Treasury the expense of the portion of it already organized, but the formal abrogation of the Treaty was not intimated to him.

Mahomed Ali Shah being anxious to provide pensions in perpetuity for certain members of his family, offered, in 1838, a loan of Rupees 17,00,000, at 4 per cent., and requested that the pensioners, to whom the interest was to be paid, should be guaranteed against oppression by future Rulers of Oudh. The loan was accepted (No. XLIV.), but, as in the Agreement of 1829 with Nusseer-ood-deen Hyder, no guarantee was given, the pensioners being promised only the special favor and kindness of the British Government.

In 1839 Mahomed Ali Shah subscribed 12 lakhs of Rupees to the 4 per cent. loan, the interest of which he allotted, by a Deed of Trust (No. XLV.), for the expenses of the Hosseinabad Imambara. To this the King added other sums, aggregating Rupees 24,17,500, and after his death a sum of Rupees 2,33,000 was also invested by the Trustees out of the unexpended surplus of the interest.

In 1840, the King allotted, by another Deed of Trust (No. XLVI.), a sum of Rupees 3,40,800, of which Rupees 2,87,000 were to bear interest at 5 per cent., and Rupees 53,800 at 4 per cent., for the endowment of a hospital at Lucknow.

Various other sums have been, at different times, invested by the Kings of Oudh in Government Funds, but these investments are guaranteed by no special engagements, and in no way differ from ordinary contributions to Government Loans, except that in some cases the Promissory Notes were deposited in the Government Treasury at Lucknow, and the interest was paid monthly instead of quarterly. Thus, in February 1842, a sum of Rupees 14,00,000 was contributed, on twelve lakhs of which the interest was made payable monthly. In July 1842 twenty lakhs were subscribed, on eight lakhs of which the interest was made payable monthly : and in September 1842 twelve lakhs more were subscribed on the same terms.

In May 1842, Mahomed Ali Shah died, and was succeeded by his son Amjud Ali Shah, who was succeeded on 13th February 1847 by Wajid Ali Shah.

The condition of the internal administration of Oudh had attracted attention from the earliest times of the connection of the British Government with that State, and it was one of the provisions of the Treaty of 1801 that the Nabob should introduce, under the advice of the British Government, such a system of administration as should be conducive to the prosperity of his subjects, and be calculated to secure the lives and property of the inhabitants. Notwithstanding the repeated warning and advice of successive Residents, the administration was not improved, and in 1831 Lord William Bentinck found it necessary to warn the King that, in the event of improvement and reformation not being effected by His Majesty's Officers, the settlement of the country would need to be made by British Officers. This warning was neglected ; the misgovernment of the country continued ; and, in November 1847, a few months after the accession of Wajid Ali Shah, Lord Hardinge proceeded to Lucknow and again warned the King that, if within two years, the administration should not be reformed, the British Government would be forced to interfere by assuming the Government of Oudh. No improvement did take place within the two years of probation, but a natural reluctance to proceed to extreme measures prevented Government from at once acting up to the threat held out by Lord Hardinge, and the outbreak of the second war in Burmah diverted attention for a time from Oudh.

In 1854 the state of Oudh showed none of that amendment which Government had declared to be indispensable, and the Resident was required to report whether the duty imposed on the British Government by the Treaty of 1801 would any longer admit of Government honestly indulging the reluctance it had felt to have recourse to extreme measures. The Resident's enquiries showed the state of Oudh to be most deplorable, and that the improvement, which Lord Hardinge peremptorily demanded seven years before, had not in any degree been effected. The British Government therefore finally resolved to assume the administration of Oudh in one form or another. A Treaty* was proposed to the King, which provided that the sole

Whereas in the year 1801 a Treaty was concluded between the Honourable East India Company and His Excellency the Nabob Vizier Saadut Ali Khan Bahadur, and whereas the 6th Article of the said Treaty requires that the Ruler of Oudh, always advising with and acting in conformity to the counsel of the officers of the Honourable Company, shall "establish in his reserved dominions such a system of administration, to be carried into effect by his own officers, as shall be conducive to the prosperity of his subjects, and be calculated to secure the lives and property of the inhabitants," and, whereas the infraction of this essential engagement of the Treaty by successive Rulers of Oudh has been continued and notorious, and whereas its long toleration of such infraction of the Treaty on the part of the Rulers of Oudh has exposed the British Government to the reproach of having failed to fulfil the obligations it assumed towards the people of that country, and whereas it has now become the imperative duty of the British Government to take effectual measures for securing permanently to the people of Oudh such a system of just and beneficent administration as the Treaty of 1801 was intended, but has failed, to provide; the following Treaty, consisting of seven Articles, is concluded, on the one part by the Most Noble, the Marquis of Dalhousie, K. It is stipulated and agreed that His Majesty the King and his successors shall be treated upon all occasions with the attention, respect, and honor which are due to a Sovereign Prince

It is further stipulated and agreed that, notwithstanding the provisions of the first Article of the present Treaty, His Majesty the King of Oudh and his successors shall retain full and exclusive jurisdiction within the precincts of the Palace at Lucknow, as well as within the Dil Khosha and Beebeepore Parks, provided always that the punishment of death shall not be inflicted by the order of the King, or within the limits of the palace and garden parks aforesaid, unless with the previous consent of the Governor-General in Council.

All former Treaties between the Honorable East India Company and the rulers of Oudh which are now in force, and which are not contrary to the tenor of this Engagement, are confirmed by it.

This Treaty, consisting of seven Articles, has been settled and concluded by Major-General James Outram, C. The King was allowed three days to consider and sign the Treaty. He refused to sign it, and therefore, in February 1856, the British Government assumed to itself the Government of Oudh exclusively and for ever. A provision of twelve lakhs a year was offered to the King, which he accepted in October 1859. Separate provision has been sanctioned for his collateral relatives. Wajid Ali Shah has been allowed to retain the title of King of Oudh, but on his death the title will cease absolutely, and the pecuniary allowance will not be continued on its present scale. Government has purchased a residence for the King in the suburbs of Calcutta; the King has been allowed no jurisdiction within his estate, but provision has been made for serving legal process within its precincts through the Officer who is appointed as Agent with His Majesty on the part of the British Government. In March 1862 an Act was passed to exempt the King from the jurisdiction of Criminal Courts, except for capital offences; to provide for his trial, if necessary, by commission; to exempt him from appearance as a witness in any Court; and to provide for his examination through the Agent to the Governor-General.

us, I, Warren Hastings, Governor-General, Imad-ul-Dowlah, Jelladit Jung Behauder, &c., &c., on behalf of the Governor-General and Council, have agreed to the undermentioned Articles, this 19th day of September, in the year of our Lord 1781, corresponding to the last Ramzan, 1195 of the Hegira.

ARTICLE 1.

That the temporary brigade and three regiments of cavalry be no longer charged to the Nabob's account for the year Fussellee 1189, excepting a term for two and a half months, which is required for their passing the Nabob's boundaries; and for which, together with all for per allowances and arrears, their usual pay and allowances are to be made good. Also the English Officers, with their Sebundy battalions, and other gentlemen, excepting the Resident's office, now upon the Nabob's list, be no longer at his charge for the year 1189, the arrears being paid up, with the addition of two months' allowances: the true meaning of this being, that no more troops be paid for by the Nabob than the number of European artillery and sepoys agreed for, under the title of one brigade, with the late Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowla, now paid for at the rate of 2,60,000 Rupees per month: to which is now to be added one regiment of sepoys of the present establishment, expressly allowed for the purpose of protecting the office, treasury, and person of the Resident at Lucknow, the pay and allowances of which are to commence from the 1st of August next, at the rate of Rupees 25,000 per month. The regiment to be relieved every three months. The brigade to be stationed or moved wherever the Nabob shall direct, in the mode prescribed in the former Treaty with the Nabob Vizier deceased. And, finally, that whenever the Nabob Vizier shall require a further aid of troops from the Company, the pay and allowances shall commence from the day of their passing the Caramnassa; also, should the assistance of the Nabob's troops be required by the Company, their pay and allowances, as may then be agreed upon, be allowed during the time they may serve.

That as great distress has arisen to the Nabob's Government from the military power and dominion of the jaghiredars, he be permitted to resume such as he may find necessary ; with a reserve that all such, for the amount of whose jaghire the Company are guarantees, shall, in case of the resumption of their lands, be paid the amount of their net collections, through the Resident, in ready money.

OUDEL
No XXVII

ARTICLE 3.

That as Fyzoola Khan has, by his breach of Treaty, forfeited the protection of the English Government, and causes, by his continuance in his present independent state, great alarm and detriment to the Nabob, he be permitted, when time shall suit, to resume his lands, and pay him in money, through the Resident, the amount stipulated by the Treaty, after deducting the amount and charges of the troops he stands engaged to furnish by Treaty, which amount shall be passed to the account of the Company during the continuance of the present war

ARTICLE 4.

That no English Resident be appointed to Furruckabad, and the present one recalled.

ARTICLE 5.

That the Treaties made between the English and the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowla be ratified between the present parties, as far as may be consistent with the above written Articles ; and that no officers, troops or others, be put upon the Nabob's establishment, exclusive of those herein stipulated.

attend to such proposals as I shall have to make to him : and to these I expect his assent the more readily, as they have for their ultimate object his interest alone, that of the Company being no further concerned, than in the influence which they will eventually have in the payment of the debt due from the Nabob to the Company

I, therefore, recommend to him to reduce the great number of his Sebund and other troops to regular and complete establishments ; not to be paid by assignments of revenue, but in money from the treasury, and their number not to exceed the certain means of paying them. But as this may be difficult, without making a separation of the Nabob's public and private funds, I further recommend that he receive into his private purse no more than a fixed monthly sum, for the expenses of his person and household ; and that the remainder of the net collections be left in a public treasury, under the management of his public ministers and the inspection of the Resident, for the discharge of his military and civil disbursements.

This advice is not meant to affect the assignments annually, and which must be annually renewed, for the payment of the past debt and the current demands of the Company.

Signed and sealed by the Nabob, accepting and promising to conform to the above advice.

TREATY with ASOPH-UL-DOWLA, Nabob of Oude, 1787

From Earl Cornwallis to the Vizier, written 15th April 1787. From the Nabob Vizier to Earl Cornwallis, received 21st July 1787.

The Treaty concluded between the English Company and the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowla, was founded on considerations of mutual advantage to both parties, and the same principle has continued to operate in confirming and improving the friendship and alliance between the Company and your Excellency. A connexion formed with a view to the interests of both Governments ought to be perpetual for this reason, since my appointment to the control over affairs here, my intentions have been directed towards measures tending to support and strengthen this friendly system

As I consider the Company's Territories and those of your Excellency as the same, the protection of your Excellency's dominions is absolutely necessary, as being from its situation the boundary of the whole, and exposed to Foreign attacks. This protection cannot be effected in a proper manner without the assistance of the Company's troops, and I therefore beg leave to represent to your Excellency

Your Lordship's friendly letter, every word of which breathes strength of friendship, and every syllable contains a performance of the duties of intimacy and close connexion, arrived in a happy hour, and afforded me infinite satisfaction. Its contents are, that it is the intention of the Company, and also your Lordship's firm resolution, that there should be no interference in the detail of my Government. That the Resident at Lucknow should receive a positive order, that neither from himself, nor from any other gentlemen, nor from any person concerned with your Lordship's government, should any kind of interference take place. That leaving my administration entirely to myself and my ministers, all interference from others should be stopped; and representing the particulars of every matter which was contained in your Lordship's heart.

The Nabob Hyder Beg Khan has fully explained to me the particulars of your Lordship's such circumstances as have, after mature reflection, occurred to me With respect to the troops stationed at Futty Ghur, which had been withdrawn, as stipulated in the Treaty of Chunar of 1781, I advise that they shall not be recalled, but continued. I make this proposal upon a conviction that, from the extent of your Excellency's dominions, the English forces now stationed there are requisite for their defence. Although there is no prospect of any attack on your Excellency's territory at present, its security must ultimately depend upon the strength of the force stationed for its protection, and while this is sufficient no one will dare to entertain views of hostility against your Excellency. Although the bravery and discipline of the English troops, on all occasions, are well known, and have been proved, even when their enemies have been in the proportion of twenty to one, and by the blessing of God they will always triumph over their enemies, yet since at all times chance of war is doubtful, prudence and wisdom require that every possible means should be used to determine it in our favour. Your Excellency must be sensible that there is no comparison between the troops of the Company and those kindness and magnanimity which form the ground of your Lordship's settlement of my affairs, and has occasioned me an excess of pleasure and happiness. I, who have, day and night, received such happiness from a recollection of your Lordship's goodness, now enjoy such pleasure from perceiving your kindness, and am so thankful for it that it would require volumes to express a small share only. It is well known that from the lifetime of the deceased Nabob, until the day of his death, and the commencement of my administration, the friendship with the English gentlemen has been perfect, strong and sincere, and, by the help of Providence, will every day increase.

OUDH

At this time that so great a Chief, possessed of Divine wisdom and understanding, is arrived with full power and authority for the arrangement of this country, it may be very well conceived, that I understand such an arrival to have happened simply from my own good fortune, and entertain the most perfect confidence that all my affairs will be settled to my own satisfaction. With respect to the continuance of the troops in your Excellency's service, and that without the assistance of the former, your dominions and authority would be insecure. I am convinced that if your Excellency considers these opinions, you will be sensible of the propriety of my proposition, and approve the continuance of troops, whose valour and discipline can be relied on, in preference to those who are unskilful and undisciplined, and I doubt not but your Excellency will agree to the additional expence of effective troops, where the object is the defence of the country: for this reason I do not hesitate to recommend to your Excellency to discharge so much of your own army as will allow for the additional expence attending the continuance of these effective troops. Your Excellency must also be sensible that the sums necessary for the pay of these troops are expended in your dominions.

The sole object of this proposition is to provide, in an effective manner, for the defence of your Excellency's country; and your Excellency must be convinced of the benefits derived from our protection, since, whilst all other parts of Hindostan have been involved in war and exposed to the devastations attending it, stationed at Futtý Ghur, which your Lordship has written with such greatness and magnanimity, that they may remain, as heretofore, I have perfectly understood; notwithstanding from the great weight of expence which my Government has experienced every year from these troops, and the negotiations which have passed with former gentlemen on this subject in particular, and the manner in which this matter was settled, after so much alteration, which doubtless your Lordship is acquainted with, I have every hope, in every situation, for advantage and prosperity from your Lordship, and conceive it necessary to represent the particulars of them to you, but having heard of your Lordship's intention to come to this quarter, which is the greatest desire of my heart, and from which I receive the greatest pleasure, I have postponed any mention of these matters until that happy time, and now consider it necessary, first, to procure your Lordship's good will; afterwards, that you will mention, from your great goodness and grandeur, which is universally known and gives satisfaction and ease to my heart, that your Excellency's dominions have remained in the fullest enjoyment of peace and security. Many other arguments of the greatest weight might be urged in support of my proposition, but such is my opinion of the force of those I have alleged, that I trust that they will make the same impression on your Excellency, and that there is no necessity to urge others.

It is my firm intention not to embarrass your Excellency with further expence than that incurred by the Company, from their connexion with your Excellency, and for the protection of your country, which, by the accounts, I find amounts to fifty lakhs of Fyzabad sixteen sun Sicca Rupees annually. In this sum are included the allowance to the Nabob Saadet Alli Khan, the stipend of the Rohillas, and the expences of the Residency on the part of this Government; in short, it is my intention, from the date on which this new Agreement shall take place, your Excellency shall not be charged with any excess on this sum of fifty lakhs of Sicca Rupees, and that no further demand shall be made.

If your Excellency, hereafter, shall find it necessary to demand any more forces from the Company, your Excellency will pay the excess which will tend to my prosperity and happiness, and meet with your approbation; therefore, with a view to preserve your Lordship's good will and satisfaction, I agree to the continuance of the troops now stationed at Futty Ghur and Cawnpore, and to their expences, with the stipend of my brother Meer Saadet Alli Khan Behauder, the tuncaws of the Rohillas, the disbursements of the Residency at Lucknow, and other gentlemen, and the Resident with His Majesty at Scindea, the expences of the dawlk, &c., which your Lordship has fixed fifty lakhs annually for me to pay. Your Lordship has also said that my expences should not exceed the sum of fifty lakhs of Rupees, and that nothing further should be demanded of me; and that whenever either of the two brigades or corps of cavalry should be recalled, or any material diminution should take place in those troops, a deduction shall be made, agreeable to estimate, from the sum of fifty lakhs. I agree to this, and send the kistbundy; and I am well convinced also, that your Lordship will be kind and favourable towards me, in whatever will tend to my ease and prosperity.

upon a fair estimate, and if either of the two brigades or corps of cavalry shall be recalled, or any considerable diminution in their force shall take place, I will allow for the decrease of the expence from the sum agreed to by your Excellency, agreeable to a fair calculation. In order that no grounds for a difference in opinion or doubt may remain, as to the real meaning of this Article, I think it necessary to inform your Excellency, that whenever there is a necessity for any alteration in the arrangement of these troops, either by increasing or diminishing the cavalry or infantry, this Article does not tend to preclude it, provided the whole force shall not be considerably decreased, and that no additional charge be made on your Excellency on account of such alteration.

A Resident, as at present, will remain at your Excellency's Court; but as it is the intention of the Company, and my firm resolution, that no interference shall take place in the details of the affairs of your Excellency's Government, strict orders shall be sent to him that he shall neither interfere himself, nor suffer interference by public or private claims of exemptions of duties, or in any other mode, from any British subject or person, under

I have not answered every particular of your Lordship's kind letter, because I have heard that your Lordship positively means to come to this quarter, and when we meet, every matter will be answered in a most friendly manner. Now, considering acquiescence to your Lordship's orders and preservation of your pleasure as the principle of friendship, I have complied.

Your Lordship writes with respect to Furruckabad, that it shall be and continue as before under me, and that the English Resident there, either now or at the end of the year 1194 Fuseslee, shall be recalled, and after that period he shall not remain, nor any other be appointed; and you order me to be kind and just towards the rights of the Nabob Mozuffer Jung, and that, in whatever manner it may be necessary to settle and arrange the affairs of that district, I should give a suitable allowance to the Nabob Mozuffer Jung: and as the Nabob's mother and his brother, Dil Dilere Khan, and Roy Deeb Chund, late Dewan, have shown their zeal to your Government and to the Company, it is necessary to fix some allowance for them.

the authority of this Government. In short, leaving the whole management of your country to your Excellency and your Ministers, I will put a stop to the interference of others, and in order to carry this effectually into execution, I propose to your Excellency not to suffer any European to reside in your dominions, without my written permission. In case that should be granted, a copy of it shall be transmitted to you.

If any European shall reside there without my permission in writing, your Excellency shall oblige him to quit the country; or, if demanded, send him to the Resident on the part of the Company.

A retrospect into past transactions and the friendship so well known to exist between your Excellency and the Company, induce me to state the following circumstance; that, for several years past, the inhabitants of your Excellency's dominions, from motives of self-interest, have appealed to this Government, and this has been a source of injury to the affairs of your Government. I am determined to put a stop to this practice and to disregard their applications, but as the connexion between the two Governments is universally known, strict attention independent of the Nabob Mozuffer Jung that it is well known the enmity which the Nabob bears towards them, and that in consequence of the confidence of your Government placed on Dil Dilere Khan, it is much to be feared, that unless he is protected, he will experience distress from the enmity of the Nabob Mozuffer Jung; that I therefore cause to be paid to them a proper allowance out of the amount paid to Nabob Mozuffer Jung, through the Resident at Lucknow. In this manner I will act as your Lordship has ordered, and will cause to be paid to the mother of Mozuffer Jung, and his brother, Dil Dilere Khan, and Roy Deeb Chund, allowances through the Resident at Lucknow, and will assist and protect Dil Dilere Khan, the mother, and Roy Deeb Chund. Until the honour of an interview, I hope to be honoured and made happy with friendly letters from your Lordship.

With respect to Furruckabad, the fourth Article of the stipulation of Chunar shall be observed on my part, and the English Resident there, either now or at the end of 1194 Fussellee, shall be recalled, and after that period he shall not remain, nor shall any other be appointed. On this subject, in consequence of the interference hitherto assumed by this Government in the affairs of that province, I think it necessary to inform your Excellency, that it is incumbent on me to recommend several matters to your Excellency's attention. That, in the first instance, you pay due regard to the rights of the Nabob Mozuffer Jung; and under any circumstances that may become necessary for the management of the affairs of Furruckabad, your Excellency shall engage to allot from the revenues a sum sufficient for the honourable maintenance of the Nabob Mozuffer Jung. And as the mother of Mozuffer Jung, and his brother, Dil Dilere Khan, as well as Deeb Chund, late Dewan, have given proofs of their attachment to this Government, it is therefore expedient that some provision should be made for them, independent of Mozuffer Jung.

It is well known that Mozuffer Jung considers them as inimical to him; and from the trust vested in Dil Dilere Khan by this Government, it is much to be feared, that if left unprotected, he will suffer from the resentment of Mozuffer Jung. I therefore expect that your Excellency will engage to cause specific pensions to be paid to those persons, at the expence of Mozuffer Jung, through the Resident of this Government.

By the accounts subsisting between your Excellency and the Company, a large balance is stated to be due from your Excellency; nevertheless, in conformity to the principles I have so expressly declared, I am not willing to embarrass your Excellency with any other demands than what are absolutely necessary: I propose, therefore, that your Excellency shall liquidate such part of the stated arrears as may be due to the troops employed in your country, the Residency, the Nabob Saadet Alli Khan, and the Rohilla Chiefs, on the date from which this new Agreement shall be declared in force, as well as the arrears due to Mr. Anderson, and the remainder, whatever it may be, shall be struck out of the account, and be no longer considered as a

From Hyder Beg Khan, received 21st July 1787.

I have already transmitted to your Lordship an arzie, mentioning my arrival at Lucknow, which has doubtless been perused. An answer from His Excellency the Vizier is now sent to your Lordship's kind letter. From it your Lordship will learn the particulars of His Excellency's inclination to preserve your Lordship's pleasure. Your Lordship has shown kindness and favour in the affairs of His Excellency, and there is no doubt but will always show kindness towards them, because His Excellency entertains great hopes from your Lordship.

A kistbundy for the money for the expence of the troops, &c., goes enclosed in His Excellency's letter, and I enclose a draft for the amount stated by Mr. Wombwell to be due to the troops, up to February 1787, together with two other drafts on account of the amount, due to His Royal Highness, and the stipend of Nabob Saadet Alli Khan, to February 1787. They will be seen by your Lordship.

demand of this Government on your Excellency.

The substance of what is here written has been discussed in frequent conversations with Hyder Beg Khan, who has shown himself a faithful servant to your Excellency, and a friend to both Governments. As he is fully acquainted with your Excellency's interests, and is your most confidential servant and prime minister, I have considered him as empowered to settle any arrangement for the mutual benefit of the two Governments, and have accordingly communicated to him, without reserve, all that has occurred to me to promote this object in the same manner as if your Excellency were present; nevertheless, as your Excellency's concurrence and approbation are necessary to give a final sanction to the Articles agreed upon by Hyder Beg Khan, I have thought proper to mention the heads of them in this letter, and the Nabob Hyder Beg Khan will fully explain all the particulars to your Excellency.

For the rest, your Excellency may have the most assured confidence, that I will most faithfully abide by all the Engagements on the part of the Honourable Company.

As a long period had elapsed during my journey, disorder has taken place in several modes in the affairs, and delay and procrastination have crept into the payment of the public money, and now that I am arrived, is the season for cultivation, &c. I am engaged in the affairs of the Circar, and under the blessing of God, and your Lordship's prosperity, every matter will be arranged, and the arrears due to Colonel Harper and other gentlemen, whatever, after investigation, they may amount to, to the end of February 1788, shall be paid at the expiration of the time.

The amount of the instalments or kistbundy of the Company's money, on account of the disbursement of the troops, &c., has been paid into the treasury, from March 1787 to June 1787, and by God's help it will be paid in future, agreeable to the kistbundy, monthly. I hope to be honoured with letters from your Lordship.

The stipends to the Begums and Princes at Benares, amounting to two lakhs four thousand Rupees per annum, and the Furruckabad pensions, amounting to twenty-three thousand six hundred and thirty-eight Rupees, are included in the above sum of seventy-six lakhs of Oude Sicca Rupees.

ARTICLE 7

The Governor-General, Sir John Shore, Baronet, on the part of the East India Company, agrees that the English forces maintained in the Country of Oude for its defence, shall never consist of less than ten thousand men, including Europeans and Natives, cavalry, infantry, and artillery. And if at any time it should become necessary to augment the troops of the Company in Oude, beyond the number of thirteen thousand men, including Europeans and Natives, infantry, cavalry, and artillery, the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan agrees to pay the actual difference occasioned by the excess above that number; and, in the same manner, if the troops of the Company in Oude, from any necessity, should be less than eight thousand men, including infantry, cavalry, artillery, Natives and Europeans, a deduction shall be made from the annual stipend of seventy-six lakhs of Rupees, equal to the actual difference of men below the specified number. OUDH

ARTICLE 8.

As the English Company are not possessed of any Fortress in the dominions of Oude, the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan, having the fullest reliance on the friendship of the English Company, agrees to make over to their exclusive possession the Fort of Allahabad, with all its buildings and appurtenances, and the ghauts immediately dependent upon the Fort, together with as much land surrounding the Fort as may be necessary for the purpose of an esplanade. the Company agreeing to be answerable to the Nabob for the amount of the revenues collected from the said ghauts. The said Nabob also agrees to advance to the Company such a sum as may be necessary for strengthening and improving the fortifications of this Fort, provided that it does not exceed the sum of eight lakhs of Oude Sicca Rupees, and that the said amount, or actual amount of the expenditure, not exceeding eight lakhs of Rupees, shall be paid to the Company within two years from the date of this Treaty, in such proportions as may be required for defraying the expence to which it is applicable. And the said Nabob Saadet Ali Khan Behauder, for the same reasons, further agrees to advance to the English Company, for the purpose of repairing the Fort of Futty Ghur, within six months from the date of this Engagement, a sum not exceeding, on the whole, three lakhs of Oude Sicca Rupees.

ARTICLE 9.

If, for the better protection and defence of the dominions of the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan, it should be deemed advisable to change the present stations of the troops at Cawnpore and Futty Ghur, the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan consents thereto, and that the troops shall be stationed in such places as may be judged most advisable and convenient, and that he will defray the expence attending their removal, and making cantonments for the troops.

ARTICLE 10

As the English Company have incurred a considerable expence by their exertions in establishing the right of the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan, the said Nabob agrees, in consideration thereof, to pay the Company the sum of twelve lakhs of Oude Sicca Rupees.

ARTICLE 11.

As the payment of the Company's troops in Oude depends upon the regular discharge of the subsidy, stated in the second and third Articles of the Treaty, the said Nabob engages to exert his utmost endeavors to discharge the stipulated kist with punctuality; but if, contrary to the sincere intentions and exertions of the said Nabob, the payment of the kist shall fall into arrears, the said Nabob Saadet Ali Khan engages and promises, that he will then give such security to the Company for the discharge of the existing arrears, and the future regular payment of the kists, as shall be deemed satisfactory.

ARTICLE 12.

Whereas, by the Engagements now entered into between the Nabob Vizier and the Company, the amount of the subsidy is considerably increased, and many other permanent charges upon His Excellency are incurred; on a comparison of his disbursements with the assets of his country, it becomes necessary to make such reduction in the superfluous charges of the public establishments, servants, &c, as may be requisite, and are consistent with His Excellency's dignity and convenience. To that end, the said Nabob agrees to consult with the Company's Government, and, in concert with them, devise the proper objects of such reductions and the best means of effecting them.

ARTICLE 13.

As the political interests of the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan and the English Company are the same, it is expedient that all correspondence between the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan and any foreign power or State, shall be carried on with the knowledge and concurrence of the Company; and the Nabob Saadet Ali Khan agrees and promises, that no

The Nabob Saadet Ali Khan engages and promises that he will not entertain any Europeans of any description in his service, nor allow any to settle in his country without the consent of the Company.

The Nabob Saadet Ali Khan agrees, that a suitable maintenance shall be provided for the reputed children of his brother, the late Nabob Ausuf-ul-Dowla, and willingly promises to take them under his protection.

MEMORANDUM of the final result of the discussions between His Excellency the MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL and the NABOB VIZIER

On the 15th of February 1802, His Excellency the Nabob Vizier transmitted to the Governor-General a paper of propositions, to which His Excellency required the Governor-General's assent: and the Governor-General, after full deliberation on the contents of the said paper, returned a distinct answer to each of the Articles therein detailed. His Excellency the Vizier, in a paper delivered on the 22nd of the same month, proposed certain modifications of the Governor-General's answers and the original propositions, together with the Governor-General's answers and the Vizier's proposed modifications thereof, were fully discussed at a conference holden between the Governor-General and His Excellency the Vizier, on the 24th of the same month. In consequence of this conference, it was mutually agreed that certain of the Articles of the original paper of propositions should be altogether omitted, and that the Governor-General's reply to the third Article should be modified in conformity to the suggestion of His Excellency the Vizier. At the same conference His Excellency the Vizier, adverting to the Governor-General's suggestion, in his reply to the second Article, that the Vizier should appoint some person to conduct, in the quality of Minister, the ordinary details of public affairs, proposed to constitute and appoint his second son, Mirza Ahmed Ali Khan, to act in that capacity. The Governor-General, at the same conference, deemed it to be expedient to declare to His Excellency the Vizier the general principles which, in His Lordship's judgment, should regulate the connection and intercourse between the two States, as resulting from the Treaty concluded between the Honorable Company and His Excellency the Vizier, on the 10th November 1801. With a view to obviate all future doubts on the subject and result of these communications and conferences, the Governor-General now commits to writing the final determination of the several points discussed between His Lordship and the Vizier, and affixes his seal and signature to this paper, and directs the Secretary in the Political Department, who was present at the Further, as, with a view to ascertain the comparative depth and breadth of the opposite channels of a river in which an island may be formed, the specification of a period is indispensable, the contracting parties do hereby stipulate and agree that the commencement of the season of the Rubee be the specific period assigned in all cases of dispute for ascertaining the depth and breadth of the channels.

ARTICLE 5.

If at any time, as in the case of rivers or streams forming the common boundary which wind greatly in their course, an arm or portion of land shall be separated from the territory of either State by the total alteration of the course of a river or stream, the land so separated shall belong exclusively to the State to whose territory it may, by such alteration, have been annexed, notwithstanding any territorial loss which may be sustained by the opposite party.

ARTICLE 6.

What has been agreed to in the foregoing Articles, relates merely to the prevention of disputes between the two States with respect to the lands alluded to in those Articles, and has no reference whatever to the rights of zemindars.

ARTICLE 7.

This Treaty, comprising seven Articles, having been settled and concluded in the City of Lucknow, on the 14th of January, in the year of our Lord 1812, corresponding with the 28th of the month of Zilhujji, of the year 1226 Hegira, Major John Baillie, Resident, has delivered to the Vizier one copy of the same in English and Persian, sealed and signed by him, and His Excellency the Vizier has delivered to Major Baillie another copy, also in Persian and English, bearing His Excellency's seal and signature, and Major Baillie hereby engages

This is an obligation in the manner of a Deed of Deposit by Her Highness the Bow Begum, daughter of Mootumen-ood-Dowla Ishak Khan, deceased, wife of Nawab Shooja-ood-Dowla, deceased, and mother of the late Nawab Asuf-ood-Dowla, in favor of the Honorable Company's Government, whose guarantee for the security and protection of Her Highness, her friends and dependents, has long been established to the effect under-written, viz. :—

My jaghire, houses, property and goods of every description shall remain in my possession while I live, and I alone shall have the power of using them for the support and provision of those who are dear to me, my nephews and other relations, dependents, eunuchs, and female slaves, &c, as I think proper. But being mindful of the uncertainty of this transitory life, and with a view to future events, while yet in health of body and of sound intellect and judgment, I hereby give and surrender in trust and deposit, to the Members of the Honorable Company's Government, the whole of the property and goods in ready money, household furniture, plate and jewels, &c., now in my possession, amounting to the sum of seventy lakhs of Rupees, as particularly stated and described in a separate schedule under my seal, and whatever I may hereafter acquire and possess from this date till the day of my death, conferring and bestowing on the said Government the fullest power and authority over all my said property and possessions, for the purpose and with the intent that they, the members of the said Government, in consideration of their ancient friendship for me, and as they have done hitherto during my life, shall continue after my death to be the guardians and protectors of all those who are dear to me, my nephews, connections, eunuchs and other dependents, and do secure and preserve to those persons individually, name by name, and to their heirs and successors for ever, the jaghires and monthly allowances in money from the income of my personal wealth, which I have assigned to each of them respectively in a separate statement under my seal; that so they may be rendered independent of every other person for subsistence.

The British Government will further protect my said relations and dependents against all tyranny and oppression, and will support them in the unmolested possession of all such houses, gardens, bazars and shops, profits and perquisites of every description, as they may have occupied and enjoyed during my life, taking care that no person shall disturb either them or their heirs or successors in the occupation and enjoyment of those possessions; and as my faithful servant Darab Ale Khan Nazer, and all other public officers, eunuchs, and dependents of my government have hitherto satisfied me, and will continue to do so during my life, as to the accuracy of their conduct and accounts, no demands should hereafter be made against them, nor should they be required to give any account, save for the immediate surrender and delivery to the Honorable Company's Government, agreeably to my orders, of the property in money and goods above stated to be now in my possession, and the further amount to be accumulated from this date until the day of my death, of which a faithful account shall be rendered.

In addition to the several provisions to individuals which are stated in the accompanying list, the sum of three lakhs of Sicca Rupees is to be given to my servant Darab Ale Khan for the purpose of erecting a mausoleum over the place of my interment, and one lakh of Sicca Rupees to be appropriated as a donation to the shrines of Karbula, Nujufé Ashruff, and other holy places, at the discretion of my said minister, who is a faithful and religious person, and will apply the money to the purposes specified. To defray the annual expenses of the said mausoleum, villages in the Pergunnah of Fuchumrath, having a clear jumma of Sicca Rupees ten thousand, shall be allotted; and the surplus revenue of the villages to be given to the poor and religious inhabiting the said mausoleum, that they may enjoy peace and tranquillity of mind.

The stipends of those that are dear to me, my nephews, eunuchs, booboes, female slaves, and other dependents, to be regularly paid from the revenue of my jaghire, or from the income of my personal wealth, to Darab Alee Khan, who will distribute the money among them, and whose recommendations and suggestions shall be received and attended to on their behalf, and after establishing and securing the whole of the above-mentioned salaries and pensions, and paying the foregoing sums, the balance of my property in ready money and valuables shall be at the entire and uncontrolled disposal of the Honorable Company's Government, to do whatever they please with it, and to give it to whomsoever they please.

But as some of my relations and connections, who are mentioned in the accompanying list, have jaghires and established allowances in money from another government, which are liable to resumption or diminution on the death of the present possessors, contrary to the practice of my Sircar, it is incumbent on the Honorable Company's Government, with a view to its own reputation and for the credit of my name, after securing the several provisions detailed in the accompanying list, to reserve in its own hands such a portion of the residue of my property as will ensure a suitable provision in perpetuity to the descendants of those of my relations, whose allowances may be resumed at their death, that no person related to me may be left in an indigent condition.

To

HER HIGHNESS THE BHOW BEGUM.

Written 29th October 1813.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Highness's letter to the address of the late Governor-General, the Earl of Minto, referring to the result of your communications with Major Baillie, who had proceeded to Fyzabad to receive Your Highness's commands, and Major Baillie has reported to me the substance of what passed at the several conferences with which you honored him during his residence at Fyzabad

2. The arrangement which Your Highness has adopted in order to secure the due fulfilment of your wishes in favor of your relations and dependents, is worthy of your acknowledged discernment and prudence, and will tend to enlarge and perpetuate the fame of your wisdom and piety; and it will, I trust, be the means of securing to the full extent your benevolent intentions. I will not conceal from Your Highness, however, that I should have felt more confidence on that subject if Your Highness had seen fit to place in the immediate charge of the British Government such a portion of your wealth as would be equal to the demand on that account, as suggested to you by Major Baillie. Your Highness may, however, rely on the just and punctual discharge, by the British Government, of the trust which you have confided to it, and may be assured that it will in all its measures consult the honor and reputation of Your Highness, and the comfort and security of those who have been so fortunate as to become the objects of your regard and affection.

For Your Highness's further satisfaction I have executed an instrument, which will be transmitted to Your Highness by the Resident at Lucknow, containing the unqualified confirmation and guarantee by the British Government, of the disposition of Your Highness's personal property, prescribed in the documents under Your Highness's seal, and attested by Darab Alee Khan and Booboo Sook Butchun, which were delivered to Major Baillie.

3. Your Highness is aware that the consent of His Excellency the Vizier must be obtained to the grant of villages in ~~Pergana~~

Puchumrath, and although it cannot be doubted that His Excellency will most readily comply with Your Highness's wishes in an affair in which Your Highness's satisfaction and his own reputation are equally concerned, it must be obvious to Your Highness that the British Government can only engage to employ its utmost influence with His Excellency to obtain his consent to the desired arrangement. I have accordingly instructed Major Baillie to obtain, at a fit season, His Excellency's acquiescence, and I have no doubt that at an early period he will be enabled to make a communication to Your Highness on the subject, which will be entirely satisfactory to your mind.

4. I request Your Highness to accept the assurances of the unalterable respect and attachment of the British Government, and to repose implicit confidence in its zeal and anxiety for your interest and comfort.

DRAFT OF ENGAGEMENT TO HER HIGHNESS the BHOW BEGUM.

Her Highness the Bhow Begum having, by an instrument bearing her seal, and duly attested by witnesses, declared her intention to make over to the British Government the whole of her personal property, in order to enable that Government to provide for Her Highness's relations and dependents, to the extent and in the manner specified in a separate paper, also sealed with Her Highness's seal, and witnessed as above, and for other purposes expressed in those papers; and Her Highness having moreover delivered to the Resident at Lucknow a Schedule under her seal, specifying the estimated amount and value of her property in money and jewels, and the places in which it is deposited, the Governor-General hereby confirms and guarantees the disposition of Her Highness's personal property prescribed in the documents above referred to, and promises and engages that on obtaining possession of that property the whole of Her Highness's directions, in favor of her relations and dependents, and with regard to the other objects mentioned in those papers, shall, as far as depends on the British Government, be carried into early and complete effect; and the Governor-General further engages to employ the utmost influence of the British Government to obtain from His Excellency the Vizier the grant in perpetuity of villages in the Pergunnah of Puchumrath, of the annual jumna of Rupees 10,000, in the name of Darab Ale Khan, according to Her Highness's desire. The Governor-General moreover promises to afford the countenance and protection of the British Government to Her Highness's relations and dependents, and to maintain them and their posterity in the possession of the provisions which Her Highness has devised to them.

No. 2.

To

HIS HIGHNESS THE NABOB REFAUT-ODD-DOWLAH.

Written the 19th July 1814.

A considerable time has elapsed since I received the orders of Government to submit to the notice of Your Highness's father, of blessed memory, the objects and result of my proceedings on the occasion of my visit to Fyzabad, at the request of Her Highness the Begum, in the months of July and August last. My delay to execute those orders was occasioned, in the first instance, by the necessary preparation of copies of a number of documents of a secret and important nature, the transcribing of which could only be entrusted to the most confidential of my native servants, and subsequently by the unhappy indisposition of Your Highness's father, which precluded the propriety of my bringing subjects of this nature before him. I had, in fact, prepared a letter on the subject to His Excellency the late Vizier, which forms the ground-work of this address to Your Highness, and was intended to have been delivered on the 12th instant, at a conference which was fixed for that day.

The documents which I now submit to Your Highness are so very explicit in their tenor, and so fully descriptive of the just and natural objects to which they refer, as to render comments on my part superfluous; and the explanations with which I am charged by the Government being calculated rather to meet eventual enquiries on the part of His Excellency the late Vizier, than to answer any immediate purpose of our Government in this communication, may, with safety propriety, be reserved for an occasion of personal conference hereafter, if the subject of the documents enclosed should appear to Your Highness to require it.

OUDE.
No XXXVII

Your Highness is probably aware of the original intention of Her Highness the Bhow Begum, announced in a manner the most solemn to the Most Noble the Governor-General Marquis Wellesley, through the medium of the late Colonel Scott, to transfer the whole of her property, real and personal, including the revenues of her jaghure, which Her Highness considered as the free and irrevocable gift of her husband, the late Nawab Soojah-ood-Dowlah, to the Honorable Company's Government, and to constitute that Government her sole heir and executor at her death.

The just right of Her Highness the Begum to confer, and of the Honorable Company's Government to accept, the character and privileges of Her Highness's heir and executor, with a reference to her personal property, could never be reasonably doubted; and Your Highness will duly appreciate the motives of extraordinary consideration which induced our Government to reject a proposal so honorable and advantageous to itself, on the part of Her Highness the Begum, and to recommend to her an arrangement which must combine the most essential benefit to your Highness, as well as a due regard for your rights, with the accomplishment of the Begum's most laudable and benevolent purposes in favor of her relations and dependents.

That all these objects have been attained by the result of my proceedings at Fyzabad, as explained in the accompanying documents, your Highness cannot fail to observe, and you will now experience without alloy the satisfaction which I promised to your august father, when I should be authorized to communicate for his information the arrangements which I concluded with the Begum, and which the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to ratify and confirm.

Your Highness's cheerful acquiescence in that part of the arrangement referred to, which provides for the honorable interment of Her Highness the Begum's remains, when it shall please God to remove her from this transitory state, cannot for a moment be doubted; and to this particular clause in the instrument under Her Highness's seal, and another intended to provide for, what I consider as an impossible case, the disposition of Your Highness's mind, to discontinue or resume, at their death, the allowances of the Begum's relations, enjoyed under Your Highness's government, I have been commanded by His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council to solicit your early attention, and to request a communication of your sentiments and intentions with regard to them at as early a period as may be practicable.

The peculiar nature of the documents which I have the honor of transmitting to Your Highness, and more particularly the wish of Her Highness the Begum respecting them, as explained in one of her letters to me, will, I doubt not, suggest to Your Highness the propriety of preventing the contents of any of those documents from becoming generally known for the present, and of Your Highness's observing the same degree of secrecy with regard to the provisions of Her Highness the Begum's Will, which I have invariably practised since that instrument was committed to my charge.

HIS HIGHNESS THE VIZIER.

Received the 4th of August 1814.

I have had the pleasure of receiving your letter of the 19th ultimo, with its enclosures, stating that "you had received the orders of His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor-General, to communicate the result of your proceedings at Fyzabad, &c., &c.," and I have perused the papers which you transmitted to me with the greatest care and attention.

Of a truth this Government had never, and can never have, such a firm friend and ally—so sincere and disinterested in its friendship, as the Honorable Company's Government, who, regardless of its own advantage, has rejected personal property to so very considerable an amount bequeathed by Her Highness the Bhow Begum, and determined to transfer the whole of that property to me, after providing for the payment of the legacies and annuities to the Begum's near relations and dependents, which Her Highness so properly bequeathed to them, and which the British Government has justly guaranteed. Words are inadequate to express the sense which I entertain of this conduct; and of course I most cheerfully acquiesce in the arrangements which His Lordship has proposed to me, regarding the assignment of lands in Puchumrath, for the expenses of the Begum's mausoleum, and the other purposes of her Will. Accordingly I hereby engage that, when it shall please Almighty God to remove my venerable grand-mother from this transitory scene, villages in the District of Puchumrath, yielding a revenue of ten thousand Rupees per annum, shall be set apart and granted in perpetuity for the charges of Her Highness's mausoleum, and further that all the stipends and provisions which Her Highness's relations enjoy and have hitherto received from this Government shall be continued to them and their heirs in perpetuity, without any deduction whatever.—Considering you as my sincere friend and well-wisher, I request you to report these engagements for His Lordship in Council's satisfaction, without any delay.

Received 28th November 1814.

In my letter of the 5th of Zee Hijjah (19th instant) I transmitted to you a statement of the pensions to be hereafter paid from your treasury, excluding those of Teyyuba Begum and her relations. On further consideration it seems proper that, according to your original suggestion, Teyyuba Begum should be included in the list, and it is OUDEH.

further my present desire that the allowance of Ramazan Alee Khan No. XXXVIII.
should be added, making in all, as per the sealed statement enclosed, which a provision shall be made. I therefore write, to desire that the purport of this letter and statement be submitted by you to my respected uncle, the Right Honorable the Governor-General Lord Mora, and in the case of His Lordship's approval that the monthly stipends of all the persons named in the statement be issued hereafter from the Honorable Company's Treasury, beginning with the first

SHEHAMUT JUNG and the BRITISH GOVERNMENT, for the transfer to His Excellency of the District of Khyreegur and of certain lands conquered by the British Government from the RAJAH OF NEPAUL, in commutation of His Excellency's second loan to the British Government, and for the exchange of the Pergunnah of Handia, belonging to His Excellency the Vizier, for that of Nabobgunge, belong-

ARTICLE 1.

The British Government hereby cedes to His Excellency the Vizier in full and perpetual sovereignty the District of Khyreegur, also the low lands between Khyreegur and the hills, and those between His Excellency's territory further to the eastward and the hills; that is, the whole of the late Goorka possessions below the hills, extending on the west from the River Gogra to the British District of Goruckpore on the east, and bounded on the south by His Excellency's possessions and the District of Khyreegur, and on the north by the hills. The Goorka orders of surrender of that tract will accordingly be made over to His Excellency in exchange the Pergunnah of Nabobgunge, which forms part of the District of Goruckpore, or a piece of territory, the revenue of which may be equivalent to that of the Pergunnah of Handia.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government engages that, after the establishment of His Excellency's authority in the District of Khyreegur and in the conquered lands above-mentioned, if any disturbances arise, from whatever cause, they will effectually suppress them, and if, notwithstanding the co-operation and support of the British Government, His Excellency should be deprived of those possessions, other lands yielding the same revenue shall be given to His Excellency.

This Treaty, consisting of four Articles, having been settled by His Excellency the Nabob Vizier for himself, and by Richard Strachey, Resident at the Court of Lucknow, on the part of the British Government, the Resident at Lucknow has delivered one copy thereof in Persian and English, signed and sealed by him, to His Excellency the Vizier, from whom he has received a counterpart, also duly executed by His Excellency. and riches, and with ample means whereby to provide for the provision, necessities and comforts of God's people, does an all-seeing Providence look for deeds of benevolence and charity; and, further seeing that the vanities of life are fading, and perish in the using and leave no trace behind, and it is not only becoming and proper, but gratifying to the best feelings of the mind to leave a memorial behind agreeably to the saying, that it is better for a "man to leave a name behind him than a Golden Palace:" His Majesty the King of Oude, Aboon Nuseer, Kootboodeen Solyman Jale Sultani Audil Nowshe wan Zaman, remembering the commands of the King of Kings to feed the hungry, to clothe the naked, and to comfort the afflicted, of the treasures which Providence has bestowed on him, may freely and with unfeigned pleasure determine to endow a charity which shall relieve the poor of his capital, the City of Lucknow, now and through future generations, and remain a remembrance of his name and of his reign in after ages

Second.—To this end, the King of Oude hereby places in the Residency treasury the sum of three lakhs (3,00,000) of Rupees, to be lodged in the four per cent. loan of the British Government, interest of which, being 12,000 Rupees per annum, is to be paid at the rate of one thousand (1,000) Rupees a month to the poor in perpetuity.

Third—It shall not be optional with the future Rulers of Oude, without any power whatever, to resume this money or to appropriate it to any other purpose; on the contrary, it is placed under the guarantee of the British Government, for the express end that it may forever remain to be distributed to the poor, in the name of His present Majesty, and its denomination shall be the charity of "Nuseer-o-Deen Hyder, King of Oude."

Fourth.—The King of Oude reposing great confidence upon the stability and good faith of the British Government, entirely entrusting the charity to the management and discretion of the Right Honourable Lord William Cavendish Bentinck, G.C.B., Governor-General, and all future Governors-General of British India, under whatsoever denomination they may rule, and requests that they may be pleased to authorise their Residents or representatives at this Court to distribute the interest to real objects of charity, such as the lame, the maimed, the blind, the helpless aged, the lepers, and those who are destitute

this will be an act acceptable to God and praised of men To the watchful care of Providence, therefore, and to the known honor and good faith of the British Government is this charity committed, in the hope that through the same kind Providence, in all future generations, so long as this world lasts, the money may be devoted solely and entirely to the support of God's poor.

Fifth.—The Right Honorable Lord William Cavendish Bentinck, G.C.B., &c., Governor-General of British India, hereby, on the part of the British Government, entirely approving of His Majesty's charitable intentions, guarantees that the interest of the sum of three lakhs (3,00,000) of Rupees, at four (4) per cent., amounting monthly to one thousand (1,000) Rupees, shall, from the 1st of May 1833, be paid in perpetuity to the poor of Lucknow, in accordance with the benevolent intentions set forth by the King of Oude in the foregoing Articles.

No. XLIII.

TREATY between the HONORABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY and HIS MAJESTY ABOOL FUTTEH MOHEN-OD-DEEN NOWSHERWAN-I-AUDIL SULTANI ZAMAN MAHUMMUD ALI SHAH, King of Oude.

Whereas by the subsisting alliance between the Honorable the East India Company and the Oude States, the British Government is bound to defend the Oude Territories against foreign and domestic enemies, the Sovereign of Oude engaging to retain in his service only a small specified number of troops; and whereas, while the British Government has faithfully and scrupulously performed the obligations so imposed on it, the engagement on the part of the Oude State has been habitually infringed, there being now in the employment of His Majesty the King of Oude a large and expensive military force; and whereas experience has shown that the execution of all the provisions of the Treaty of 1801 is attended with serious difficulty, and it is desirable and proper that a modified arrangement, consistent with the principles of that Treaty, and conducing to the prosperity and advantage of both States, should be introduced; and whereas the restrictions as to the amount of military force to be employed by His Majesty the King of Oude may, with propriety, be relaxed, on condition that an adequate portion of the increased force shall be placed under British discipline and control, so as at once to promote the general interests of the Indian Empire, and in particular the dignity and safety of the King, providing at a reduced cost for the efficiency of his national military establishment: and whereas Article 6th of the Treaty of 1801 requires that the Sovereign of Oude always advising with, and acting in conformity to, the counsel of the Officers of the Honorable Company, shall establish in his reserved dominions such a system of administration (to be carried into effect by his own officers) as shall be conducive to the prosperity of his subjects, and be calculated to secure the lives and property of the inhabitants, but provides no remedy for the neglect of that solemn and paramount obligation; and whereas the infraction of this essential engagement of the Treaty, and inattention to the first duty of a Sovereign on the part of several successive Rulers of Oude, have been continued and notorious, and have ever exposed the British Government to the reproach of imperfectly fulfilling its obligations towards the Oude people, and it is therefore just and proper that the defect alluded to in Article 6th of the Treaty aforesaid should be rectified, the following provisions have accordingly been arranged and concluded on the one part by Lieutenant-Colonel John Low, Resident at the Court of Lucknow, in the name and on behalf of the Right Honorable Lord Auckland, Governor-General of India in Council, and on the other, by Abool Futteh Moeen-Ood-Deen Sultana Zaman Nowsherewan-i-Audil, Mohummud Ali Shah, King of Oude, for himself and his heirs, and this Agreement is to hold good from generation to generation, to the end of time.

OUDE.
No XLIII

Article 1.

Article third (3rd) of the Treaty, dated the tenth of November, one thousand eight hundred and one, is hereby cancelled, and His Majesty the King of Oude may employ such a military establishment as he may deem necessary for the government of his dominions. His Majesty engages, however, to make a suitable reduction of his establishment, when it may appear to the British Government, from its pressure on the finances of the country or other causes, to be obviously excessive

OUDE.
No XLIII.

Article 2.

The Honorable East India Company engages, as before, to defend the Oude State against all foreign and domestic enemies ; but it will be proper and advisable that His Majesty the King of Oude shall organize, as a part of his augmented military establishment, a disciplined force for the general support of his authority within his dominions.

Article 3

The King of Oude agrees that the portion of his troops, to be organized as stipulated in the preceding Article, shall consist of not less than two regiments of cavalry, five of infantry, and two companies of golundauze, for whose regular payment a suitable arrangement will be made.

Article 4.

The Government of Oude will fix the sum of sixteen (16) lakhs of Rupees per annum for the expenses of the force, stipulated to be maintained in the third (3rd) Article of this Treaty, including their pay, arms, equipments, and public buildings of the cantonments, &c., and as this force is so to be organized, as to ensure its efficiency for all descriptions of service, it will be open to future decision whether it may be advisable (with the consent of both governments) to have a small party of horse artillery, instead of a few of the horsemen, and a small body of pioneers, instead of a few infantry sepoys ; but it is a settled compact between the two States that the expenditure on account of this new force, whatever may be its organization, shall not exceed sixteen (16) lakhs of Rupees, including every description of expense connected with it. And also, in consequence of this year being one of great scarcity, and the expenditure of the Oude government being very great, owing to its having to pay up a large amount of arrears due to troops and establishments, greater than usual, it is on these accounts hereby settled that for a period of eighteen (18) months, reckoning from the first of September, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, the organization of the new force shall not be commenced ; and accordingly that no demand shall be made upon the Oude Government for money to pay the above-mentioned troops until the first of March, eighteen hundred and thirty-nine.

OUDEH.
No. XLIII.

Article 5

The British Government hereby engages to supply, and the King of Oude to take into his service, an adequate number of British Officers to be constantly employed with such force for the purpose of maintaining its due discipline and securing its permanent efficiency.

Article 6.

This auxiliary force will ordinarily be fixed at such stations within the Oude territory as may, with the consent of both governments from time to time, to both seem most convenient, and will be employed on all occasions on which its services may be deemed necessary by the King of Oude, with the concurrence of the British Resident, but it is to be clearly understood that such force is not to be employed in the ordinary collections of revenue.

Article 7.

In modification of Article 6th of the Treaty above referred to, it is hereby provided that the King of Oude will take into his immediate and earnest consideration, in concert with the British Resident, the best means of remedying the existing defects in the Police, and in the Judicial and Revenue Administrations of his dominions, and that if His Majesty should neglect to attend to the advice and counsel of the British Government or its local representative, and if (which God forbid) gross and systematic oppression, anarchy and misrule should hereafter any time prevail within the Oude dominions, such as seriously to endanger the public tranquillity, the British Government reserves to itself the right of appointing its own officers to the management of whatsoever portions of the Oude territory, either to a small or to a great extent in which such misrule as that above alluded to may have occurred, for so long a period as it may deem necessary, the surplus receipts in such case, after defraying all charges, to be paid into the King's treasury, and a true and faithful account rendered to His Majesty of the receipts and expenditure of the territories so assumed.

Article 8.

OUDEH
No. XLIII.

And it is hereby further agreed that in case the Governor-General of India in Council should be compelled to resort to the exercise of the authority vested in him by Article 7th of this Treaty, he will endeavor, as far as possible, to maintain (with such improvements as they may admit of) the native institutions and forms of administration within the assumed territories, so as to facilitate the restoration of those territories to the Sovereign of Oude when the proper period for such restoration shall arrive.

Article 9

All the other provisions and conditions of former Treaties between the British Government and the Oude State, which are not affected by the above convention, are to remain in full force and effect.

The above Treaty, consisting of nine Articles, is executed at Lucknow, this Eleventh day of September, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-Seven, corresponding with the Tenth day of Jamadossanee, Twelve Hundred and Fifty-Three Hegira.

From Reports by successive Residents.

THE early intercourse of the British Government with Nipal was exclusively of a commercial nature. Our political relations with Katmandhoo date from the invasion of the Valley by the Goorkhas under Rajah Pirthee Narain. In 1767 the Newar Rajah of Katmandhoo, being hard pressed by the Goorkhas, applied for assistance to the British Government. Aid was granted, and Captain Kinloch was despatched with a small force in the middle of the rainy season. He was, however, compelled by the deadly climate of the Terai to retire. The Goorkha Chief, meeting but a feeble resistance, overran Nipal, and extinguished the Newar Dynasty, and was eventually recognized by the British Government as Rajah of Nipal.

Having conquered the Hill Country of Muckwanpore, the Goorkhas claimed the cultivated low lands on payment to the British Government of the same tribute as was paid by the Rajah of Muckwanpore. The claim was admitted. For thirty years the Goorkhas continued to present yearly a large sized elephant as tribute for these lands, but the tribute was eventually relinquished by Art. 7 of the Treaty of 1801. *

After the failure of Kinloch's expedition there was little connection with Nipal till the administration of Lord Cornwallis, when negotiations were opened by the Goorkhas through Mr. Duncan, then Resident at Benares, which resulted in the Commercial Treaty of March 1792 (No. XLVII). For several years previous to 1792 the Goorkhas had been extending their conquests in the direction of Thibet. They had advanced as far as Digarchi, the Llama of which place was spiritual father to the Emperor of China. Incensed by the plunder of the sacred temples of Digarchi, the Emperor of China despatched a mighty army to punish the Nipal Rajah. It was with a view to deter the Chinese from the invasion of Nipal that the Goorkha Chief formed the Commercial Treaty with the British, to whom he also applied for military aid

Lord Cornwallis offered to negotiate a peace between Nipal and China, but ere Major Kirkpatrick, who was deputed to Katmandhoo for this purpose, reached the Nipal Frontier, the Gooorkhas had been compelled to conclude an ignominious Treaty with the Chinese General within a few miles of their Capital

The ostensible object of Kirkpatrick's mission was now at an end. But as he had instructions to take measures to improve the commercial advantages secured by the Treaty, he advanced to Katmandhoo. The Gooorkhas, however, evaded all his overtures, and showed a determination to avoid a closer alliance, and in March 1793 Major Kirkpatrick quitted Nipal.

From this time till the year 1800, our intercourse with Nipal was restricted to occasional friendly letters, and the presentation by Nipal of the tribute for Muckwanpore. In that year Run Bahadoor, the young Rajah of Nipal, who in 1795 had forcibly assumed the management of the State and murdered the Regent, his uncle, and who for five years had ruled with intolerable tyranny, was forced to abdicate in favor of his illegitimate infant son, Girvan Jodh Vikram Sah, leaving one of his Ranees as Regent. He retired to Benares, where Captain Knox was appointed to attend him as Political Agent. Run Bahadoor was received by the British Government with every mark of distinction, and was supplied with large sums of money * to meet his exigencies. His presence within British Territories was deemed a favorable opportunity for the renewal of attempts to form a closer alliance with Nipal; and for the combined purposes of procuring a suitable settlement for the deposed Prince, and of improving our relations with Nipal, giving full effect to the Treaty of 1792, which had become a dead letter, and arranging for the apprehension and surrender of fugitive dacoits, who had long given trouble on the Frontier, Captain Knox was deputed to the Nipal Frontier to meet a deputation from Katmandhoo. These objects, as well as the establishment of a Residency at Katmandhoo, were provided for in the Treaty of October 1801 (No. XLVIII). Captain Knox was appointed the first Resident.

Knox was well received by the Ranee Regent, and arrangements had just been concluded to give full effect to the Treaty, when Run Bahadoor's elder Ranee, who had accompanied him to Benares, suddenly returned to Katmandhoo, overthrew the Regency, and herself took charge of the young Rajah and the Government. It now became the policy of the Durbar to evade fulfilment of the engagements with the British Government, and their aversion to the continuance of the Resident became so marked, that in March 1803 Captain Knox withdrew from Nipal, and on 24th January 1804 Lord Wellesley formally dissolved the alliance with the Durbar.

As a consequence of the dissolution of the alliance, Run Bahadoor was allowed to return to Nipal, where he inaugurated his re-accession to power by the murder of the leader of the party who was opposed to his interests. He was himself soon after killed in a dispute with his brother, and Bhim Sen Thappa, a young and ambitious man, who had accompanied him in exile, obtained possession of the person of the young Rajah, the illegitimate son of Run Bahadoor, and being countenanced by Run Bahadoor's chief Ranee, assumed the direction of affairs.

After the dissolution of the alliance in 1804, until 1812, our transactions with Nipal consisted entirely of unavailing remonstrances against the most insolent aggressions on our Frontier throughout its entire length, and in fruitless attempts to induce the Goorkhas to aid our Officers in the suppression of dacoities and robberies along the Frontier. As early as 1804 the Nipalese had seized on the Pergunnahs of Rootwal and Sheoraj, which had been ceded to the British Government by the Vizier of Oudh, under pretext of their having belonged to the possessions of the Palpa Rajah, then subdued by Nipal. In 1808 the Goorkha Governor of the Morung seized on the entire zemindarry of Bheem Nugger, situated on the Frontier of Purneah, but this case was so flagrant that Government determined on resenting it in good earnest, and in the month of June 1809 a British detachment was sent to the Frontier, with orders to resume the zemindarry at the point of the bayonet. This decided measure was sufficient, and the Goorkhas, not being yet willing to measure swords with the English, evacuated the lands in 1810. In 1811 the Goorkhas again crossed our Frontier, and at nearly the same time took possession of some lands on the Bootwal and Betteah boundaries. This aggression was forcibly resisted by the people of the Betteah Frontier, and gave rise to the first border skirmish with the Nipalese.

Commissioners were appointed by the British and Nipalese Governments to enquire into and adjust all Frontier disputes. The investigation resulted in the establishment of the right of the British Government to the disputed districts, but the Nipalese evaded restitution. Lord Hastings thereupon threatened the forcible occupation of the lands if they were not evacuated by a given date. The prescribed time having expired without a reply from Nipal, the disputed districts were occupied in the middle of April 1814.

War was now inevitable, and it was formally declared on 1st November 1814. An arduous campaign, in which the Goorkhas fought most bravely and with much success, left us in possession of the hills west of the Kalee, and the Goorkhas disposed to treat for peace. Negotiations were twice broken off by the Goorkhas refusing to comply with the demand for the cession of the Terai. A second campaign seemed inevitable, when Lord Hastings offered to pay yearly the estimated value of the Terai, and made some other concessions, which induced the Nipal Commissioners to sign the Treaty of Segowlee on 28th November, promising that the signature of the Rajah should be obtained on 12th December following.

The ratification of the Treaty, however, was withheld by the Durbar, who formally announced their intention of trying the result of a second campaign. Hostilities were therefore vigorously pushed by the British Government, and on 4th March 1816, the Nipalese Commissioners at last delivered to Sir David Ochterlony the Treaty of Segowlee (No. XLIX.), duly signed and executed. The hill lands east of the Nuchee, and part of the Terai between the Nuchee and Teesta ceded under this Treaty, were made over to Sikkim. On 8th December the 4th Article of the Treaty of Segowlee, by which we were bound to pay two lakhs a year as pensions to Nipalese Chiefs, was annulled (No. L), in consideration of the restoration to Nipal of the Terai lands between the Raptree and the Koori. The Terai lands westward to the Kalee were made over to Oudh.

The first Resident appointed under the Treaty of Segowlee was Mr. Gardner. He found Bheem Sen Thappa, the Minister, invested with complete control over the country. Under his influence the attitude assumed by the Durbar was suspicious and haughty. Maharajah Grivan Jodh Vikram Sah died in his 18th year, shortly after Mr. Gardner's arrival at Katmandhoo. His successor was then only two years old. The ministry of Bheem Sen was continued during the minority, and from that time till 1832 he enjoyed complete and uninterrupted power. During the whole of this period a martial policy prevailed in the Nipalese councils.

In 1832 signs of opposition to the uncontrolled power of Bheem Sen, whose family held almost every provincial command in the country, began to show themselves. The Pandey clan, the leaders of which had been massacred on Run Bahadoor's return to Nipal, again rose gradually into favor with the Maharajah, who was anxious to shake off the control of his Minister. The opposition increased every year. In 1837 the Rajah's youngest son died suddenly, and the report was spread that he had been poisoned at the instigation of Bheem Sen, or some of his party. Bheem Sen and his nephew, Mataber Singh, were seized, ironed, and thrown into prison, and their families were placed under close arrest; shortly after, however, Bheem Sen and his nephew were released. The former retired with honor into private life; Mataber Singh proceeded to the Punjab, where he found service under the Lahore Durbar.

Two years later the persecution of the Thappa family was revived to serve the purposes of Court intrigue. The old Minister was dragged from his retirement and hurried to prison, where, after being subjected to the most inhuman tortures, he committed suicide. His body was dismembered, exposed in the city, and left to be devoured by dogs and vultures.

During the latter years of Bheem Sen's ministry several unsuccessful attempts were made to improve our relations with Nipal. In 1833 negotiations relative to the treatment of British subjects attached to the Residency failed, by the Durbar refusing to enter into any Treaty by which it should waive its rights to punish such offenders according to its own usages. In 1834 negotiations for the revivification Commercial Treaty of 1792 were closed, by the Durbar declining to recognize its validity, and proposing another very disadvantageous to British interests. In 1836 another endeavor of the British Government to improve the commercial relations with Nipal was frustrated by the unwillingness of the Durbar to make any suitable concessions with regard to the duties to be levied on British goods. Better success, however, attended the negotiations for the capture and surrender of thugs and dacoits, and an Engagement (No. LI.) was concluded, securing mutual advantages in this respect.

After the overthrow of Bheem Sen Thappa the hostility to the British Government assumed a more open form, and every effort was made, by the reduction of public expenditure, to prepare for the anticipated outbreak of hostilities. So little was the hostility of the Nipalese concealed that it became necessary for the British Government to station a corps of observation on the Frontier. Intrigues had long been carried on by the Nipal Durbar with the States in British India. Emissaries were sent to Jodhpore, Gwalior, Hyderabad, Nagpore, Lahore, and the meditated marriage of the heir apparent formed a pretext for despatching numerous spies and messengers throughout Rewah and Rajpootana. Similar efforts were made in the direction of Sikkim, Bootan, and Ava, but the success which at first attended the British arms in Afghanistan necessitated a change in the policy of the Nipalese, and in 1839 an Engagement (No. LII.) was procured from the Durbar, promising the cessation of these intrigues.

These obligations were but nominally observed. Intrigues were carried on as before, only more covertly. In 1840 the Nipalese forcibly took possession of several villages in the Ramnuggur zemindarry, and only withdrew when hostilities were threatened. It again became necessary to station a corps of observation on the Frontier, which was not withdrawn till 1842, and after repeated assurances of good will on the part of the Maharajah and his Chiefs (No. LIII).

The extravagancies and cruelties of the Heir Apparent, who was countenanced and supported by the Maharajah, produced much discontent in the country. This, added to the intrigues of the only surviving Ranee, who was anxious for the succession of one of her own sons, led to endless family feuds. Mataber Sing, who was recalled from the Punjab in 1843, was made Prime Minister. In 1845 he was murdered at the instigation of one Guggun Sing, a great favorite of the Maharanee, who was immediately made her confidential adviser. The murder of this man, and the massacre of thirty-one of the most influential Chiefs in 1846, paved the way for the rise of Jung Bahadoor to the office of Prime Minister. Finding that Jung Bahadoor was not so subservient to her purposes as she expected, the Maharanee endeavored to compass his death, but failing, she was expelled with her two sons from the country, and took up her residence at Benares, where she still remains. She was accompanied to Benares by the Maharajah, who returned to Nipal the following year, only to abdicate in favor of the Heir Apparent, Soorundra Bikram Sah.

Of late years, and more particularly since Jung Bahadoor's visit to England in 1850, the bearing of the Nipal Durbar has been much more friendly. In 1852 negotiations were resumed for the conclusion of a Treaty for the surrender of heinous offenders. The Treaty (No. LIV.) was concluded on 10th February 1855. Towards the latter end of 1854 a rupture broke out between the Nipalese and Thibetan Governments, which, however, in no way affected the relations of the British Government with Nipal. After short hostilities and protracted negotiations a Treaty* was concluded, by which the * TREATY of PEACE, consisting of ten Articles, between the STATES of GOORKHA and of THIBET (BHOTA), settled and concluded by us, the Chief Sardars, Bhadaras, and Lamas of both Governments, whose signatures and seals are attached below. May God bear witness to it. We further agree that the Emperor of China is to be obeyed by both States as before, and that the two States are to treat each like brothers, for so long as their actions correspond with the spirit of this Treaty. May God not allow that State to prosper that may make war upon the other, unless the other's acts are contrary to this Treaty, in which case the State that declares war upon the other shall be exempt from all blame.

1. The Thibetan Government agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand Rupees annually as a tribute to the Goorkha Government.

2. The States of Goorkha and of Thibet have both borne allegiance to the Emperor of China up to the present time. The country of Thibet is more the shrine or place of worship of the Lama, for which reason the Goorkha Government will in future give all the assistance that may be in its power to the Government of Thibet, if the troops of any other "Rajah" invade that country.

3. The Government of Thibet agrees to discontinue the collection of all the duties that have hitherto been levied upon subjects of the Goorkha State, merchants, and others trading with its country.

4. The Government of Thibet agrees to give up to the Goorkha Government all the Sikh prisoners now in captivity within its territories, and all the Goorkha Sepoys, officers, and women, who were captured in the war, also all the guns that were taken, and the Goorkha Government agrees to give up to the Government of Thibet all the ryots, also the ryots of Kerong, Kooti, Joonga, Tagla Khai, and Chewur Goomba, and all the ryots has continued to be Minister of Nipal. During the mutiny of 1857 and the subsequent campaigns he rendered assistance to the British Government in the re-occupation of Goruckpore, the re-capture of Lucknow, and the subsequent capture of the rebels who infested the Terai. In consideration of these services Maharajah Jung Bahadoor was created a Knight of the Grand Cross of the Bath, and under a Treaty (No. LV) concluded on 1st November 1860, the tract of territory on the Oudh Frontier, which had been ceded to the British Government in 1816, was restored to Nipal.

It is impossible to form any correct estimate of the population of Nipal. The Nipalese usually estimate it at 5,200,000 or 5,600,000, but it is probably not more than 2,000,000. The City of Katmandhoo contains from 30,000 to 35,000 inhabitants. The area of the kingdom is about 54,000 square miles. Its revenue is unknown, but is supposed to be about 43 lakhs. The Goorkhas pay no tribute to the British Government. Every five years a mission is sent from Katmandhoo with presents to Pekin.

No. XLVIII.

TREATY with the RAJAH OF NEPAUL, 1801.

Whereas it is evident as the noonday sun to the enlightened understanding of exalted nobles and of powerful Chiefs and Rulers, that Almighty God has entrusted the protection and government of the universe to the authority of Princes, who make justice their principle, and that by the establishment of a friendly connection between them universal happiness and prosperity is secured, and that the more intimate the relation of amity and union the greater is the general tranquillity; in consideration of these circumstances, His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor-General, Marquis Wellesley, &c., &c., and the Maha Rajah have established a system of friendship between the respective Governments of the Company and the Rajah of Nepaul, and have agreed to the following Articles:—

ARTICLE 1.

It is necessary and incumbent upon the principals and officers of the two Governments constantly to exert themselves to improve the friendship subsisting between the two States, and to be zealously and sincerely desirous of the prosperity and success of the Government and subjects of both. NIPAL

No XLVIII

ARTICLE 2.

The incendiary and turbulent representations of the disaffected, who are the disturbers of our mutual friendship, shall not be attended to without investigation and proof.

ARTICLE 3.

The principals and officers of both Governments will cordially consider the friends and enemies of either State to be the friends and enemies of the other; and this consideration must ever remain permanent and in force, from generation to generation.

ARTICLE 4.

If any one of the neighbouring powers of either State should commence any altercation or dispute, and design, without provocation, unjustly to possess himself of the territories of either country, and should entertain hostile intentions with the view of taking that country, the vakeels on the part of our respective Governments at either Court will fully report all particulars to the head of the State, who, according to the obligations of friendship subsisting between the two States, after having heard the said particulars, will give whatever answer and advice may be proper.

ARTICLE 5.

Whenever any dispute of boundary and territory between the two countries may arise, such dispute shall be decided, through our respective vakeels or our officers, according to the principles of justice and right; and a landmark shall be placed upon the said boundary, and which shall constantly remain, that the officers both now and hereafter may consider it as a guide, and not make any encroachment.

ARTICLE 6.

Such places as are upon the Frontiers of the dominions of the Nabob Vizier and of Nepaul, and respecting which any dispute may arise,

NIPAL.
No. XLVIII.

such dispute shall be settled by the mediation of the vakeel on the part of the Company, in the presence of one from the Nepaul Government, and one from His Excellency the Vizier.

ARTICLE 7

So many elephants, on account of Muckanacinpoor, are annually sent to the Company by the Rajah of Nepaul, and therefore the Governor-General, with a view of promoting the satisfaction of the Rajah of Nepaul, and in consideration of the improved friendly connection, and of this new Treaty, relinquishes and foregoes the tribute above-mentioned, and directs that the officers of the Company, both now and hereafter, from generation to generation, shall never, during the continuance of the engagement contracted by this Treaty, (so long as the conditions of this Treaty shall be in force,) exact the elephants from the Rajah.

ARTICLE 8.

If any of the dependants or inhabitants of either country should fly and take refuge in the other, and a requisition should be made for such persons on the part of the Nepaul Government by its constituted vakeel in attendance on the Governor-General, or on the part of the Company's Government by its representative residing at Nepaul, it is, in this case, mutually agreed that if such person should have fled after transgressing the laws of his Government, it is incumbent upon the principals of both Governments immediately to deliver him up to the vakeel at their respective courts, that he may be sent in perfect security to the Frontier of their respective territories

ARTICLE 9.

The Maha Rajah of Nepaul agrees, that a pergunnah, with all the lands attached to it, excepting privileged lands and those appropriated to religious purposes, and to jaghires, &c., which are specified separately in the account of collections, shall be given up to Samee Jeo for his expences, as a present. The conditions with respect to Samee Jeo are, that if he should remain at Benares, or at any other place within the Company's provinces, and should spontaneously farm his jaghire to the officers of Nepaul, in that event the amount of collections shall be punctually paid to him, agreeably to certain kists which may be hereafter settled; that he may appropriate the same to his necessary expences, and that he may continue in religious abstraction, according to his agreement, which he had engraved on brass, at the time of his abdication of the Roy, and of his resigning it in my favour. Again, in the event of his establishing his residence in his jaghire, and of his realizing the collections through his own officers, it is proper that he should not keep such a one and other disaffected persons in his service, and besides one hundred men and maid servants, &c, he must not entertain any persons as soldiers, with a view to the collection of the revenue of the pergunnah; and to the protection of his person he may take two hundred soldiers of the forces of the Nepaul Government, the allowances of whom shall be paid by the Rajah of Nepaul. He must be cautious, also, of commencing altercation, either by speech or writing, neither must he give protection to the rebellious and fugitives of the Nepaul country, nor must he commit plunder and devastation upon the subjects of Nepaul. In the event of such delinquency being proved, to the satisfaction of the two Governments, the aid and protection of the Company shall be withdrawn from him; and in that event, also, it shall be at the option of the Rajah of Nepaul, whether or not he will confiscate his jaghire.

NIPAL
No XLVIII

The Maha Rajah also agrees, on his part, that if Samee Jee should take up his residence within the Company's provinces, and should farm out his land to the officers of Nepaul, and that the kists should not be paid according to agreement, or that he should fix his residence on his jaghire, and any of the inhabitants of Nepaul should give him or the ryots of his pergunnah any molestation, a requisition shall be made by the Governor-General of the Company, on this subject, to the Rajah. The Governor-General is security for the Rajah's performance of this condition, and the Maha Rajah will immediately acquit himself of the requisition of the Governor-General, agreeably to what is above written. If any profits should arise in the collection of the said pergunnah, in consequence of the activity of the officers, or any defalcation occurs from their inattention, in either case, the Rajah of Nepaul will be totally unconcerned.

No. XLVIII.

ARTICLE 10

With the view of carrying into effect the different objects contained in this Treaty, and of promoting other verbal negociation, the Governor-General and the Rajah of Nepaul, under the impulse of their will and pleasure, depute a confidential person to each other, as vakeel, that, remaining in attendance upon their respective governments, they may effect the objects above specified, and promote whatever may tend to the daily improvement of the friendship subsisting between the two States.

ARTICLE 11.

It is incumbent upon the principals and officers of the two States, that they should manifest the regard and respect to the vakeel of each other's government, which is due to their rank, and is prescribed by the laws of nations; and that they should endeavour, to the utmost of their power, to advance any object which they may propose, and to promote their ease, comfort, and satisfaction, by extending protection to them, which circumstances are calculated to improve the friendship subsisting between the two governments, and to illustrate the good name of both States throughout the universe.

ARTICLE 12.

It is incumbent upon the vakeels of both States, that they should hold no intercourse whatever with any of the subjects or inhabitants of the country, excepting with the officers of government, without the permission of those officers: neither should they carry on any correspondence with any of them; and if they should receive any letter or writing from any such people, they should not answer it, without the knowledge of the head of the State, and acquainting him of the particulars, which will dispel all apprehension or doubt between us, and manifest the sincerity of our friendship

ARTICLE 13

It is incumbent upon the principals and officers mutually to abide by the spirit of this Treaty, which is now drawn out according to their faith and religion, and deeming it in force from generation to generation that they should not deviate from it: and any person who may transgress against it, will be punished by Almighty God, both in this world, and in a future state. NIPAL

SEPARATE ARTICLE of a TREATY with the RAJAH of NEPAUL, concluded at Dinapore, October 26th, 1801

The Engagement contracted by Maha Rajah, &c, &c, with His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor-General, &c., &c., respecting the settlement of a provision for the maintenance of Purncahir Goonanund Swammee Jee, the illustrious father of the said Maha Rajah, is to the following effect :—

That an annual income, amounting to Patna Sicca Rupees eighty-two thousand, of which seventy-two thousand shall be paid in cash and ten thousand in elephants, half male and half female, to be valued at the rate of one hundred and twenty-five Rupees per cubit, shall be settled on the said Swammee Jee, commencing from the month of Aughun 1858, as an humble offering to assist in the maintenance of his household; and for the purpose of supplying the said income, that the Pergunnah of Beejapoor, with all the lands thereunto attached, (excepting rent-free lands, religious or charitable endowments, jaghires and such like as specified separately in the account of collections) be settled on the said Swammee Jee, under the following conditions :
That, in the event of his residing at Benares or other place within the territories of the Honorable Company, and of his voluntarily committing the collections of the said jaghire to the servants of the Nepaul government, in such case seventy-two thousand Rupees in cash, and elephants to the value of ten thousand Rupees, shall be punctually remitted, year after year, by established kists, to the said Swammee Jee, without fail or delay, so that, appropriating the same to his necessary expences, he may devote himself to the worship of the Supreme Being in conformity to his own declaration, engraved on copper, at the time of his abdicating the Raje and of his bestowing it on the said Maha Rajah, and further, in the event of his establishing his residence upon his jaghire and of his realizing the collections through his own officers, it is requisite that he should not keep in his service fomenters of sedition and disturbance, that he shall retain no more than one hundred male and female attendants, and that he shall not retain about his person soldiers of any description. That for the purpose of collecting the revenues of the aforesaid pergunnahs and for his personal protection, he may have from the Rajah of Nepaul as far as two hundred men of the troops of that country, and the allowances of such men shall be defrayed by the Maha Rajah himself. He must not attempt, either by speech or writing, to excite commotion nor harbour about his person rebels and fugitives from the territories of Nepaul, neither must he commit any depredations upon the subjects of that country. And in the event of such delinquency being established to the satisfaction of both parties, that the aid and protection of the Honorable Company shall be withdrawn from the said Swammee Jee, in which case it shall be at the option of the Maha Rajah to confiscate his jaghire. It is also agreed by the Maha Rajah that, provided Swammee Jee should fix his residence within the Honorable Company's territories, and should commit the collections of his jaghire to the officers of the Nepaul government, in that case, should the kists not be paid according to the conditions above specified, or in the event of his residing upon his jaghire, provided any of the subjects of Nepaul give him or ryots of his pergunnah any molestation, in either case, the Governor-General and the Honorable Company have a right to demand reparation from the Rajah of Nepaul. The Governor-General is guarantee that the Rajah of Nepaul performs this condition, and the Maha Rajah, on the requisition of the Governor-General, will instantly fulfil his engagements as above specified. In any augmentation of the collections from the judicious management of the officers of Swammee Jee, or in any diminution from a contrary cause, the Maha Rajah is to be equally unconcerned: the Maha Rajah engaging that, on delivering over the Pergunnah of Beejapoor to the officers of Swammee Jee, the amount of the annual revenue shall be Patna Sicca Rupees 72,000;

that should it be less he will make good the deficiency, and in case of excess, that Swammee Jee be entitled thereto. NIPAL

MEMORANDUM for the approval and acceptance of the RAJAH OF NIPAL, presented on the 8th December 1816. .

Adverting to the amity and confidence subsisting with the Rajah of Nipal, the British Government proposes to suppress, as much as is possible, the execution of certain Articles in the Treaty of Segowlee, which bear hard upon the Rajah, as follows.—

2. With a view to gratify the Rajah in a point which he has much at heart, the British Government is willing to restore the Terai ceded to it by the Rajah in the Treaty, to wit, the whole Terai lands lying between the Rivers Coosa and Gunduk, such as appertained to the Rajah before the late disagreement; excepting the disputed lands in the Zillahs of Tirhoot and Sarun, and excepting such portions of territory as may occur on both sides for the purpose of settling a frontier, upon investigation by the respective Commissioners, and excepting such lands as may have been given in possession to any one by the British Government upon ascertainment of his rights subsequent to the cession of Terai to that Government. In case the Rajah is desirous of retaining the lands of such ascertained proprietors, they may be exchanged for others, and let it be clearly understood that, notwithstanding the considerable extent of the lands in the Zillah of Tirhoot, which have for a long time been a subject of dispute, the settlement made in the year 1812 of Christ, corresponding with the year 1869 of Bikramajeet, shall be taken, and everything else relinquished, that is to say, that the settlement and negotiations, such as occurred at that period, shall in the present case hold good and be established.

3. The British Government is willing likewise to restore the Terai lying between the Rivers Gunduk and Rapti, that is to say, from the River Gunduk to the western limits of the Zillah of Goruckpore, together with Bootwul and Sheoraj, such as appertained to Nipal previous to the disagreements, complete, with the exception of the disputed places in the Terai, and such quantity of ground as may be considered mutually to be requisite for the new boundary.

4. As it is impossible to establish desirable limits between the two States without survey, it will be expedient that Commissioners be appointed on both sides for the purpose of arranging in concert a well defined boundary on the basis of the preceding terms, and of establishing a straight line of frontier, with a view to the distinct separation of the respective territories of the British Government to the south and of Nipal to the north; and in case any indentations occur to destroy the even tenor of the line, the Commissioners should effect an exchange of lands so interfering on principles of clear reciprocity.

5. And should it occur that the proprietors of lands situated on the mutual frontier, as it may be rectified, whether holding of the British Government or of the Rajah of Nipal, should be placed in the condition of subjects to both Governments, with a view to prevent continual dispute and discussion between the two Governments, the respective Commissioners should effect in mutual concurrence and co-operation the exchange of such lands, so as to render them subject to one dominion alone.

6. Whensoever the Terai shall be restored, the Rajah of Nipal will cease to require the sum of two lakhs of Rupees per annum, which the British Government agreed to advance for the maintenance of certain Barahdars of his Government.

7. Moreover, the Rajah of Nipal agrees to refrain from prosecuting any inhabitants of the Terai, after its reversion to his rule, on account of having favored the cause of the British Government during the war, and should any of those persons, excepting the cultivators of the soil, be desirous of quitting their estates, and of retiring within the Company's territories, he shall not be liable to hindrance.

8. In the event of the Rajah's approving the foregoing terms, the proposed arrangement for the survey and establishment of boundary marks shall be carried into execution, and after the determination in concert of the boundary line, Sunnuds conformable to the foregoing stipulations, drawn out and sealed by the two States, shall be delivered and accepted on both sides.

SUBSTANCE of a LETTER under the Seal of the RAJAH OF NIPAL, received on the 11th December 1816.

After compliments ,

I have comprehended the document under date the 8th of December 1816, or 4th of Poos 1873 Sumbut, which you transmitted relative to the restoration, with a view to my friendship and satisfaction, of the Terai between the Rivers Coosa and Rapti to the southern boundary complete, such as appertained to my estate previous to the war. It mentioned that, in the event of my accepting the terms contained in that document, the southern boundary of the Terai should be established as it was held by this Government. I have accordingly agreed to the terms laid down by you, and herewith enclose an instrument of agreement, which may be satisfactory to you. Moreover, it was written in the document transmitted by you, that it should be restored, with the exception of the disputed lands and such portion of land as should, in the opinion of the Commissioners on both sides, occur for the purpose of settling a boundary, and excepting the lands which, after the cessions of the Terai to the Honorable Company, may have been transferred by it to the ascertained proprietors. My friend, all these matters rest with you, and since it was also written that a view was had to my friendship and satisfaction with respect to certain Articles of the Treaty of Segowlee, which bore hard upon me, and which could be remitted, I am well assured that you have at heart the removal of whatever may tend to my distress, and that you will act in a manner corresponding to the advantage of this State and the increase of the friendly relations subsisting between the two Governments.

Moreover, I have to acknowledge the receipt of the orders under the red seal of this State, addressed to the officers of Terai between the Rivers Gunduk and Rapti, for the surrender of that Terai, and their retiring from thence, which was given to you at Thankote, according to your request, and which you have now returned for my satisfaction.

PAPER received from the DUBBAR regarding the surrender of THUGS, on the 20th January 1837

The following is the arrangement proposed in thuggee surrenders, and is translated verbatim et literatim

When a thug approver or approvers make an allegation of murder by means of poison, or strangling, against an individual said to be residing in Nipal, and when the charge is accompanied by a description of the accused person, an enumeration of his family, brothers or other relations, and the name of his village given, or his habitation otherwise described; and when on investigation by the local officers of Nipal into the above, it appears that the accused has not been a permanent resident at the place, that his people and family are not forthcoming, that he has no ostensible means of livelihood, and that his mode of living is nevertheless comfortable, or that it appears that he has been in the habit of residing for three or four months together at different places in the neighbourhood, and that without ostensible means of livelihood he is still enabled to exist, and when all or several of these circumstances correspond with the approver's statement, then will the Nipal Government make surrender of such individuals to the Magistrates of the British Government for trial and punishment. On the other hand (recapitulate the above details) it is expected that the Magistrates of the British Government will surrender such individuals to the Nipalese authorities of the Terai, for trial and punishment by the Nipal Government.

Further, when on investigation of the allegations of the approvers by the local officers of either Government, the charge is found not to correspond with the circumstances of the individuals, or to be otherwise untenable, it will by all means be necessary that in such cases surrender be withheld.

During the disturbances which followed the mutiny of the Native Army of Bengal in 1857, the Maharajah of Nipal not only faithfully maintained the relations of peace and friendship established between the British Government and the State of Nipal by the Treaty of Segowlee, but freely placed troops at the disposal of the British authorities for the preservation of order in the Frontier Districts, and subsequently sent a force to co-operate with the British Army in the re-capture of Lucknow and the final defeat of the rebels. On the conclusion of these operations, the Viceroy and Governor-General, in recognition of the eminent services rendered to the British

TREATIES, ENGAGEMENTS, AND SUNNUDS

RELATING TO THE

PUNJAB, AND THE STATES ON THE PUNJAB FRONTIER.

PUNJAB.

THE sect of the Sikhs traces its origin to Nanuk, a Hindoo of the Cshatrya caste, who was born in A. D. 1469, at Tulwandi, near Lahore. From his infancy he was given to religious meditation. In riper manhood he wandered into various countries, and returned to his home with his mind matured with reflection and travel to preach the unity of God and charity to men. The new creed spread rapidly, but soon provoked the persecution of the Mahomedans. The cruelty with which the Sikhs were treated turned them, under Govind, their tenth and last Gooroo or Teacher, from a band of religious devotees into a chosen religious and military commonwealth or "Khalsa," animated with undying hatred to the Mussulmans.

Gooroo Govind waged an unequal war with the Emperor of Delhi. Frequently defeated and broken up, persecuted with inhuman cruelty, the Sikhs were driven to hide themselves in the valleys and caves of the hills from the fury of their enemies. Openly to profess their religion became a capital crime. The sect would soon have been exterminated had not the distractions of the Empire, which followed the death of Aurungzebe, given them a breathing time from persecution.

Gradually the Sikhs emerged from their hiding places, and, gathering in small parties, established themselves in petty isolated forts. Issuing from these, always well mounted, they scoured the country, burning and plundering, and giving infinite annoyance to the weak Mahomedan Governors of Lahore and Sirhind. After the return of Ahmed Shah Abdali to Cabool from his fifth invasion of India, in which he had broken the Mahratta power in the decisive battle of Paniput, the Sikhs found themselves strong enough to possess themselves of the country round Lahore. But they drew down the vengeance of Ahmed Shah, who, in 1762, returned to India, disastrously defeated them, and destroyed and polluted their sacred temple at Umitsur.

From this defeat the Sikhs soon recovered. In the following year they defeated the Afghan Governor of Sirhind, and spread themselves over the plains south and east of the Sutlej, as far as the Jumna. The eighth invasion of Ahmed Shah, which took place in 1767, ended in leaving the Sikhs masters of the country between the Jumna and Rawulpindee. Within three years their authority was extended over Jummo and the Rajpoots of the lower hills.

The spread of the dominion of the Sikhs south of the Sutlej received a severe check from the Mahrattas, who, recovering from their disastrous overthrow at Paniput, again overran Northern India. In 1788 Sindia was in possession of Delhi, and by 1802 the Mahrattas had established their supremacy as far as the Sutlej, and exacted from the Sikh States to the south of that river a tribute of three lakhs of Rupees. The Mahratta power in the north was broken by Lord Lake in 1803. The Chiefs of Kythul and Jheend tendered their allegiance to Lord Lake, and rendered occasional service, and all the Chiefs of Sirhind became virtually dependents of the British Government. It was the policy of the day, however, to maintain a strict neutrality in regard to the affairs of the Chiefs north of the Jumna; and beyond establishing the Sikh Chiefs in the territories which they then held, and rewarding those who had done good service, the British Government did not interfere in their affairs till 1809, when the Sikhs

Chiefs threw themselves on its protection from the encroachments of PUNJAB Runjeet Sing.

The constitution of the Sikh Khalsa contained within itself elements of weakness and discord. The Sirdars or Chiefs owned no subjection to each other. They were followed into the field by their relatives and dependents, and each seized for himself whatever territory he was strong enough to hold. The Chiefs, with their clansmen and retainers, associated themselves into "Misl" or confederacies of equals, twelve in number. Each Chief parcelled out the conquered lands among his followers, who held their portions in independence, bound only by considerations of mutual advantage and the general weal of the Misl.

Under such a system causes of quarrel were never wanting. The difficulties with which the Sikhs had to contend in their early struggle for existence kept them at first well together. But with success came dissensions, and the weak fell before the strong. One of the Sirdars, who earliest raised himself to power and influence, was Maha Sing, of the Sookurchakea Misl, one of the weakest and latest formed of the twelve clans. To him, on 2nd November 1780, was born a son, Runjeet Sing, by his wife, a daughter of the Rajah of Jheend. During the invasion of Shah Zuman, in 1798, Runjeet Sing rendered service to the Afghan Monarch by recovering for him several pieces of artillery which had been lost in the Jhelum, and he had the address to procure for himself the appointment of Governor of Lahore.

By force and artifice Runjeet Sing gained possession of the city, where he established himself, and whence, in concert with Futteh Sing Aloowallia, he soon extended his supremacy over the neighboring Sirdars, and meditated the extension of his authority beyond the Sutlej. In 1803 he made proposals to Lord Lake for the transfer to the British Government of the territory belonging to the Sikhs south of the River Sutlej, on the condition of mutual defence against the respective enemies of himself and the British nation. The offer was declined.

In 1805 Runjeet Sing was recalled from a campaign against the Mahomedans between the Chenab and the Indus, by the sudden appearance of Holkar in the Punjab, closely pursued by Lord Lake.

PUNJAB

Disappointed in the hope of procuring assistance from Runjeet Sing, Holkar concluded a Treaty with the British Government, and returned to Hindoostan. A Treaty of friendship and alliance (No. LVI) was at the same time concluded between the British Government and Sirdars Runjeet Sing and Futteh Sing.

The systematic aggressions of Runjeet Sing at last excited the alarm of the Sikhs of Sirhind, and in 1808 they sent a deputation, consisting of Rajah Bhag Sing of Jheend (Runjeet's uncle), Bhaee Lall Sing of Khytul, and Chein Sing Dewan of Puttiala, to beg the protection of the British Government. The answer they received was such as to encourage their hopes, although it conveyed no formal assurance of protection.

In the meantime, the fear of a French invasion of India had induced the British Government to depute Mr. Metcalfe to the Court of Runjeet Sing to establish a friendly alliance. Towards the close of 1808, in consequence of acts of hostility committed by Runjeet Sing on the south of the Sutlej, while negotiations were pending, Government determined to comply with the wishes of the Cis-Sutlej Chiefs, and Mr. Metcalfe was instructed to declare the country between the Sutlej and the Jumna under British protection. Mr. Metcalfe's mission resulted in the Treaty of Lahore, of 25th April 1809 (No. LVII.), by which the British Government agreed to have no concern with the territories and subjects of the Rajah of Lahore to the north of the Sutlej, and Runjeet Sing agreed neither to commit nor suffer encroachments on the possessions or rights of the Chiefs to the south of that river. The Rajah was guaranteed in the possession of the conquests made by him on the left of the Sutlej up to September 1808.

After the conclusion of this Treaty, the intercourse of the British Government with the Lahore Durbar was, for many years, confined to the interchange of friendly letters and presents. Runjeet Sing was too prudent and far-seeing to give occasion of offence by a violation of his Treaty engagements, and he confined his schemes of conquest to the direction of Mooltan, Cashmere, and Peshawur.

In 1834, when Lord William Bentinck visited Simla, Runjeet Sing sent a complimentary mission to him. Arrangements were made through the Political Agent at Ludhiana for an interview.

between his Lordship and the Maharajah of Lahore, which took place with great pomp in the month of October, at Rooper. At Runjeet Sing's particular request an assurance (No. LVIII) of perpetual friendship was executed and given to him on this occasion.

From this period the utmost cordiality prevailed between the British Government and the Lahore Durbar. In the following year a Treaty (No. LIX.) was concluded, to regulate the navigation of the Indus and the collection of duties on merchandize. The levy of duties on the value and quantity of the goods, however, gave rise to misunderstandings, and in November 1834, it was arranged by a Supplementary Treaty (No. LX.) to substitute a toll, to be levied on all boats with whatever merchandize laden. Five years later another Agreement (No. LXI.) was made for the levy of duty on the merchandize at one place and not on the boats. A fourth Treaty (No. LXII.), for the regulation of these duties, was made in 1840 with Maharajah Khuruk Sing, the son and successor of Runjeet Sing.

In 1833, Shah Shujah, the ex-monarch of Cabool, who was living as a British pensioner at Loodhiana, undismayed by the failure of his previous attempts to recover his kingdom, resolved to make one effort more, and for this purpose he entered into a Treaty* with Runjeet Sing,

* TRANSLATION of the TREATY concluded between MAHARAJAH RUNJEET SING and SHAH SHUJAH-UL-MULK, dated the 12th of March 1834.

Relations of friendship having been firmly established between Maharajah Ranjit Sing and Shah Shujah-ul-Mulk, so that there neither is nor ever shall be any alienation or difference of interest existing between them, they agree to adopt the following Articles in consideration of the terms of good-will and friendship by which they are reciprocally actuated.

1st.—Shah Shujah-ul-Mulk disclaims all title on the part of himself, his heirs, successors, and all the Seddozies, to whatever territories lying on either bank of the River Indus that may be possessed by the Maharajah, viz, Cashmeer, including its limits E. W. N. and S., together with the fort of Atok, Chetah, Hezara, Khebel, Anb, with its dependencies on the left bank of the aforesaid river, and on the right bank, Peshawr with the Eusefrie territory, Khetcks, Hisht Nagor, Michnee, Kohat, and all places dependent on Peshawr as far as the Khyber Pass; Bennoo, the Vizry territory, Dour, Tank, Gorank, Kalabagh, and Khush-halgher, with their dependent districts, Derah Ismael Khan, and its dependency, together with Derah Ghazi Khan, Kot Mithen, and their dependent territory, Sengher, Heren Dayel, Hajeepore, Rajeepore, and the three Ketchees, as well as Menkerah, with its district and the Province of Multan, situated on the left bank. These countries and places are considered to be the property and to form the estate of the Maharajah; the Shah neither has nor will have any concern with them. They belong to the Maharajah and his posterity from generation to generation.

2nd.—The people of the country on the other side of Khyber will not be suffered to commit robberies or aggression or any disturbances on this side. If any in which, in consideration of the assistance to be rendered by the Maharajah, he disclaimed all title to the territories in possession of the Maharajah on either side of the Indus. The Shah's expedition to Cabool ended in disaster, and he returned to his exile in Loodhiana, whence he was summoned in 1838 to make another effort for the re-establishment of his power. The supposed designs of Russia in Afghanistan, the preference shown by Dost Mahomed for a Russian alliance, and his invasion of the territories of Runjeet Sing, induced the British Government to adopt the cause of Shah Shujah. It is unnecessary to refer further to the policy and war of the British Government in Afghanistan than to state that their operations were preceded by a tripartite Treaty (No. LXIII.) between the British Government, Runjeet Sing, and Shah Shujah, which renewed the provisions of the Treaty of 1833 between the Shah and Runjeet Sing, bound the Shah, in the event of the attainment of his object, to either State, who has embezzled the revenue, take refuge in the territory of the other, each party engages to surrender him

3rd.—As agreeably to the Treaty established between the British Government and the Maharajah, no one can cross from the left to the right bank of the Sutlej without a passport from the Maharajah, the same rule shall be observed regarding the passage of the Indus, whose waters join the Sutlej, and no one shall be allowed to cross the Indus without the Maharajah's permission

4th.—Regarding Shikarpoor and the territory of Sindh lying on the right bank of the Indus, the Shah will abide by whatever may be settled as right and proper in conformity with the happy relations of friendship subsisting between the British Government and the Maharajah, through Captain Wade

5th.—When the Shah shall have established his authority in Cabul and Candahar, he will annually send the Maharajah the following articles, viz, 55 high bred horses of approved colors and pleasant paces, 11 Persian scimitars, 7 Persian poniards, 25 good mules, fruits of various kinds, both dry and fresh, and sudas or musk-melons of a sweet and delicate flavor (to be sent throughout the year), by the way of Cabul River to Peshawr, grapes, pomegranates, apples, quinces, almonds, raisins, pistals or chesnuts, an abundant supply of each, as well as pieces of satin of every color, choghas of fur, klunkhabs wrought with gold and silver, Persian carpets, altogether to the number of 101 pieces, all these articles the Shah will continue to send every year to the Maharajah.

6th.—Each party shall address the other on terms of equality.

7th.—Merchants of Afghanistan, who will be desirous of trading to Lahore, Amritsir, or any other part of the Maharajah's possessions, shall not be stopped or molested on their way; on the contrary, strict orders shall be issued to facilitate their intercourse, and the Maharajah engages to observe the same line of conduct on his part in respect to traders who may wish to proceed to Afghanistan.

8th.—The Maharajah will yearly send to the Shah the following articles in the way of friendship, 55 pieces of shawls, 25 pieces of muslin, 11 dooputahs, 5 pieces of khinkhabs, 5 scarves, 5 turbans, 55 loads of Bareh rice (peculiar to Peshawr).

9th.—Any of the Maharajah's Officers who may be deputed to Afghanistan to purchase horses or on any other business, as well as those who may be sent by the Shah into the Punjab for the purpose of purchasing piece goods or shawls, &c., to the amount of 11,000 Rupees, pay two lakhs of Rupees for the assistance of Runjeet Sing's troops, to give up claims to supremacy over Scinde, on condition of payment by the Meers of a sum to be fixed by the British Government, of which fifteen lakhs should go to Runjeet Sing, not to attack or molest the Ruler of Herat, not to negotiate with Foreign States without the consent of the British and Sikh Governments, and to oppose any power having the design of invading the British or Sikh Territories. On the death of Shah Shujah, this Treaty was considered to have become null and void.

PUNJAB.

Runjeet Sing died on 27th June 1839. This remarkable man, who was absolutely illiterate, had by intrigue and force and his own energy of character raised himself from being the head of one of the smallest of the Sikh clans to a kingdom which, at the time of his death, yielded a revenue of upwards of two and a half crores of Rupees, covered an area of 14,000 square miles, and was garrisoned by an army of 82,000 men.

Within a few years after his death, the kingdom which he had created by his personal abilities fell to pieces under his successors. He was succeeded by his son Khuruk Sing, who died on 5th November 1840.

Now Nehal Sing, the only son of Khuruk Sing, was killed when returning from his father's funeral. Thereafter there followed a series will be treated by both sides with due attention, and every facility will be afforded to them in the execution of their commission.

10th.—Whenever the armies of the two States may happen to be assembled at the same place, on no account shall the slaughter of kine be permitted to take place.

11th.—In the event of the Shah taking an auxiliary force from the Maharajah, whatever booty may be acquired from the Barekzie, in jewels, horses, arms, great or small, shall equally be divided between the two contracting parties. If the Shah should succeed in obtaining possession of their property without the assistance of the Maharajah's troops, the Shah agrees to send a portion of it by his own Agent to the Maharajah in the way of friendship.

12th.—An exchange of missions charged with letters and presents shall constantly take place between the two parties.

13th.—Should the Maharajah require the aid of any of the Shah's troops, the Shah engages to send a force commanded by one of his principal Officers, in like manner the Maharajah will furnish the Shah, when required, with an auxiliary force composed of Mahomedans, and commanded by one of his principal Officers, as far as Cabul. When the Maharajah may go to Peshawar, the Shah will depute a Shahzadah to visit him, on which occasion the Maharajah will receive and dismiss him with the honor and consideration due to his rank and dignity.

14th.—The friends and enemies of the one shall be the friends and enemies of the other.

15th.—Both parties cordially agree to the foregoing Articles there shall be no deviation from them. The present Treaty shall be considered binding for ever.

of revolutions, by which the power passed successively into the hands of Chundkour, the mother of Now Nehal Sing, his uncle Sher Sing, and lastly Dhuleep Sing, the reputed son of Runjeet Sing. These revolutions were effected with the aid of the army, which had now become thoroughly disorganized and mutinous.

During the minority of Dhuleep Sing, and the regency of his mother, all regular government was overthrown, and the Khalsa Army became virtually the rulers of the country. Military operations were solely determined by their Panchayets or Regimental Committees. To divert the attention of the army from domestic politics they were led to resolve on a campaign across the Sutlej, a movement which for some time previous had been expected by the British Government. The Sikhs committed the first act of aggression in December 1845, by crossing the river near Ferozepore and carrying off some camels. On the 13th December the Governor-General issued a Proclamation (No. LXIV), setting forth the views and objects of the British Government, and the unprovoked invasion of British Territories by the Sikhs, declaring the possessions of Maharajah Dhuleep Sing on the left bank of the Sutlej confiscated and annexed to British Territories, and calling on the protected Chiefs to co-operate cordially with the British Government against the common enemy. The Khalsa Army received its final defeat in the battle of Sobraon, on 10th February 1846. On the 13th the whole British Force crossed the Sutlej, and on the 14th a Proclamation was issued, declaring that the occupation of the Punjab would not be relinquished till full atonement had been made for the breach of their Treaty engagements by the Sikhs, and that the hill and plain districts between the Sutlej and the Beas would be annexed in part indemnity for the expenses of the war. On the night of the 15th a conference was held between Mr. Currie and Major Lawrence on behalf of the British Government, and Rajah Goolab Sing, Dewan Deena Nath, and Fakeer Noor-ood-deen on behalf of the Sikhs, at which the preliminaries of a Treaty were arranged. The Treaty (No. LXV.) was signed at Lahore, on 9th March 1846. This Treaty left the British Government in possession of the hills and plains east of the Beas, and of the hill countries between the Beas and the Indus, including Cashmere and Hazara;

it regulated the strength and constitution of the Sikh Army; gave the British Government the control over the Beas and the Sutlej as far as the Indus, and of the Indus to the borders of Beeloochistan, and made the British Government the arbiter in all disputes between the Lahore Durbar and neighboring States. Two days later an Agreement (No. LXVI) was made, by which Government left a force at Lahore for the protection of the Maharajah, and certain matters regarding the territories ceded by the Treaty were specifically determined.

The Lahore Durbar being anxious for the assistance of the British Government to maintain the administration of the Lahore State during the minority of Dhuleep Singh, an Agreement (No. LXVII.) was concluded on 16th December 1846, by which the Treaty of 9th March was temporarily modified, a Resident was appointed at Lahore, a Council of Regency, consisting of eight members, was established to conduct the Government in consultation with the Resident, and the country was occupied by a British Force, to be paid for by the Lahore State.

Many of the Sikh Chiefs, who had been accustomed to revolution and excitement, were not satisfied with the arrangements for the pacification of the country, and harboured evil designs. The murder of Mr. Vans Agnew and Lieutenant Anderson at Mooltan, and the revolt of Moolraj gave an opportunity for the development of a wide and dangerous conspiracy in the Sikh Army, which had for some time existed, with a view to the re-establishment of the Khalsa independence. Sirdar Chutter Sing Attareewalla raised the standard of rebellion in the north. Rajah Sher Sing, his son, joined Moolraj, and proclaimed a religious war. He was followed in open rebellion by the great body of the Sikh Army and the Sikh population, which the Durbar were powerless to control. The defeat of the rebels at the decisive battle of Goojrat was followed by the surrender of the entire Sikh Army, and the annexation of the Punjab to the British Territories.

On the 29th March 1849 an Agreement (No. LXVIII.) was made with Maharajah Dhuleep Sing, whereby he resigned the sovereignty of the Punjab, receiving a pension from the British Government.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government hereby agrees that in case a pacification should not be effected between that Government and Jeswunt Rao Holkar, the British Army shall move from its present encampment on the banks of the River Beah as soon as Jeswunt Rao Holkar aforesaid shall have marched with his army to the distance of 30 coss from Amritsur; and that in any Treaty which may hereafter be concluded between the British Government and Jeswunt Rao Holkar, it shall be stipulated that, immediately after the conclusion of the said Treaty, Holkar shall evacuate the territories of the Sikhs and march towards his own, and that he shall in no way whatever injure or destroy such parts of the Sikh country as may lie in his route. The British Government further agrees that as long as the said Chieftains Runjeet Sing and Futteh Sing abstain from holding any friendly connection with the enemies of that Government, or from committing any act of hostility on their own parts against the said Government, the British Armies shall never enter the territories of the said Chieftains, nor will the British Government form any plans for the seizure or sequestration of their possessions or property.

TRANSLATION of the PAPER delivered by the Right Honorable the GOVERNOR-GENERAL to MAHA RAJAH RUNJEET SING, on the evening of the 31st October 1831

In these days of auspicious commencement and happy close, while the sound of rejoicing has gladdened the firmament, a meeting has been arranged at a fortunate moment and under favorable circumstances between the heads of the two exalted Governments, on the terms of reciprocal friendship, and in all cordiality, with reference to the relations established of old between the two States, and many interviews and conversations have been held with mirth and joy and mutual satisfaction; the rose buds of our hearts on both sides having expanded, and the garden of our sensations being in blossom from the exceeding joy and good feeling that prevailed. Of a truth the growing friendship and cordiality which subsisted between the two Durbars of exalted dignity have been watered and fostered by the hand of Providence, and by the showers of the Divine grace, so as to have reached a maturity and strength for which God be praised. Nevertheless, your Highness may derive further satisfaction from the assurance that, agreeably to the relations of friendship which have been thus established, in the same manner, from generation to generation, as settled by reciprocal engagements, shall the growth of this friendship continue and increase, and the materials of the existing good understanding be sought and extended at all times and at all places. There shall never at any time, or on any account whatsoever, be any difference or estrangement, nor shall such feelings in any way find entrance. But, on the contrary, the example of the unanimity and long standing friendship shall, like the sun, shine glorious in history, and the reputation of it shall become a bye-word amongst the princes and rulers of the earth, and be a subject of conversation to all ranks of men, in all countries, and at all times, so that, observing the fruits of this long standing friendship, the well-wishers of the two Governments shall rejoice, and their enemies and those who envy their good fortune shall be downcast and repentant.

Hereafter all the gentlemen and authorities of the British Government will study to maintain in perpetuity the relations which exist, as established by mutual engagements of long standing, so as to raise and display to the world the standards of the mutual good faith, fidelity, and cordiality of the two Governments.

These few lines have been committed to writing, as a testimony of friendship, at Rooper, and have been signed and sealed by me, to be delivered in person at this last interview, on the 31st October 1831, corresponding with the 24th of Jumadee-oos-Sanee, 1247 Hegiræ, to His Highness Maharajah Runjeet Sing Behauder.

TREATY concluded between the EAST INDIA COMPANY and HIS HIGHNESS MAHA RAJAH RUNJEET SING, the Ruler of the Punjab.

By the grace of God, the relations of firm alliance and indissoluble ties of friendship existing between the Honorable the East India Company and His Highness the Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing, founded on the auspicious Treaty formerly concluded by Sir C. T. Metcalfe, Baronet, and since confirmed in the written pledge of sincere amity presented by the Right Honorable Lord W. C. Bentinck, G. C. B. and G. C. H., Governor-General of British India, at the meeting at Rooper, are like the sun, clear and manifest to the whole world, and will continue unimpaired and increasing in strength from generation to generation. By virtue of these firmly established bonds of friendship, since the opening of the navigation of the Rivers Indus Proper (i. e., Indus below the confluence of the Punjnad) and Sutlej, a measure deemed expedient by both States, with a view to promote the general interests of commerce, has lately been effected through the agency of Captain C. M. Wade, Political Agent at Loodianah, deputed by the Right Honorable the Governor-General for that purpose, the following Articles, explanatory of the conditions by which the said navigation is to be regulated, as concerns the nomination of Officers, the mode of collecting the duties, and the protection of the trade by that route, have been framed, in order that the Officers of the two States employed in their execution may act accordingly.

PUNJAB
No LIX.

ARTICLE 1.

The provision of the existing Treaty relative to the right bank of the River Sutlej and all its stipulations, together with the contents of the friendly pledge already mentioned, shall remain binding, and a strict regard to preserve the relations of friendship between the two States be the ruling principles of action. In accordance with that Treaty the Honorable Company has not nor will have any concern with the right bank of the River Sutlej.

ARTICLE 2.

The tariff which is to be established for the line of navigation in question is intended to apply exclusively to the passage of merchandise by that route, and not to interfere with the transit duties levied on goods proceeding from one bank of the river to the other, nor with the places fixed for their collection. They are to remain as heretofore.

ARTICLE 3.

Merchants frequenting the said route, while within the limits of the Maha Rajah's Government, are required to show a due regard to his authority, as is done by merchants generally, and not to commit any acts offensive to the civil and religious institutions of the Sikhs.

ARTICLE 4.

Any one purposing to go by the said route, will intimate his intention to the Agent of either State, and apply for a passport, agreeably to a form to be laid down; having obtained which he may proceed on his journey. The merchants coming from Amritsur and other parts on the right bank of the River Sutlej, are to intimate their intentions to the Agent of the Maha Rajah at Herreeke, or other appointed places, and obtain a passport through him; and merchants coming from Hindoostan or other parts on the left bank of the River Sutlej will intimate their intentions to the Honorable Company's Agent, and obtain a passport through him. As Foreigners and Hindoostanees and Sirdars of the protected Sikh States and elsewhere are not in the habit of crossing the Sutlej without a passport from the Maha Rajah's officers, it is expected that such persons will hereafter also conform to the same rule, and not cross without the usual passports.

PUNJAB.
No LIX

ARTICLE 5.

A tariff shall be established, exhibiting the rate of duties leviable on each description of merchandize, which, after having been approved by both Governments, is to be the standard by which the Superintendents and Collectors of Customs are to be guided.

ARTICLE 6.

Merchants are invited to adopt the new route with perfect confidence; no one shall be suffered to molest them or unnecessarily to impede their progress; care being taken that they are only detained for the collection of the duties in the manner stipulated at the established stations.

ARTICLE 7.

The officers who are to be entrusted with the examination of the goods and collection of the duties on the part of Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing, shall be stationed at Mithinkot and Herreeke. At no other places, but those two, shall boats in transit on the river be liable to examination or stoppage.

ARTICLE 8.

When the persons in charge of boats stop of their own accord to take in or give out cargo, the goods will be liable to the local transit duty of the Maha Rajah's Government previously to their being embarked, and subsequently to their being landed, as provided in Article 2. PUNJAB.

No LIX.

ARTICLE 9.

The Superintendent stationed at Mithinkot having examined the cargo, will levy the established duty, and grant a passport, with a written account of the cargo and freight. On the arrival of the boat at Herreeke, the Superintendent at that station will compare the passport with the cargo, and whatever goods are found in excess will be liable to the payment of the established duty; while the rest, having already paid duty at Mithinkot, will pass on free.

ARTICLE 10

The same rule will be observed in respect to merchandize conveyed from Herreeke by way of the rivers towards Sindh.

ARTICLE 11.

Whatever may be fixed as the share of duties on the right bank of the River Sutlej in right of the Maha Rajah's own dominions, and of those in allegiance to him, the Maha Rajah's officers will collect it at the places appointed.

ARTICLE 12

With regard to the security and safety of merchants who may adopt this route, the Maha Rajah's officers shall afford them every protection in their power, and merchants on halting for the night on either bank of the Sutlej, are required, with reference to the Treaty of friendship which exists between the two States, to give notice and to show their passports to the thanadar or officers in authority at the place, and request protection for themselves. If, notwithstanding this precaution, loss should at any time occur, a strict inquiry will be made, and reclamation sought from those who are blameable.

ARTICLE 13.

The Articles of the present Treaty for opening the navigation of the rivers above-mentioned, having, agreeably to subsisting relations, been

PUNJAB. approved by the Right Honorable the Governor-General, shall be
No. LX. carried into execution accordingly.

SUPPLEMENTARY TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and MAHA RAJAH RUNJEET SINGH, for establishing a Toll on the Indus, dated 29th November 1834.

In conformity with the subsisting relations of friendship as established and confirmed by former Treaties between the Honorable the East India Company and His Highness Maha Rajah Runjeet Singh, and whereas in the 5th Article of the Treaty concluded at Lahore, on the 26th day of December 1832, it was stipulated that a moderate scale of duties should be fixed by the two Governments in concert, to be levied on all merchandize in transit up and down the Rivers Indus and Sutlej, the said Governments being now of opinion, that, owing to the inexperience of the people of these countries in such matters, the mode of levying duties then proposed (viz., on the value and quantity of goods) could not fail to give rise to mutual misunderstandings and reclamations, have, with a view to prevent these results, determined to substitute a toll, which shall be levied on all boats with whatever merchandize laden; the following Articles have therefore been adopted as supplementary to the former Treaty, and in conformity with them, each Government engages that the toll shall be levied, and its amount neither be increased nor diminished, except by mutual consent.

ARTICLE 1.

A toll of 570 Rupees shall be levied on all boats laden with merchandize in transit on the Rivers Indus and Sutlej, between the sea and Rooper, without reference to their size or to the weight or value of their cargo; the above toll to be divided among the different States, in proportion to the extent of territory which they possess on the banks of these rivers.

ARTICLE 2.

The portion of the above toll appertaining to the Lahore Chief, in right of his territory on both banks of these rivers, as determined in the subjoined scale, shall be levied opposite to Mithinkot on boats coming from the sea towards Rooper, and in the vicinity of Herree-ke-Pettin on boats going from Rooper towards the sea, and at no other place.

ARTICLE 3.

In order to facilitate the realization of the toll due to the different States, as well as for the speedy and satisfactory adjustment of any disputes which may arise connected with the safety of the navigation and the welfare of the trade by the new route, a British Officer will reside opposite to Mithinkot, and a native agent on the part of the British Government opposite to Herree-ke-Pettin. These officers will be subject to the orders of the British Agent at Loodeanah, and the agents who may be appointed to reside at those places on the part of the other States concerned in the navigation, viz., Bhawalpore and Sindh, together with those of Lahore, will co-operate with them in the execution of their duties.

ARTICLE 4.

In order to guard against imposition on the part of merchants in making false complaints of being plundered of property which formed no part of their cargoes, they are required, when taking out their passport, to produce an invoice of their cargo, which being duly authenticated, a copy of it will be annexed to their passports; and wherever their boats may be brought to for the night, they are required to give immediate notice to the thanadars or officers of the place, and to request protection for themselves; at the same time showing the passports they may have received at Mithinkot or Herreeke, as the case may be.

ARTICLE 5.

Such parts of the 5th, 7th, 9th, and 10th Articles of the Treaty of the 26th of December 1832, as have reference to the fixing a duty on the value and quantity of merchandize, and to the mode of its collection, are hereby rescinded, and the foregoing Articles substituted in their place, agreeably to which and the conditions of the preamble the toll will be levied.

Formerly a Treaty was executed by the Right Honorable Lord William Cavendish Bentinck, the Governor-General of India, on the 14th of Poos, Sumbut 1889 (corresponding with A. D. 1832), through Colonel (then Captain) Wade, concerning the navigation of the Sutlej and the Scinde rivers in the Khalsa Territory, in concurrence with the wishes of both the friendly and allied Governments. Another Treaty on the subject was subsequently executed through the same officer, in Sumbut 1891 (corresponding with A. D. 1834), fixing a duty on every mercantile boat, independent of the quantity of its freight, and the nature of its merchandize. A third Treaty was executed on this subject, in accordance with the wishes of both Governments, on the arrival of Mr. Clerk, Agent to the Governor-General, at the Durbar, in May 1839, adjusting the rate of duties on merchandize, according to quantity and kind, and although at the end of that document so much was specified as that the two high powers should after this never propose a rate below (less) than that specified, yet notwithstanding after this, when that gentleman came to the Khalsa Durbar at Amritsur, in Jeth, Sumbut 1897 (corresponding with May 1840), he explained the difficulties and inconvenience which seemed to result to trade under the system proposed last year, in consequence of the obstruction to boats for the purpose of search and the ignorance of traders, and the difficulty of adjusting duties according to the different kinds of articles freighted in the boats, and proposed to revise that system by fixing a scale of duties proportionate to the measurement of boats, and not on the kind of commodities, if this arrangement should be approved of by both Governments. Having reported to his Government the circumstances of the case, he now drew up a Schedule of the rate of duties on the mercantile boats navigating the Rivers Scinde and Sutlej, and forwarded it for the consideration of this friendly Durbar. The Khalsa Government, therefore, with a due regard to the established alliance, having added a few sentences in accordance with the late Treaties, and agreeably to what is already well understood, has signed and sealed the Schedule, and it shall never be at all liable to any contradiction, difference, change or alteration, without the concurrence and concert of both Governments, in consideration of mutual advantages, upon condition it does not interfere with the established custom duties at Amritsur, Lahore, and other inland places, or the other rivers in the Khalsa Territory.

PROCLAMATION by the RIGHT HONORABLE the GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA.

The British Government has ever been on terms of friendship with that of the Punjab

In the year 1809, a Treaty of amity and concord was concluded between the British Government and the late Maha Rajah Runjeet Singh, the conditions of which have always been faithfully observed by the British Government, and were scrupulously fulfilled by the late Maha Rajah

PUNJAB
No. LXIV.

The same friendly relations have been maintained with the successors of Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing by the British Government up to the present time.

Since the death of the late Maha Rajah Shere Sing, the disorganized state of the Lahore Government has made it incumbent on the Governor-General in Council to adopt precautionary measures for the protection of the British Frontier. The nature of these measures and the cause of their adoption were at the time fully explained to the Lahore Durbar.

Notwithstanding the disorganized state of the Lahore Government during the last two years, and many most unfriendly proceedings on the part of the Durbar, the Governor-General in Council has continued to evince his desire to maintain the relations of amity and concord which had so long existed between the two States for the mutual interests and happiness of both. He has shown on every occasion the utmost forbearance from consideration to the helpless state of the infant Maha Rajah Dulleep Singh, whom the British Government had recognized as the successor to the late Maha Rajah Shere Sing.

The Governor-General in Council sincerely desired to see a strong Sikh Government re-established in the Punjab, able to control its army, and to protect its subjects. He had not, up to the present moment, abandoned the hope of seeing that important object effected by the patriotic efforts of the Chiefs and people of that country.

The Sikh Army recently marched from Lahore towards the British Frontier, as it was alleged by the orders of the Durbar, for the purpose of invading the British Territory.

The Governor-General's Agent, by direction of the Governor-General, demanded an explanation of this movement—and no reply being returned within a reasonable time, the demand was repeated. The Governor-General, unwilling to believe in the hostile intentions of the Sikh Government, to which no provocation had been given, refrained from taking any measures which might have a tendency to embarrass the Government of the Maha Rajah, or to induce collision between the two States.

PUNJAB
No LXIV

When no reply was given to the repeated demand for explanation, and while active military preparations were continued at Lahore, the Governor-General considered it necessary to order the advance of troops towards the Frontier to reinforce the Frontier posts.

The Sikh Army has now, without a shadow of provocation, invaded the British Territories

The Governor-General must therefore take measures for effectually protecting the British Provinces—for vindicating the authority of the British Government, and for punishing the violators of Treaties and the disturbers of the public peace

The Governor-General hereby declares the possessions of Maha Rajah Dulleep Sing on the left or British bank of the Sutlege confiscated and annexed to the British Territories.

The Governor-General will respect the existing rights of all jaghiredars, zemindars, and tenants in the said possessions, who, by the course they now pursue, evince their fidelity to the British Government

The Governor-General hereby calls upon all the Chiefs and Sardars in the protected territories to co-operate cordially with the British Government for the punishment of the common enemy, and for the maintenance of order in these States. Those of the Chiefs who show alacrity and fidelity in the discharge of this duty, which they owe to the protecting power, will find their interests promoted thereby, and those who take a contrary course will be treated as enemies to the British Government, and will be punished accordingly.

The inhabitants of all the territories on the left bank of the Sutlege are hereby directed to abide peaceably in their respective villages, where they will receive efficient protection by the British Government. All parties of men found in armed bands, who can give no satisfactory account of their proceedings, will be treated as disturbers of the public peace.

All subjects of the British Government and those who possess estates on both sides the River Sutlege, who, by their faithful adherence to the British Government, may be liable to sustain loss, shall be indemnified and secured in all their just rights and privileges.

On the other hand, all subjects of the British Government, who shall continue in the service of the Lahore State, and who disobey this Proclamation by not immediately returning to their allegiance, will be liable to have their property on this side the Sutlege confiscated, and declared to be aliens and enemies of the British Government. TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the STATE OF LAHORE

The provisions of this Article have no reference to the ferries on that part of the River Sutlej which forms the boundary of Bhawalpore and Lahore respectively.

ARTICLE X.

If the British Government should, at any time, desire to pass troops through the territories of His Highness the Maharajah, for the protection of the British Territories, or those of their Allies, the British Troops shall, on such special occasion, due notice being given, be allowed to pass through the Lahore Territories. In such case the Officers of the Lahore State will afford facilities in providing supplies and boats for the passage of rivers, and the British Government will pay the full price of all such provisions and boats, and will make fair compensation for all private property that may be endamaged. The British Government will, moreover, observe all due consideration to the religious feelings of the inhabitants of those tracts through which the army may pass

CIS-SUTLEJ STATES AND DELHI TERRITORY.

From Reports of Punjab Government and Original Papers in the Foreign Office.

THE establishment of the British Power in the Cis-Sutlej States dates from the Treaty with Runjeet Sing of 25th April 1809, by the 2nd Article of which Runjeet Sing engaged neither to commit nor suffer any encroachments on the possessions or rights of the Chiefs on the left bank of the Sutlej. On 3rd May 1809, a Proclamation (No. LXIX.) was issued, extending the protection of the British Government to the Chiefs of Sirhind and Malwa, without demand of tribute, requiring service in time of war, and defining generally the relation of the Protected States to the British Government. The general scope of the Proclamation of 1809 was to establish the Chiefs in the States they held before they were received under British protection. Relieved of their fear of Runjeet Sing, however, the stronger Chiefs began to encroach on the weaker, and in August 1811 it was found necessary to issue a second Proclamation (No. LXX.), directing the restoration of such usurped estates, and prohibiting such encroachments.

After the first Sikh War, the relations of the British Government with the Chiefs of the Cis-Sutlej States were entirely changed. With exception of nine of the larger States,* all the Chiefs were deprived of their sovereign powers, and in lieu of the military service which they were bound to render they were required to pay a Commutation Tax, fixed at the rate of two annas in the Rupee, or 12½ per cent. on their income. The States of Dyalgurrh and Raikôt have since lapsed to the British Government, and the direct management of Mumôôt has been assumed by Government in consequence of the misconduct of the Chief Of the territory taken under protection in 1809, lands now assessed at Rupees 4,97,485 have lapsed to the British Government from failure of heirs, and lands assessed at Rupees 8,90,477 have been confiscated Out of the territory thus acquired, jaghires worth Rupees 75,961 have been granted.

PUTTIALA.

This is the largest of the Sikh States. The founder of the family emigrated from the Manjha, and carved out a principality for himself about a century ago. The Maharajah belongs to the Jât tribe, but he is a Sikh. The immediate ancestor was Choudhree Phool, who founded a village in the Nabha Territory, called after his name. His two sons, Tiloka and Rama, became founders of a dynasty of Princes. The Maharajah is descended from Rama As Sovereigns, the family have been established in the Cis-Sutlej States about five generations

During the Nipal War the Puttiala Chief aided the British Government with troops, and on the conclusion of the war, Sunnuds (Nos. LXXI. and LXXII.) were granted to him, conferring on him portions of the Keonthul and Bughat States, yielding a reveuue of Rupees 35,000, on payment of two lakhs and eighty thousand Rupees.

In 1830 the hill territory of Simla was obtained from Puttiala in exchange for three villages in Pergunnah Burrowlee. After this, nothing of importance occurred in the relations of the British Government with this Chief, until the winter of 1845-46, when the Khalsah Army invaded the Cis-Sutlej Territories. On that occasion the Maharajah obtained for his services during the campaign the gift of a portion of the territory confiscated from the Rajah of Nabha in consequence of his misconduct.

In 1847, at the request of the Maharajah, a Sunnud (No. LXXIII. was conferred on His Highness, confirming him for ever in his ancient States and those granted by the British Government, with all rights thereto pertaining. The Chief was enjoined to do justice and to promote the welfare of his subjects, while the latter were to consider the Chief their rightful lord and master." The Maharajah on his part relinquished for himself and successors all right to levy excise and transit duties, and engaged to suppress suttee, infanticide, and slave-dealing, to attend in person with his forces should the Cis-Sutlej Territories be invaded by an enemy, while the British Government gave up all claims to tribute, revenue, or commutation in lieu of troops* or otherwise. The Maharajah during this year received an additional grant of territory confiscated from the Lahore Durbar, amounting to Rupees 10,000, in perpetuity, in consideration of his having given up customs and transit duties. It was impressed on the Maharajah that no mutilation would be allowed within his territory.

During the Mutiny of 1857, Maharajah Nurender Sing aided the British Government by furnishing an auxiliary force, which proceeded to Delhi and kept open communication on the Grand Trunk Road. He also sent troops to Gwalior and Dholpoor, and helped the Government with money. For these services he has received from the British Government, besides other rewards, the Narnoul Division of the Jhujur Territory in perpetual sovereignty, yielding a revenue of Rupees 2,00,000 per annum, on condition of political and military service at any time of general danger or disturbance. In addition to this, the British Government has ceded to the Maharajah jurisdiction over Bhudour, and the right of escheats and reversion of lapsed estates therein, together with the annual Commutation Tax, amounting to Rupees 5,265 per annum.

In 1860, a new Sunnud (No. LXXIV.) was given to the Maharajah, under which he and his successors are to exercise sovereign powers over their ancestral and acquired possessions, and all dependents and feudatories of every degree are bound to render obedience. The British Government engaged never to demand any tribute on account of revenue, service, or on any other plea. They also conferred on the Maharajah the right of adoption, in default of direct heirs, but in case of the Chief dying without male issue, and without adopting a successor, nuzzuranahs are to be paid to the British Government. The power of life and death has been conceded to the Maharajah over his own subjects. He is bound to co-operate with the British Forces on an enemy appearing, and to provide carriage and supplies. He is also required to furnish material for railways and communications, on payment, and to grant lands free for stock.

More recently a portion of the Kanoud Pergunnah of the Jhujjur Territory and the Talooqa of Khumaoon were sold to the Maharajah in perpetual sovereignty, in liquidation of debts due to him by the British Government, and in payment of the large interest due on loans. For these transfers a Supplementary Sunnud (No. LXXV.) was granted.

The territories of the Maharajah comprise an area of 5,412 square miles, and contain a population of 1,586,000. The estimated revenue is Rupees 30,00,000. These territories include the ancestral possessions of the Maharajah, and the additional districts granted by the British Government.

Maharajah Nurender Sing was invested, on the 1st November 1861, with the Insignia of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India, and on the 5th March 1862, the right of adoption conferred by Sunnud of the 5th May 1860, was confirmed (No. LXXVI.) The Maharajah died suddenly on 14th November 1862. His son and successor is twelve years of age.

The Maharajah furnishes a Contingent of 100 Horse for general duty. He is entitled to a salute of seventeen guns.

JHEEND.

The Chief of this State belongs to the same clan as the Maharaja of Puttiala, and is descended from the same common ancestor. Like the Maharajah, he is also a Sikh. The family have been established as Sovereigns about a century. The Rajah and his ancestors have always been most steady adherents of the British Government. Among the foremost and most sincere of those who proffered their allegiance to the British Government, after the overthrow of the Mahrattas, was Bhag Sing, then Chief of Jheend. The good offices of this Chief were not unimportant in the negotiations which followed the advance of Lord Lake in pursuit of Holkar to the banks of the Beas. Bhag Sing was the maternal uncle of Runjeet Sing of Lahore. Lord Lake confirmed to the Rajah the grants of land he held under the Emperor of Delhi, or under Scindia, and as a special reward conferred on him in addition Khurkondah and Bhawancee, each worth about Rupees 25,000 annually. The Rajah also received jointly with Bhaee Lal Sing

Kaithul the grant of Bursut Fureedpore, in Paneeput, worth about Rupees 70,000. These grants were, however, for life only, and have many years ago lapsed to the British Government. After the Sutlej Campaign, the Governor-General bestowed a grant of lands, not exceeding Rupees 3,000 a year, on the Rajah of Jheend, as a mark of satisfaction with his conduct.

In 1847 the Chief of Jheend received a Sunnud (No. LXXVII.) from the British Government, similar to that given to the Maharajah of Puttiala. During this year the Rajah received an additional grant of land confiscated from the Lahore Government, yielding Rupees 1,000 per annum, in perpetuity, in consideration of his having abolished customs and transit duties.

In 1857 the Rajah of Jheend was the first person who marched against the mutineers at Delhi. His troops acted as the vanguard of the army. He remained in the British Camp before Delhi until the re-occupation of the city, and a portion of his troops also took part in the assault. For these services he received a grant of additional territory, yielding Rupees 1,16,813 per annum, on condition of fidelity and political and military service in time of difficulty and danger.

In 1860 the Rajah received a new Sunnud (No. LXXVIII.), similar to that given to the Maharajah of Puttiala, including the privilege of adoption, which privilege was specially confirmed by another Sunnud (No. LXXIX.) By a subsequent Sunnud (No. LXXX.) the Rajah was allowed to purchase a portion of the Kanoud Tuhseel of the Jhujjur Territory, on payment of nuzzuranah.

The Rajah supplies a Contingent of 50 Sowars for general duty. He receives a salute of eleven guns.

The Jheend Territory comprises an area of 1,236 square miles, and has a population of 311,000 souls. It consists of the ancient family possessions added to the later grants of the British Government. The estimated revenue is Rupees 4,00,000 per annum. The predecessor of the present Chief, Rajah Sungut Sing, died without issue, and the present Rajah did not succeed to the Chiefship without a struggle. At one time his claims were denied, and the principality was declared an escheat. But eventually his claim, though a collateral, to all the possessions of the family, was by Rajah Gujput Sing, the common ancestor, was admitted. But all subsequent accession of territory acquired by Rajahs Bhag Sing and Sungut Sing, amounting to one-half of the principality, was declared an escheat, so that the present Rajah Suroop Sing does not enjoy the united possessions of his family, but only the first conquests made by his ancestor, Rajah Gujput Sing, added, as above stated, to the later grants of the British Government.

NABHA.

The Chief of Nabha is descended from the same stock as the Rajah of Jheend, but belongs to the elder branch of the family. Nothing important occurred in the relations of the British Government with this State, until the period of the first Sikh War, when Rajah Devindur Sing, then reigning Chief, withheld supplies, and systematically neglected to attend to the requisitions of the Governor-General's Agent. The Chief was deposed, and a pension of Rupees 50,000 per annum assigned to him from the resources of the Nabha State. The Ex-Chief is now residing under surveillance at Lahore. His eldest son was placed in power. All transit duties were abolished, except the customs of the town of Nabha, over which the local officers were to continue to have full authority. One-fourth of the territory, less Rupees 12,200, was confiscated, and a portion was divided equally between the Maharajah of Puttiala and the Rajah of Furreedkôt, in reward for their services. In all domestic affairs the young Rajah was to be independent, during good conduct and good management.

No further changes occurred until 1857. During that year the present Chief, Bhurpore Sing, rendered important services to the British Government, and was rewarded by a grant of lands out of the Jhujjur Territory, yielding a lakh and six thousand Rupees per annum, on condition of political and military service at any time of general danger or disturbance.

On the occasion of the Governor-General's visit to the Punjab, the Rajah received a similar Sunnud (No. LXXXI.) to those given to the Puttiala and Jheend Chiefs, including the right of adoption. A later Sunnud (No. LXXXII.), conferring the right of adoption, was also granted. Subsequently the Rajah was allowed to purchase a portion of the Kanoud Tuhseel of the Jhujjur District, in liquidation of a debt due to him from the British Government, and he received a Supplementary Sunnud (No. LXXXIII.) on this account

The Rajah does not furnish any Contingent for general duty, the value thereof having been included in the portion of the territory of that State adjudged to be confiscated after the Sutlej Campaign. He receives a salute of eleven guns.

The Nabha Territory has an area of 863 square miles, and a population of 276,000 souls, and an estimated revenue of Rupees 4,00,000.

KULSIAH.

This family came originally from Kulsiah, a village in the Manjha. At the time of the extension of the British protection to the Cis-Sutlej States, a copy of the Proclamation issued by Sir D. Ochterlony was not sent to Jodh Sing, then reigning Chief, as his disposition towards the British Government continued doubtful; and it was proposed that, if the Chief continued indifferent to British protection, and determined to unite himself with Runjeet Sing, he should be declared an enemy and dispossessed of his territories. After two months, however, that turbulent Chief followed the example of others, and was assured of protection.

Sirdar Sobha Sing died on the 14th February 1858, and the British Government recognized his son, Luhua Sing, as his heir and successor. He has received a Sunnud (No XVIII.), conferring on him the right of adoption.

The revenue of the Kulsiah State is estimated at Rupees 1,30,000 per annum. It has an area of 155 square miles, and a population of 62,000 souls.

This Chief receives a money payment of Rupees 2,851 per annum from the British Government, as compensation for loss of customs duties abolished. This has been granted in perpetuity.

MALEIR KOTLA.

This family originally came from Cabool. The ancestors of the present Chief occupied positions of trust in the Sirhind Province under the Mogul Emperors, and gradually became independent, as the Mogul Dynasty sank into decay. The family is somewhat older than the Sikh families of Puttiala, Jheend, and Nabha, by which it is surrounded. The Chief of this State joined Lord Lake with his followers, and the protection of the British Government was extended to this principality at the same time as to the other States. The present Chief of the family is Nawab Secunder Ali Khan, who succeeded his father in 1858. He has no issue, but he has been assured by Sunnud (No. LXXXIV.) that any succession to his State, which may be in conformity with Mahomedan law, will be respected. The near relations of the Chief enjoy a share in the family estates, and exercise sovereign powers therein, subject to a general subordination to the Nawab.

This State furnishes a Contingent of 25 Hoiemen for general service, and receives a compensation from Government, amounting to Rupees 2,500 per annum, which has been granted, in perpetuity, on account of customs duties abolished. The Chief receives a salute of nine guns.

Area of Maler Kotla, 165 square miles, population, 46,200 souls; estimated revenue, Rupees 1,00,000.

FURREEDKÔT.

The territory of the Furreedkôt State consists of two portions, viz., Furreedkôt Proper and Kôt-Kupoorah. It is situated to the south-west of the Ferozepore District, and borders to the south-east on Puttiala. It contains an area of 643 square miles; its population is about 51,000 souls, and its revenue probably amounts to Rupees 75,000 per annum. The Chief of this State belongs to the Burar Jât tribe, one of whom, named Bhullun, in the time of the Emperor Akbar, acquired great influence, and laid the foundation of the greatness of his house. His nephew built the Fort of Kôt-Kupoorah, and made himself an independent ruler. Early in the present century, the Kôt-Kupoorah Pergunnah was seized by the Lahore Dewan, Mokum Chund, and on the occasion of the Sikh War in 1846, it was confiscated by the British Government. But in reward for his attachment to the British cause, and for the aid he rendered to the British Forces at Moodkee, during the Sutlej Campaign in 1845-46, the Furreedkôt Chief was raised to the rank of Rajah, and the ancestral estate of Kôt-Kupoorah was conferred on him in jaghire.

In lieu of customs abolished, the British Government agreed to pay to the Rajah the annual sum of Rupees 2,000, and at the same time as there were many rent-free holdings in the Kôt-Kupoorah Estate which would lapse to the British Government, an arrangement was made by which each rent-free holding, as it lapsed, was made over to the Rajah, and a corresponding reduction was made in the amount of compensation for customs.

No Contingents are furnished, and no tribute is paid to the British Government, but the Rajah keeps up a small force of 50 Horse and 100 Foot.

For the Rajah's services during the mutiny, he has been exempted from service of 10 Sowars which he used formerly to furnish. He receives a salute of eleven guns. The right of adoption has been conceded to him by Sunnud (No. XVIII)

Furreedkôt is at present under the political jurisdiction of the Commissioner of the Lahore Division.

MINOR CIS-SUTLEJ CHIEFS.

When the Minor Cis-Sutlej Chiefs were deprived of their sovereign powers, the police management of their estates was assumed by the British Government, all customs duties were abolished without compensation, except in the case of the Nawab of Koonjpoora and the Meer of Kotahar, and the Chiefs were reduced to the rank of ordinary jaghiredais. But in consideration of these great changes, some privileges of person and property were extended to a limited number of the Chiefs for their lives. Cases in which the cause of action had arisen before the 8th June 1849, were declared not to be cognizable by the Civil and Revenue Courts. For criminal offences committed previous to January 1847, the Chiefs were declared amenable only to the Commissioner as Political Agent. For any criminal offence committed since January 1847, the Chiefs were declared exempt from arrest for their lives, and their family houses from police interference, except in capital cases or heinous offences against person and property, for which they were to be responsible only to the Commissioner. For any civil claims presented to the Civil or Revenue Courts, the Chiefs were declared to be exempt from personal arrest, and their dwellings from attachment. The landed estates of such Chiefs being liable to lapse to the British Government in default of male heirs, were declared to be only subject to attachment for rents and profits under decree of Court during the life-time of incumbents. All estates shared between the disfranchised and the Sovereign Chiefs were brought under the civil, revenue, and criminal jurisdiction of the British Government, but exchanges might be effected of such coparcenary tenures.

In 1857 all these Chiefs rendered services to the British Government, and as a reward Government has sanctioned a permanent reduction in twenty-three estates of Rupees 21,416 per annum in the amount payable in commutation for personal service.

More recently thirteen of the more influential Chiefs have been appointed Jaghiredar Magistrates, with jurisdiction over their own estates, and in some instances over contiguous Government villages.

Succession to these Estates is governed by the following rules:—

1st.—That no widow shall succeed.

2nd.—That no descendants in the female line shall inherit.

3rd.—That on failure of a direct male heir, a collateral male heir may succeed, if the common ancestor of the deceased and of the collateral claimant was in possession of the share at or since 1808-9.

The following is a Statement of these Jaghires, showing their Annual Revenue and the amount of Tribute paid to the British Government. Some of them are held by individual Chiefs, others by clans in which the individual shares are sub-divided into very small fractions, and others by retainers and dependents of Chiefs whose families have become extinct.

THE DELHI TERRITORY.

During the rebellion in 1857, when communication between Delhi and Agra and Calcutta was for the most part cut off, the administration of the Delhi and Hissar Territories was assumed by the Chief Commissioner of the Punjab, and after the restoration of peace, these districts were finally put under the control of the Punjab Government. In this territory there were several Chiefs who held the position rather of jaghuedars than of Native Princes. They had been subjects of the Mogul, and after the overthrow of the Mahratta power by Lord Lake, their estates were either confirmed to or conferred on them by the British Government, in most cases as a reward for services rendered. These Chiefs were the Nawabs of Dojana, Loharoo, Patowdee, Jhujjur, Dadree and Bahadoorgurh, and Furrookhnugger and the Rajah of Bullubgurh. The Chiefs of Jhujjur, Bullubgurh, and Furrookhnugger were executed, and their estates were confiscated for rebellion in 1857. The Dadree and Bahadoorgurh Estates were also confiscated, and the Chief was allowed a pension of Rupees 1,000 for his subsistence.

The Bullubgurh Chief held no Sunnud of a hereditary nature from the British Government. The Dadree and Bahadoorgurh Territory originally formed part of Jhujjur, and is included in the Sunnud (No. LXXXV.) granting that State.

Dojana.—The estates of this Afghan family are held on condition of fidelity to the British Government, and military service when required. The original grant was conferred on Abdool Sumnud Khan and his sons for life, by Lord Lake, but on the 4th May 1806 the tenure was made perpetual by a Sunnud of the Governor-General (No. LXXXVI), and several estates in the Huriana Territory were added. The Huriana Estates were afterwards exchanged for the villages of Dojana and Mehana, in Rohtuck. Abdool Sumnud Khan was succeeded in 1825 by his son Doondce Khara, who was succeeded in 1850 by his eldest son, Hussun Ali Khan.

Loharoo.—Ahmed Buksh Khan, the founder of this family, was a vakeel of the Rajah of Ulwur, and for his services in the negotiations between Ulwur and Lord Lake he received Loharoo in perpetuity from the Rajah and the Pergunnah of Ferozepore from Lord Lake, on condition of fidelity and military service (No. LXXXVII.) The original grantee, Ahmed Buksh Khan, died in 1827, and was succeeded by his son Shums-ood-deen Khan, who was executed in 1835 for the murder of Mr. Fraser, the Agent at Delhi. The Ferozepore Pergunnah was confiscated, and the Loharoo Pergunnah was made over to Ameen-ood-deen Khan and Zein-ood-deen Khan, the two brothers of Shums-ood-deen. These two brothers remained in Delhi during the siege in 1857, and after the capture they were put under surveillance, but were eventually released and restored to their position. Ameen-ood-deen Khan manages the estate, while the younger brother receives half the net revenue. The gross revenue is about Rupees 60,000 a year.

Patowdee.—The original grantee, Fyztulub Khan, was brother of the Jhujjur Nawab, Njabut Ali Khan. He was severely wounded in an action with Holkar's troops, and for his services he was granted (No. LXXXV.) the Pergunnah of Patowdee in perpetual jaghire. He died in 1829, and was succeeded by Akbar Ali Khan, who was succeeded on 3rd March 1862 by his son Mahomed Ali Tukkee Khan. The revenue of the estate is about Rupees 45,000.

The Nawabs of Dojana and Patowdee and Nawab Ameen-ood-deen Khan of Loharoo have each received Sunnuds (No. LXXXIV.) assuring them that any succession to their estates which may be legitimate according to Mahomedan law will be recognized and confirmed.

TRANSLATION of an ITILAH-NAMAH, addressed to the CHIEFS of the country of MALWA and SIRHIND, on this side of the River Sutlege, 3rd May 1809

It is clearer than the sun, and better proved than the existence of yesterday, that the detachment of British Troops to this side of the Sutlege was entirely in acquiescence to the application and earnest entreaty of the Chiefs, and originated solely through friendly considerations in the British to preserve the Chiefs in their possessions and independence. A Treaty having been concluded on the 5th April 1809, between Mr Metcalfe on the part of the British Government, and Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing, agreeably to the orders of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, I have the pleasure of publishing, for the satisfaction of the Chiefs of the country of Malwa and Sirhind, the pleasure and resolutions of Government, contained in the seven following Articles :—

ARTICLE 1.

The country of the Chiefs of Malwa and Sirhind having entered under the protection of the British Government, in future it shall be secured from the authority and control of Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing, conformably to the terms of the Treaty.

ARTICLE 2

The country of the Chiefs thus taken under protection shall be exempted from all pecuniary tribute to the British Government.

ARTICLE 3.

The Chiefs shall remain in the exercise of the same rights and authority within their own possessions, which they enjoyed before they were taken under the British protection.

ARTICLE 4.

Whenever a British Force, for purposes connected with the general welfare, shall be judged necessary to march through the country of the said Chiefs, every Chief shall, within his own possession, assist and furnish the British Force, to the full of his power, with supplies of grain and other necessaries which may be demanded.

ARTICLE 5.

Should an enemy approach from any quarter for the purpose of conquering this country, friendship and mutual interest require that the Chiefs join the British Army with their forces, and, exerting themselves in expelling the enemy, act under discipline and obedience.

PROCLAMATION addressed to the SIKH SIRDARS, &c, 22nd August 1811

On the 3rd of May 1809, an Ittala-nameh, comprised of seven Articles, was issued by the orders of the British Government, purporting that the country of the Sirdars of Sirhind and Malwa, having come under their protection, Rajah Runjeet Sing, agreeably to Treaty, had no concern with the possessions of the above Sirdars; that the British Government had no intention of claiming peshcush or nuzzuranah, and that they should continue in the full control and enjoyment of their respective possessions. The publication of the above Ittala-nameh was intended to afford every confidence to the Sirdars, that they had no intention of control, and that those having possession should remain in full and quiet enjoyment thereof.

Whereas several zemindars and other subjects of the Chiefs of this country have preferred complaints to the Officers of the British Government, who, having in view the tenor of the above Ittala-nameli, have not attended, and will not in future pay attention to them ; for instance, on the 15th June 1811, Dellawer Ali Khan, of Samana, complained to the Resident of Delhi against the Officers of Rajah Saheb Sing, for jewels and other property said to have been seized by them, who, in reply observed, "that the cusba of Samana, being in the omal-dery of Rajah Saheb Sing, this complaint should be made to him," and also on the 12th July 1811, Dussownda Sing and Gormook Sing complained to Colonel Ochterlony, Agent to the Governor-General, against Sirdar Churrut Sing, for their shares of property, &c ; and in reply, it was written on the back of the urzee, that "since during the period of three years no claim was preferred against Churrut Sing by any of his brothers, nor even the name of any co-partner mentioned, and since it was advertised in the Ittala-nameli, delivered to the Sirdars, that every Chief should remain in the quiet and full possession of his domains, their petition could not be attended to." The insertion of these answers to complaints is intended as examples, and also, that it may be impressed on the minds of every zemindar and other subjects, that the attainment of justice is to be expected from their respective Chiefs only, that they may not, in the smallest degree, swerve from the observance of subordination. It is therefore highly incumbent upon the Rajahs and other Sirdars on this side of the River Sutlege, that they explain this to their respective subjects and court their confidence, that it may be clear to them that complaints to the Officers of the British Government will be of no avail, and that they consider their respective Sirdars as the source of justice, and that of their free will and accord they observe uniform obedience.

And whereas, according to the first proclamation, it is not the intention of the British Government to interfere in the possessions of the Sirdars of this country, it is nevertheless, for the purpose of ameliorating the condition of the community, particularly necessary to give general information, that several Sirdars have, since the last incursion of Rajah Runjeet Sing, wrested the estates of others, and deprived them of their lawful possessions, and that in the restoration they have used delays until detachments from the British Army have enforced restitution, as in the case of the Ranees of Jeera, the Sikhs of Cholian, the talooks of Karowley and Chehloundy, and village of Cheeba ; and the reason of such delays and evasions can only be attributed to the temporary enjoyment of the revenues, and subjecting the owners to irremediable losses. It is therefore, by order of the British Government, hereby proclaimed, that if any of the Sirdars or others have forcibly taken possession of the estates of others, or otherwise injured the lawful owners, it is necessary that, before the occurrence of any complaint, the proprietor should be satisfied, and by no means to defer the restoration of the property, in which, however, should delays be made, and the interference of the British authority become requisite, the revenues of the estate, from the date of the ejection of the lawful proprietor, together with whatever other losses the inhabitants of that place may sustain from the march of troops, shall, without scruple, be demanded from the offending party, and for disobedience of the present orders, a penalty, according to the circumstances of the case and of the offender, shall be levied, agreeably to the decision of the British Government.

TRANSLATION of the SUNNUD given to HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJAH of PUTTIALLA
by HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Simla, 5th May 1860

Since the establishment of British authority in India, His Highness the present Maharajah of Puttialla and his predecessors have always been steady in their allegiance. They have frequently received rewards for their fidelity in the accession of fresh honors, dignity, and territory. More recently His Highness the present Ruler of Puttialla has surpassed the former achievements of his race by the constancy and courage he evinced during the mutiny of 1857-58. In memory of this unswerving and conspicuous loyalty, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India has conferred additional honors and territory upon the Maharajah for himself and his heirs for ever, and has graciously acceded to His Highness' desire to receive a Sunnud or grant under the hand and seal of the Viceroy, guaranteeing to the Maharajah the free and unreserved possession of his ancient territories, as well as of those tracts bestowed on His Highness and his predecessors at various times by the British Government. It is accordingly ordained as follows.—

Clause I. His Highness the Maharajah and his heirs for ever will exercise full sovereignty over his ancestral and acquired domains according to the annexed list. All the rights, privileges, and prerogatives which His Highness enjoys in his hereditary territories, he will equally enjoy in his acquired territories. All feudatories and dependents of every degree will be bound to render obedience to him throughout his dominions.

Clause II. Except as provided in Clause III., the British Government will never demand from His Highness or any of his successors, or from any of his feudatories, relations, or dependents, any tribute on account of revenue, service, or on any other plea.

Clause III. The British Government cordially desires to see the noble house of Puttialla perpetuated, and in this spirit confers upon His Highness and his heirs for ever, whenever male issue may fail, the right of adopting a successor from among the descendants of the ~~Puttialla~~ ^{Puttialla} keean family. If, however, at any time any Maharajah of Puttialla should die without male issue, and without adopting a successor, it will still be open to the Rajahs of Nabha and Jheend, in concert with the Commissioner or Political Agent of the British Government, to select a successor from among the Phoolkeeân family, but in that case a nuzzuranah or fine equal to one-third of the gross annual revenue of the Puttialla State shall be paid to the British Government.

Clause IV. In 1847 the British Government empowered the Maharajah to inflict capital punishment after reference to the Commissioner. It now removes the restriction imposed by this reference, and invests His Highness with absolute power of life and death over his own subjects. With regard to British subjects committing crime and apprehended in his territory, the Maharajah will be guided by the rules contained in the Despatch of the Honorable Court of Directors to the Madras Government, No. 3, dated 1st June 1836. The Maharajah will exert himself to execute justice and to promote the happiness and welfare of his people. He engages to prohibit suttee, slavery, and female infanticide throughout his territories, and to punish with the utmost rigor those who are found guilty of any of these crimes.

Clause V. The Maharajah will never fail in his loyalty and devotion to the Sovereign of Great Britain.

Clause VI. If any force hostile to the British Government should appear in this neighbourhood, the Maharajah will co-operate with the British Government and oppose the enemy. He will exert himself to the utmost of his resources in providing carriage and supplies for the British Troops, according to requisitions he may receive.

Clause VII. The British Government will not receive any complaints from any of the subjects of the Maharajah, whether maafeedars, jaghiredars, relatives, dependents, servants, or other classes.

Clause VIII. The British Government will respect the household and family arrangements of the Maharajah, and abstain from any interference therein.

Clause IX. His Highness the Maharajah will as heretofore furnish at current rates, through the agency of his own officers, the necessary materials required for the construction of rail-roads, railway stations, and imperial roads and bridges. He will also freely give the land required for the construction of rail-roads and imperial lines of road.

Clause X. The Maharajah and his successors, &c., will always pursue the same course of fidelity and devotion to the British Government, and the Government will always be ready to uphold the honor and dignity of the Maharajah and his house.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNÜD or GRANT of portions of the Pergunnah of Boodwanah, District Jhujjur, bestowed on the RAJAH of JHEEND by His EXCELLENCY EARL CANNING, G C B, Viceroy and Governor-General of India

Whereas the devotion and loyalty of the Rajah of Jheend and of his ancestors have always been conspicuous since Preamble. the establishment of British Supremacy in India, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General, being desirous of marking his high appreciation of these qualities, has been pleased to bestow upon the Rajah portions of Pergunnah Boodwanah, of the District of Jhujjur, containing nineteen villages, according to vernacular list annexed, assessed at a yearly revenue of (eighteen thousand five hundred and twenty Rupees) 18,520 Rupees, and to accept from the Rajah a "nuzzuranah" of (Rupees 3,70,004) three lakhs seventy thousand and four. It is accordingly ordained as follows:—

ARTICLE 1.

The territory above-mentioned is conferred upon the Rajah of Jheend and his heirs for ever.

ARTICLE 2.

The Rajah and his successors will exercise the same rights, privileges, and prerogatives in this newly acquired territory as he at present enjoys in his ancestral possessions, according to the terms of the Sunnud, dated 5th May 1860, and signed by His Excellency Earl Canning, Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

ARTICLE 3.

The Rajah and his successors will continue to maintain the same loyal relations with the British Government, and to fulfil the same obligations, with regard to this newly acquired territory, as were imposed on him by the terms of the Sunnud, dated 5th May 1860, relating to the Rajah's ancestral possessions.

TRANSLATION of the SUNNUD given to the RAJAH OF NABHA by HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Simla, 5th May 1860.

Since the establishment of British Supremacy in India, the present Rajah of Nabha and his ancestor, Rajah Juswant Sing, have given various proofs of their loyalty to the British Government. More recently, the present Chief of Nabha has surpassed the former achievements of his race, by the constancy and courage he evinced during the mutiny of 1857-58. In memory of this unswerving and conspicuous loyalty, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India has conferred additional honors and territory upon the Rajah for himself and his heirs for ever, and has graciously acceded to the Rajah's desire to receive a Sunnud or Grant under the hand and seal of the Viceroy, guaranteeing to the Rajah the free and unreserved possession of his ancestral territories, as well as of those tracts bestowed on the Rajah by the British Government.

Clause 1. The Rajah and his heirs for ever will exercise full sovereignty over his ancestral and acquired dominions, according to the annexed list. All the rights, privileges, and prerogatives which the Rajah enjoys in his hereditary territories, he will equally enjoy in his acquired territories. All feudatories and dependents, of every degree, will be bound to render obedience to him throughout his dominions.

Clause 2. Except as provided in Clause 3, the British Government will never demand from the Rajah, or any of his successors, or any of his feudatories, relations or dependents, any tribute on account of revenue, service, or any other plea.

Clause 3. The British Government cordially desires to see the noble house of Nabha perpetuated, and, in this spirit, confers upon the Rajah and his heirs for ever, whenever male issue may fail, the right of adopting a successor from among the descendants of the Phoolkeean family. If, however, at any time the Rajah of Nabha should die without male issue, and without adopting a successor, it will still be open to the Maharaja of Putialla and the Rajah of Jheend, in concert with the Commissioner or Political Agent of the British Government, to select a successor from among the Phoolkeean family; but in that case a nuzzuranah or fine equal to one-third of the gross annual revenue of the Nabha State shall be paid to the British Government.

Clause 4. In 1847 the British Government empowered the Rajah to inflict capital punishment after reference to the Commissioner. It now removes the restriction imposed by this reference, and invests the Rajah with absolute power of life and death over his own subjects. With regard to British subjects committing crime, and apprehended in his territory, the Rajah will be guided by the rules contained in the Despatch of the Honorable Court of Directors, to the Madras Government, No. 3, dated 1st June 1836. The Rajah will exert himself to execute justice and to promote the happiness and welfare of his people. He engages to prohibit suttee, slavery, and female infanticide throughout his territories, and to punish with the utmost rigor those who are found guilty of any of these crimes.

Clause 5. The Rajah will never fail in his loyalty and devotion to the Sovereign of Great Britain.

Clause 6. If any force hostile to the British Government should appear in this neighborhood, the Rajah will co-operate with the British Government and oppose the enemy. He will exert himself to the utmost of his resources, in providing carriage and supplies for the British troops, according to requisitions he may receive.

Clause 7. The British Government will not receive any complaints from any of the subjects of the Rajah, whether maafeedars, jaghire-dars, relatives, dependents, servants, or other classes.

Clause 8. The British Government will respect the household and family arrangements of the Rajah, and abstain from any interference therein.

Clause 9 The Rajah, as heretofore, will furnish at current rates through the agency of his own officers the necessary materials required for the construction of railroads, railway stations and imperial roads and bridges. Clause 10. The Rajah and his successors, &c, will always pursue the same course of fidelity and devotion to the British Government, and the Government will always be ready to uphold the honor and dignity of the Rajah and his house.

HILL STATES.

Chiefly from a Report by the Deputy Commissioner of Simla.

PREVIOUS to the Nipal War in 1814 the Goorkhas had extended their conquests westwards as far as the Sutlej. By the 5th Article of the Treaty of 1815, the Nipalese renounced all claim to the countries west of the Kali, and the British were left in possession of the whole tract of hills from the Gogra to the Sutlej. Kumaon and the Dehra Doon were annexed to the British dominions, and the rest of the territory, with the exception of Subathoo, Raengurh, Sundoch, and a few other military posts, was restored to the Hill Rajahs from whom it had been conquered by the Nipalese. The Rajahs were brought under the general protection of the British Government, and were placed, with respect to each other, as nearly as possible in the position they occupied before their subjugation.

In 1847 transit duties were abolished throughout these states. A yearly sum of Rupees 13,735 is paid in compensation by Government.

SIRMOOR OR NAHUN.

When the Goorkhas were expelled from the Hills, Kurrum Purgass was the reigning Chief. He was, however, excluded from the succession, on the ground of his notorious profligacy and imbecility, and the Chieftainship was bestowed on his eldest son, Futteh Purgass.

The Sunnud (No. LXXXVIII) to the Rajah is dated 21st September 1815, and confers on him and his heirs in perpetuity his ancient possessions, with exception of the Fort and Pergunnah of Moorree, given to the Mussulman Sirdar of that place for good service against the enemy; the Kearda Doon, which was subsequently, in 1833, restored (No. LXXXIX,) on payment of a nuzzuranah of Rupees 50,000; a tract of hill country to the north of the River Girrie made over to the Rajah of Keonthul; and the Pergunnahs of Jonsar and Bewar, in the Dehra Doon district, annexed to British dominions.

The present Rajah is a young man of nineteen years of age, by name Shumshere Purgass. In recognition of his services during the mutiny, he received a Khillut of Rupees 5,000, and a salute of seven guns. The family is Rajpoot. The revenue of Sirmoor may be estimated at a lakh of Rupees a year. The Rajah maintains a small force of drilled sepoy, numbering 250 men. The population, according to the latest census, amounted to 75,595. The Rajah pays no tribute, but is bound to render feudal service

KUHLOK or BELASPORE.

The Rajah of Kuhlok had estates on both sides of the Sutlej. But the Sunnud (No. XC.) given to Rajah Moher Chund, in 1815, confirmed to him the eastern portion only. A second Sunnud (No. XCI) was granted to Kuhlok in 1847 for the territories pertaining to that state on the right bank of the Sutlej, which had been up to that time subject to the Lahore Durbar. The abolition of transit duties was one of the conditions of this Sunnud, and the Rajah's application for compensation was rejected by the Governor-General, partly on the ground that the Kuhlok State had, by the transfer of its Trans-Sutlej possessions to the British Government, no longer to pay tribute, amounting to about Rupees 4,000, to the Lahore Durbar. The Rajah pays no tribute to the British Government, but is bound to render feudal service.

The name of the present Rajah is Heera Chund, aged twenty-six years. The family is Rajpoot. In acknowledgment of his services during the mutinies of 1857, the Rajah received a dress of honor of Rupees 5,000 value, and a salute of seven guns. The revenue of this state is not less than Rupees 70,000. The population amounts to 66,848.

HINDOR or NALAGURH.

The Chief of Hindor belongs to a Rajpoot family. Rajah Ran Singh was the Chief to whom a Sunnud (No. XCII.) was granted in 1815. With reference to this Sunnud it should be noted that the condition, excepting the half share of Fyzoolapoora, is no longer necessary, a tract of land equivalent to this half share having been transferred to British dominions in the year 1852, with the consent of the Rajah of Hindor and the British authorities.

Another Sunnud (No. XCIII.) was given to the Rajah, conferring on him the Thakoorai of Bunowlee in lieu of the Fort of Maloun, which was retained as a post for British troops. The Fort, however, was restored under a separate Sunnud in 1846 (No. XCIV.)

Rajah Bijeh Singh, son of Rajah Ram Singh, died in 1856, leaving no direct heirs. But in consideration of the eminent services of his father, Government consented to place Mean Uggur Singh, one of the illegitimate sons of Rajah Ram Singh, in power. The payment of Rupees 5,000 a year on account of tribute is required from Uggur Singh under the Sunnud (No. XCV.) conferred on him on 19th January 1860, and the jaghires of his brothers are guaranteed.

The Rajah is fifty-five years of age. The population of Hindor at the last census was 49,678. The revenue amounts to Rupees 60,000.

BUSSAHIR.

The Sunnud (No. XCVI.) granted to Rajah Mohunder Singh of Bussahir, required the payment of Rupees 15,000 a year in tribute. This is the only instance in which tribute, properly so called, was exacted by the British Government on the restoration of their states to the Hill Rajahs. In 1847 the tribute was reduced to Rupees 3,945 as compensation for the abolition of transit duties.

Several Forts, &c., were retained for the location of troops, which have been since restored to Bussahir. Rawaien, on the left bank of the Pahur, was transferred to Keonthul. The Thakoorais of Kote-gurh and Koomharsein were declared independent of Bussahir.

The name of the present Rajah is Shumshere Singh. He is of a Rajpoot family; his age is twenty-two years. Population of Bussahir, 45,025; revenue, Rupees 70,000.

KEONTHUL.

After the Goorkha War a portion of the territory of Keonthul was sold to the Maharajah of Puttiala. In consideration of this, no tribute is paid by the Keonthul Rajah for the remainder of the state, which was restored to him by Sunnud (No. XCVII.) in 1815.

The Rajah holds another Sunnud (No XCVIII.), dated September 1815, conferring on him and his heirs for ever paramount authority over the petty estates of Theog, Koti, Goond, and Khyaree, the Chiefs of which, with their descendants, are bound to regard the Chief of Keonthul as their liege lord, and pay an annual tribute as follows.—Theog, Rupees 500; Koti, Rupees 500; Goond, Rupees 250; Khyaree, Rupees 250.

A third Sunnud (No. XCIX.) was granted to this Chief, conferring Poonur on him and his heirs. It is dated 5th April 1823, though the transfer was authorized in 1816. The reasons given for this measure were the isolated position of Poonur, the turbulent and ferocious character of its inhabitants, the indisposition of the Government to extend its territories in the hills, and a desire to confer a benefit on Keonthul.

The present Chief is Mohindur Singh, aged thirty years, of Rajpoot family. He is bound to render feudal service. In 1858 the father of the present Chief was created a Rajah, and received a dress of honor worth Rupees 1,000 for his services during the mutinies. The revenue of the state is Rupees 30,000, and the population by census 18,083.

BAGHUL.

The Sunnud (No C.) in favor of this Chieftainship is dated 3rd September 1815. The only modification which has occurred in regard to its terms is the commutation of begars, or forced laborers, for an annual tribute of Rupees 3,600, being calculated at the rate of Rupees 3 a man per month.

The name of the present Chief is Kishen Singh, age forty-three. He is the eldest son of Sheosurrun Singh, to whom the Sunnud was granted in 1815. The family is Rajpoot. Revenue, Rupees 35,000; population, 22,305.

JOOBUL.

Originally this Rajpoot State was tributary to Sirmoor, but after the Goorkha War it was made independent, and the Rana Poonu Singh received a Sunnud (No. CI.) from Lord Moira on 18th November 1815.

The Rana misgoverned his state, and in 1832 abdicated in favor of the British Government. He very soon, however, repented the act, and refused the allowance of Rupees 4,400 a year, which was made for his support. After a lengthy correspondence, it was resolved in 1840 to restore the state. In that year, however, the Rana died, and Government decided on restoring the state to his son and heir, Teeka Kurm Chund, in the event of his proving fit to govern it, on attaining his majority. During the minority till 1853 the state was managed by Government. The revenue of the state is Rupees 18,000, and the population, 17,262 souls. The Rana pays Rupees 2,520 tribute, and is bound to render feudal service.

STATES.

BHUJEE.

Rana Roodur Pal received a Sunnud (No. CII) in 1815. In 1842 he abdicated in favor of his son, Runbahadur Singh. The young Rana was installed on 25th April 1844. The quota of begars furnished was commuted (No. CIII.) to an annual payment of Rupees 1,440.

The present Rana is thirty-six years of age. Revenue, Rupees 15,000; population, 9,001.

KOOMHARSEIN.

This state, formerly a feudatory of Bussahir, was declared independent after the Nipal War. The Sunnud (No. CIV.) is dated 7th February 1816, and binds the Chief and his heirs to render feudal service to the British Government. The begars were commuted for an annual payment of Rupees 1,440.

Rana Keher Singh died without heirs in 1839, and in consideration of his early attachment to British interests during the Goorkha campaign, the Governor-General renewed the grant of the Thakoorai in favor of a collateral heir of the family named Preetum Singh, subject to the payment of a higher rate of tribute or commutation tax. Some disturbances, which in the mean time took place, caused a suspension of the above orders; but they were eventually carried into effect on the 23rd June 1840, when a Sunnud was granted to Rana Preetum Singh. The terms of this instrument are, in every respect, the same as those contained in the original grant, with this exception that the tribute is fixed at Rupees 2,000 in lieu of Rupees 1,440.

The present Rana is named Bhowany Singh; age thirty-six Revenue, Rupees 7,000; population, 7,829. The family is Rajpoot of not very high pretensions.

KOTHAR.

The Sunnud (No CV.) of this state bears date the 3rd September 1815, and confirms to Rana Bhoop Singh and his heirs the hereditary possessions of his ancestors, subject to the performance of feuda service, and supplying a contingent of forty begars. This number was subsequently reduced to thirty, and commuted to a payment of Rupees 1,080 per annum.

The present Rana is a youth of eighteen years of age, name Jy Chund. Revenue, Rupees 5,000; population, 3,990. The family is Rajpoot.

DHAMEE.

This old Rajpoot State became independent of Kuhlor after the Goorkha War. A Sunnud (No. CVI.) was granted to Rana Goverdhun Singh, on the 4th September 1815, containing the usual conditions of feudal service, and of supplying forty begars, subsequently commuted to a payment of Rupees 720. In 1858 this sunnud was further reduced to Rupees 360 for the life of the Rana as reward for his services during 1857.

The present Chieftain, Rana Goverdhun Singh, was a child when the Goorkhas were overthrown, and is now fifty years of age. Revenue, Rupees 4,000; population, 2,853.

BUGHAT.

During the Nipal War the conduct of Rana Mohunder Singh has been unfriendly, and, on the restoration of peace, three-fourths of the Bughat State were sold to Puttiala for Rupees 1,30,000. The remaining fourth was granted (No. CVII.) to Rana Mohunder Singh and his heirs. He died without issue on 11th July 1839. The state was treated as a lapse, and pensions to the extent of Rupees 1,282 were assigned to the family.

The state, however, was restored by Lord Ellenborough in 1842 to Bijey Singh, brother of Mohunder Singh. The cantonment of Kussowlee had, in the meantime, been built within the state, and Bijey Singh offered the hill on which it stands to the British Government, but the gift was declined. Bijey Singh died in January 1849. He left no direct heir. The nearest claimant was a cousin, Omeid Singh, and Government again treated the state as a lapse. In 1861, however, Lord Canning procured the restoration of the state to Omeid Singh. Before the Sunnud conferring the grant could be prepared, Omeid Singh died, and his last request was that his son, Duleep Singh, might be allowed to succeed to the Bughat State. In January 1862 a Sunnud (No. CVIII) was issued in favor of Duleep Singh, conferring the state on him and the heirs of his body in perpetuity, subject to specified conditions.

BULSUN.

This state was originally a feudatory of Sirmoor, but a separate Sunnud (No. CIX.) was granted to it in September 1815. The engagement to supply thirty begars was commuted afterwards to an annual payment of Rupees 1,080.

Thakoor Jograj, the present Chief, was created a Rana in 1858, for services rendered during the mutiny. The revenue of the state is Rupees 6,000, and the population, 4,892. The Rana cannot be less than eighty years of age. He is of Rajpoot family.

MYLOG.

The Sunnud (No. CX.) of this Rajpoot State is dated 4th September 1815. It contains the usual conditions. The quota of forty begars was commuted to a payment of Rupees 1,450 per annum.

The present Chief, Thakoor Duleep Chund, is twenty-nine years of age. Revenue, Rupees 8,000; population, 7,358.

BEEJAH.

The Sunnud (No. CXI.) granted to the petty Chief of Beejah is dated 4th September 1815, and is on the usual terms. The number of begars is fixed at five, commuted to an annual payment of Rupees 180.

An allowance of Rupees 100 a year is made to him as compensation for lands required for Kussowlee cantonment.

The present Thakoor, Oodey Chund, is thirty years old. Revenue Rupees 2,000, population, 981.

TUROCH.

At the time Turoch fell under the dominion of the British, Kurrur Singh was the nominal Chief, but on account of his great age and infirmities, his brother, Jhoboo, held the executive administration of the country.

On the death of Thakoor Kurrur Singh, a Sunnud (No. CXII. dated 31st January 1819, under the seal and signature of Captain Ross, Agent to the Governor-General in these Hills, was bestowed on Jhoboo, conferring the Thakoorship of Turoch on him and his heirs subject to the performance of feudal service, and to the furnishing of eight begars, commuted to a payment of Rupees 288 per annum. No superior authority was cited for the above act, nor was the title of Meean Jhoboo questioned till 1838, when Runjeet Singh, his nephew, set up his claims and formed a strong party in his own favour.

A lengthy correspondence ensued, which ended in Jhoboo being compelled to abdicate in favour of his son, Seyam Singh. This arrangement did not long stand, owing to the incompetency of Seyam Singh, and the intrigues set on foot by Jhoboo and Runjeet Singh, and in 1841 it was found necessary to depose Seyam Singh, after which the state was incorporated with Joobul.

Turoch continued under British management until April 1842 when Runjeet Singh's claims were finally acknowledged, and a Sunnud (No. CXIII.), dated 27th June 1843, was furnished to him, conferring the state on him and his heirs for ever, subject to the usual conditions of vassalage, and a payment of Rupees 280 in lieu of begars.

The present Thakoor, Runjeet Singh, is forty-three years of age. Revenue, Rupees 2,500; population, 3,082.

KOONHIAR.

The Sunnud (No. CXIV.) of this Chieftainship is dated 4th September 1815, contains the usual conditions of vassalage, and requires 4 begars, commuted to Rupees 180.

The present Thakoor's name is Kishen Singh; age forty-five.
Revenue, Rupees 3,000; population, 1,906.

MUNGUL.

Mungul was an ancient dependency of Kuhlor, but was declared independent on the expulsion of the Goorkhas. A Sunnud (No. CXV.) was granted in December 1815. This document contains the usual terms; the number of begars being fixed at two, commuted to a payment of Rupees 72 a year.

The Rana Jeit Singh is thirty-eight years of age. Revenue, Rupees 1,000, population, 917.

DURKOTEE.

This petty Chieftainship is held under a Hookmnamah (No CXVI), granted to Sates Ram by Lieutenant Ross, Governor-General's Agent, the terms of which are that he is to pay allegiance to the British Government, and that he is exempted from all pecuniary liability.

The present Chief is sixty-five years of age. Revenue, Rupees 500; population, 612.

The right of adoption has been guaranteed by Sunnud (No. XVIII.) to all the above Hill Chiefs.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted to RAJAH FUTTEH SINGH of NAHUN, dated 21st September 1815

Whereas the Goorkhas have been completely expelled from these districts, and the whole of the hill country has come into the possession of the British Government, wherefore, by order of the Governor-General, this Sunnud is granted to Rajah Futteh Singh, conferring on him and his heirs for ever the lands of Sirmoor, with all the rights and appurtenances belonging thereto.

The Forts of Monnee and Juggutgurb, and Doonkyardah, and the districts of Jounsar and Banwar Moolakee have been disjoined from the Raj of Sirmoor, and taken into the possession of the British Government, and the forts of Khurchuree and Hunur, with the lands attached, on the west of the Kuree Nuddee, have been annexed to the Thakoorae of Keonthul, and the Forts of Ghat and Sulhur on the east of the Kuree Nuddee have been annexed to the Raj of Sirmoor.

It is proper that Futteh Singh, being grateful to the British Government for its favor, should occupy the lands granted to him, and never at any time think of laying claim to the places above enumerated, which have been disjoined from Sirmoor, and annexed partly to the British territories, and partly to the Thakoorae of Keonthul.

Further, he must not appoint a Dewan or Mutsuddees, or do anything in the management of the Raj of Sirmoor, without communicating and consulting with the Officer who will be stationed there on the part of the British Government. He will conform to the above stipulations, and paying strict obedience to the British Government, he will, in case of war, join, when required, the British troops with all his force, and do the part of a true ally. He will also make roads 12 feet broad throughout his territory.

If he shall fail in any of the above obligations (which are again enumerated) or shall encroach on the possessions of others, he will fall under the displeasure of the British Government, and will be dispossessed. He must consider this a valid instrument, and conforming to its conditions, take possession of the lands granted to him, and he must promote the welfare of his ryots, and the extension of cultivation, and distribute justice, and look to the security of the roads, and not exact more from the ryots than their engagements, and, in short, make all people happy and contented.

The ryots on their part will be bound to consider Futteh Singh aforesaid as their rightful lord, and to obey him accordingly.

Whereas the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to bestow on Futteh Pergass, Rajah of Nahun, and on his heirs and successors in perpetuity a grant of the lands, commonly called the Keardadoon, to form part of the Raj of Sirmoor; Be it known unto all, that the aforesaid lands, namely, those of Keardadoon, are given up to Futteh Pergass and his heirs and successors for ever under the following conditions:—

1st.—That Futteh Pergass and those who follow him in possession shall respect the rights of the people, and administer justice with impartiality to all, of whatever class or persuasion.

SUNNUD to RAJAH MAHA CHUND of BELASPORE, dated 6th March 1815

Whereas Rajah Maha Chund of Belaspore has, with sincerity of heart, professed obedience and submission to the British Government, and become a dependent of the Honorable Company, and has cast off all connection with the Goorkha State; Therefore, in conformity with the tenor of the Proclamation issued under the authority of His Excellency the Governor-General, on the 17th of October 1814, the Rajah is hereby confirmed in the possession of the lands of his ancient territory of Kyloor, actually occupied by him on this side of the River Sutledge, subject to the following conditions —He shall never openly or secretly ally himself with the Goorkha State, or with any enemy of the Honorable Company, but remaining steadfast in the path of obedience and submission to the orders of the British Government, shall, at all times, be prepared, with the force which he may have, to render useful service to the British troops, providing supplies of grain and furnishing begais (for the conveyance of burdens), and generally performing whatever may be entrusted to his charge. He shall ever be ready to obey such orders as may be signified to him at the present period, or which may be given to him at any future time, more especially on the occasion of any British Force being sent against an enemy in that quarter, when he shall not fail to discharge to the utmost of his ability the obligations of fidelity and attachment to the British Government. Exclusive of the stipulations above-mentioned, the British Government, in its liberality and favor, will not require from the Rajah any tribute or pecuniary indemnification of any kind. And in the event of a peace between the British Government and the Goorkha State, provided the Rajah shall have rendered faithful service, the British Government engages that nothing contrary to the conditions of protection as affecting the Rajah shall be listened to by the British Government. Moreover, the terms of the replies to the Rajah's requests, bearing the signature of Major-General Ochterlony, and dated on the 18th of February 1815, are approved and ratified by the Governor-General. It becomes the duty of the Rajah, therefore, that being firmly fixed and established in his Raj, he set his mind at rest on that point, and divesting himself of all apprehension, devote his time to the promotion of the happiness and comfort of his subjects, and consider this as a valid Sunnud for his country.

TRANSLATION of PAPER of REQUESTS presented by the AGENTS of RAJAH MAHA CHUND, and answers by MAJOR-GENERAL OCHEERLONY, 18th February 1815

Requests.

1st.—Since I have withdrawn from my connection with the Goorkhas, and attaching myself to the British Government, consider my connection with it the same as my honor and my life, I hope that I shall be continued in possession of my ancient territory, and that it shall be under the protection of the Honorable Company, and that if at any time, when the Goorkhas shall submit to the British Power, they shall propose anything to my disadvantage from a spirit of revenge for my having abandoned their cause, it shall not be listened to.

Answers.

If the Rajah shall have really and truly withdrawn himself from his connection with the Goorkhas, and shall attach himself to the British Government, he shall undoubtedly be confirmed in the possession of his ancient territory of Khyloor, lying on this side of the River Sutledge, agreeably to the terms of the Proclamation which was issued under the authority of the Governor-General, on the 17th of October last, and it shall, in every respect, be considered to be under the protection of the British Government. In the event of peace between the British Government and the Goorkhas no representation of the Goorkhas against the Rajah, at variance with the dues of protection, shall be attended to. But on the subject of guaranteeing the country of Khyloor, a reference shall be made to the Governor-General.

Requests.

2nd.—It is well known that the Forts of Futtehpore, Mundgur, Behadurpoor, and Ruttunpoor, constructed by my ancestors, were held by me; suddenly, however, they were seized by Rajah Ram Surn, who held them for seven months, when I caused them to be restored to me. I hope that in continuing to me my ancient possessions, those Forts will be included therein.

3rd.—With respect to the affair of the twelve Thakoors, although they of old belonged to me, yet owing to my weakness, the Suimoreca Rajah sometimes got possession of them, and sometimes they were held by Rajah Ram Surn. When the Goorkhas came here I was re-established in the possession of the twelve Thakoors. On the return of the Goorkhas from the Fort of Kangra they required that I should assign something out of the twelve Thakoors for the maintenance of the troops. In consideration of my connection with them, and also of my inability to oppose their requisition, nine of the twelve Thakoors were given to them. The Thakoors of Dhamee, Buhjee, and Kotee, are still in my possession. I have stated this merely in the way of information. Otherwise in every respect I am submissive to the pleasure of the British

Answers.

2nd.—I am also acquainted with the fact of the Forts of Futtehpore, Mundgur, Behadurpoor, and Ruttunpoor, being of old dependencies of the country of Khyloor. Provided the Rajah shall withdraw from the Goorkhas, and connect himself with the British Government, they shall remain to him as heretofore.

3rd.—Any proposition by the Rajah regarding the twelve Thakoors is improper, for the real state of the case is very different. Although I must give a positive refusal to this request, for when the time for the settlement of the twelve Thakoors shall come they must be adjudged to the real proprietors, yet should the Rajah render good service to the British Government, and abandon the cause of the Goorkhas, the same consideration which he experienced with respect to one or two of the Thakoors from the Goorkhas may, in my opinion, be also shown to him by the British Government.

Government in this affair, and consider it a happiness to conform to its orders.

4th.—The Goorkhas gave several places to me besides those included in my original possessions. The Major-General is now vested with the same authority which they exercised. As he shall order, so will I consider it as happiness to act. Be pleased now to show me favor, or when I shall have rendered good service to the Government. The Major-General is my friend and patron on the part of the British Government.

4th.—No claim to any places which the Goorkhas gave to the Rajah, besides his ancient territory of Khyloor can be listened to. In conformity with the terms of the Proclamation of the 17th October, no tribute nor pecuniary demand of any kind shall be exacted from the Rajah. In return for all the benefits which the Rajah will enjoy, the British Government only requires that while the war with the Goorkhas shall last, the Rajah shall co-operate with the British Troops, and that in future also, on every occasion of a British Force coming into this quarter to act against an enemy, the Rajah shall be ready to join and to afford every assistance in his power, by providing supplies of grain and discharging all the other obligations of fealty and submission.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granting territories to RAJAH JUGGUT CHUND of KUHLOE (BELASPORE), dated 21st October 1847

Whereas by the Treaty concluded between the British Government and the State of Lahore, on the 9th March 1846, the hill territories came into the possession of the Honorable Company, and whereas Rajah Juggut Chund of Kuhlor has always evinced his obedience and submission to the British Officers, the Government hereby confirms in perpetuity to Rajah Juggut Chund and the heirs male lawfully begotten of his body by his Ranee, the Territory of Kuhlor, with such boundaries as have been in his possession since the commencement of the British rule in the Trans-Sutlej States, with full administrative powers therein. In default of an heir of the above description, the territory, with full powers, will be conferred upon the male heir who may be proved to the British Government to be next of kin to the Rajah. Be it known to the Rajah, that if any of his successors be found incompetent and unable to administer the affairs of the state the British Government reserves to itself the power of removing him and installing another heir next of kin to the Rajah, who may be found entitled to it, and capable of administering the territory. Whoever shall, according to the foregoing terms, succeed the Rajah, will remain in the undisturbed possession of his territory and state, on the conditions which are specified in the Agreement executed by the Rajah, and which are as follows:—

1st.—That he shall abolish all transit duties in his territory, and consider it incumbent upon him to afford protection to the bankers, tradesmen, and dealers in his state.

2nd.—That he shall construct roads not less than 12 feet broad in his state, and repair them when necessary.

3rd.—That on the occasion of a war, he shall, when directed, join the British Army with his own retainers and hill-porters, keep himself in readiness to execute the orders of the Officers of Government, and supply provisions according to his means.

4th.—That all disputes which may take place between the Rajah of Kuhlor and any other Chiefs shall be referred to the British Courts.

5th.—That he shall not alienate or mortgage any portion of his territory without the knowledge and permission of Government.

6th.—That he shall abolish in his territory slave-dealing, suttee, female infanticide, and the practice of burning or drowning lepers, as these practices are opposed to British law, and that he shall issue such strict orders in respect thereof that no one may venture to commit any of the said crimes.

The Rajah shall not encroach beyond the boundaries of his own territory on the territory of another. He shall consider this Sunnud as a ratified document, and use his exertions to fulfil the terms thereof, to promote the welfare of his people, to improve the condition of his country, to adopt measures for the increase of cultivation, to redress grievances, to maintain lawful rights, and to keep the roads secure. He shall not exact money from his subjects, but treat them with kindness, that they may always be thankful to him. It is the duty of the subjects to regard him, and, after him, his successor, as above described, as their sole and lawful lord, to pay without fail the revenue due to him, to remain obedient to him at all times, and to behave themselves well.

BHAWULPORE.

From original papers in the Foreign Office and a Report by the Punjab Government

THE rulers of Bhawulpore assumed independence during the dismemberment of the Dourani Empire, which followed the expulsion of Shah Shuja from Cabool. On the rise of Runjeet Singh, the Nawab Bhawul Khan made several applications to the British Government for an engagement of protection. These, however, were declined, although the result of the Treaties of Lahore, whereby Runjeet Singh was confined to the right bank of the Sutlej, in reality effected his protection.

The first Treaty with Bhawulpore was that of 1833 (No. CXVII), which was negotiated at the same time as the Treaty with Runjeet Singh for regulating traffic on the Indus. It secured the independence of the Nawab within his own Territories, and opened the traffic on the Indus and Sutlej, at a fixed tariff to be levied at Mithenkote and Hureekkee. In 1835, a toll on boats was by Treaty (No. CXVIII.) substituted for a tariff; in 1838 the schedule of tolls was revised (No. CXIX.), and again in 1840 (No. CXX.), and in 1843 the tolls were, by Agreement (No. CXXI.), reduced one-half, and a scale of duties was fixed on merchandize in transit through Bhawulpore by land. In 1847 the Nawab, at the instance of the Resident at Lahore, remitted all duties on boats passing through his territory, and refused to take any compensation. In 1855, when the Scinde postal authorities proposed to establish a camel train through Bhawulpore, the Nawab reduced the duty on goods passing by the land route, and shortly afterwards he consented to revise the ferry rates on the Sutlej, which were formerly a customs duty, and to reduce them to what ought to be remuneration for the labor of crossing passengers and goods over the river.

PORE

When arrangements were made in 1838 for the restoration of Shah Shuja, a Treaty (No. CXXII.) was concluded with the Nawab, by which he placed himself under the supremacy of, and bound himself to act in subordinate co-operation with, the British Government, receiving its protection and being recognized as the absolute ruler of his country. During the Afghan War the Nawab rendered assistance, both in facilitating the passage of troops and furnishing supplies, for which he was rewarded by the grant of the districts of Subzulcote and Bhounj Burra.

In carrying out the provisions of Act XIV. of 1843, it became desirable to extend the British Customs line as far as the Sutlej, and for this purpose, in 1844, the Nawab made over in free gift the strip of land required.

In 1847-48, Bhawul Khan, the Nawab, co-operated heartily in the operations against Mooltan, and was rewarded by the grant of a life pension of a lakh of Rupees per annum, commencing from the date of our assuming the Government of the Punjab.

In 1850 the Nawab proposed to supersede his eldest son and to appoint his third son to be his heir. The Governor-General decided that the Government of India was not called upon to interfere in any way with the selection of a successor by His Highness. When Bhawul Khan died, the heir-select succeeded him, but he was deposed by the eldest son with the aid of the Dacodpootras. In his difficulties, the Nawab solicited the aid of the British Government, but the Governor-General decided that, according to the Treaties with Bhawulpore, the British Government was bound to support the Chief against his external enemies, but was not bound to aid him against intestine commotions. The victorious brother having accepted the Treaty existing between the British Government and the Bhawulpore State, was recognized as Chief of Bhawulpore, and the deposed Nawab, through the mediation of the British Government, obtained asylum in British Territory, and was assigned a cash allowance of 1,600 Rupees per mensem from the Bhawulpore Government, the claim to which Principality he relinquished for ever on the part of himself and his heirs. The Agreement (No. CXXIII.) then executed, was guaranteed by the British Government.

But within a year the ex-Chief violated his Engagement. He addressed the Chief Commissioner of the Punjab, soliciting a re-com-deration of his case, stated that he would never during his life renounce his claim to the Chiefship, and begged permission to proceed to Bhawulpore to recover the Musnud. In consideration of the guarantee of the British Government to cause the observance of the Agreement by both parties, the Governor-General directed the ex-Chief to be placed under strict surveillance. He is in custody in the Fort at Lahore. Only half his allowance is now issued to him, and the other half is deposited in the Lahore Treasury, to be made over to him hereafter, should he deserve it

ARTICLE 12.

When the persons in charge of boats stop of their own accord to take in or give out cargo, the goods will be liable to the local transit duty of the Bhawulpore Government previously to their being embarked and subsequently to their being landed, as provided in Article 8th.

COMPANY and the Government of BHAWULPORE

Whereas in the 6th Article of the Treaty concluded between the Honorable the East India Company and the Bhawulpore Government, dated the 22nd of February 1833, it was stipulated that a moderate scale of duties should be fixed by the two Governments in concert, to be levied on all merchandize in transit up and down the Rivers Indus and Sutlej, the said Governments, being now of opinion that, owing to the inexperience of the people of these countries in such matters, the mode of levying duties then proposed (viz., on the value and quantity of goods), could not fail to give rise to mutual misunderstandings and reclamations, have, with a view to prevent these results, determined to substitute a toll, which shall be levied on all boats with whatever merchandize laden: the following Articles have therefore been adopted as supplementary to the former Treaty, and in conformity with them each Government engages that the toll shall be levied, and its amount neither be increased nor diminished, except with the consent of both parties.

ARTICLE 1.

A toll of 570 Rupees shall be levied on all boats laden with merchandize in transit on the Rivers Indus and Sutlej, between the sea and Rooper, without reference to their size, or to the weight or value of their cargo; the above toll to be divided among the different States in proportion to the extent of territory which they possess on the banks of these rivers.

ARTICLE 2.

The portion of the above toll appertaining to the Bhawulpore State, and amounting to Rupees 106-12-2 $\frac{1}{4}$, shall be levied opposite to Mithenkote on boats coming from the sea towards Rooper, and in the vicinity of Hurreeke Potten on boats going from Rooper towards the sea, and at no other place.

ARTICLE 3.

In order to facilitate the realization of the toll due to the different States, as well as for the speedy and satisfactory adjustment of any and the welfare of the trade by the new route, a British Officer will reside near Mithenkote, and a Native Agent on the part of the British Government in the vicinity of Hureeke Petten. These Officers will be subject to the orders of the British Agent at Loodianah; and the Agents who may be appointed to reside at those places on the part of the other States concerned in the navigation will co-operate with them in the execution of their duties.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government binds itself that the British Officer, who may reside near Mithenkote, shall not engage in trade, and (in conformity with the 4th Article of the former Treaty,) that he shall not interfere in any way with the internal administration of the Bhawulpore Government.

ARTICLE 5.

In order to guard against imposition on the part of merchants in making false complaints of being plundered of property which they never possessed, they are required, when taking out their passports, to produce an invoice of their cargo, which, being duly authenticated, a copy of it will be annexed to their passports.

ARTICLE 6.

Such parts of the 6th, 7th, 11th, 13th, and 14th Articles of the Treaty of the 22nd of February 1833, as have reference to the fixing a duty on the value and quantity of merchandize and to the mode of its collection, are hereby rescinded, and the foregoing Articles substituted in their place, agreeably to which and the conditions of the preamble, the toll shall be levied.

CASHMERE AND THE TRANS-SUTLEJ STATES.

From a Report by the Punjab Government and Original Papers in the Foreign Office.

CASHMERE.

AFTER the close of the Sutlej campaign, the Treaty of Lahore, dated 9th March 1846, left the British Government in possession of the country, hill and plain, between the Rivers Beas and Sutlej and of the hill country between the Beas and the Indus, including the Provinces of Cashmere and Hazara. By the same Treaty the British Government agreed, as a reward to Rajah Golab Sing for his services to the Lahore State towards procuring the restoration of friendly relations, to confer on Golab Sing territories in the hills, to recognize his independence in such territories, and to admit him to a separate Treaty.

Golab Sing began life as a horseman in a troop commanded by Jemadar Khooshal Sing, then the favorite chamberlain of Runjeet Sing. He soon raised himself to an independent command, in which he distinguished himself by making prisoner Agur Khan, Chief of Rajaoree. For this service the principality of Jummoo was conferred on his family. Golab Sing took up his residence in Jummoo, whence nominally in behalf of the Lahore Durbar, but really in his own, he soon extended his authority over his Rajpoot neighbors, and eventually into Ladhak. In the revolutions which preceded the outbreak of the Sutlej war he was elected minister of the Khalsa, and he took an important part in the negotiations which followed the battle of Sobraon.

The separate Treaty (No CXXIV.) was concluded with him at Umritsur on 16th March 1846. This Treaty put him in possession of all the hill country and its dependencies between the Indus and the Ravee, including Chumba and excluding Lahoul, on payment of 75 lakhs of Rupees, required him to refer disputes with neighboring States to the arbitration of the British Government, to assist with his whole force the British troops when engaged in the hills, and defined generally his relations of dependence on the British Government. Of the seventy-two pergunnahs comprised in the Chumba Territory after the first Seikh campaign in 1845-46, thirty-two pergunnahs were Cis-Ravee, and forty Trans-Ravee. In exchange for the Cis-Ravee portion of Chumba the British Government gave to the Maharajah Golab Sing the Talooka of Lukhimpore at the foot of the Hills Trans-Ravee, the revenue of which was Rupees 14,400 a year. The Ravee thus became the British boundary in the hills

LEJ STATES.

The tribute due from the Chumba Rajah to the British Government and Maharajah Golab Sing was calculated at Rupees 15,000 annually, of which one-half would be payable to the British Government for the Cis-Ravee portion. Of the military contingent formerly taken by the Jummoo chief, one-half was henceforth to be supplied to the British Government.

During the progress of these negotiations, a question arose regarding the right to a tract of mountainous country called Budrawar, the Chumba Rajah claiming it in virtue of a grant from Maharajah Runjeet Sing, dated A. D. 1820, and the Jummoo chief pleading conquest and a possession of fourteen or fifteen years. The Seikhs had, during the time of Rajah Heera Sing, seized Budrawar from the Chumba chief, and it was a portion of the territory made over to the British Government by Article 4 of the Lahore Treaty of the 9th March 1846, and transferred to Golab Sing by the Treaty of Umritsur.

In 1847 an arrangement was made with the Maharajah Golab Sing, by which he relinquished all claims on Chumba on both sides of the Ravee, in consideration of Budrawar being declared his, and the Lukhimpore Talooka being confirmed to him. Thus Chumba came again entirely under the British Government. No special agreement was executed.

Since the conclusion of the Treaty of Umritsur, the intercourse of the British Government with Cashmere has been of an ordinary character. In 1857 Maharajah Golab Sing died, and was succeeded by his son, Runbeer Sing. The right of adoption has been guaranteed to the Maharajah by Sunnud (No. CXXV) On 1st November 1861, the Maharajah was invested with the Insignia of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India.

KUPPOORTHULLA.

The Chief of Kuppoorthulla at one time held possessions both Cis and Trans-Sutlej, and also in the Baree Doab. The scattered possessions in the Baree Doab were gained by the sword and were the first acquisitions made by Sirdar Jussa Sing, the founder of the family. In them lies the village of Aloo, whence the family spring, and from which the style of "Aloowalia" is derived. The Trans-Sutlej estates were also acquired by conquest, and from the chief city therein, Kuppoorthulla, the family derives its general designation. Of the Cis-Sutlej possessions, some were conquered, and some were granted by Maharajah Runjeet Sing prior to September 1808. The total value of the Cis-Sutlej possessions was estimated at Rs 5,65,000.

By the Treaty of the 25th April 1809, the Sirdar of Kuppoorthulla was pledged to furnish supplies to British Troops moving through or cantoned in his Cis-Sutlej Territory; and by Article 5 of the Declaration of the 6th May 1809, he was bound to join the British standard with his followers during war.

In 1826 the Sirdar, Futteh Sing, fled to the Cis-Sutlej States for the protection of the British Government against the aggressions of Runjeet Sing, and protection was accorded. It was declared that the Aloowalia chief was under British protection in respect to his ancestral possessions east of the Sutlej, but dependent on Lahore for places conferred by the Lahore Government prior to September 1808, viz., Bussee, Narainguh, and Jugraon. The protection of the British Government, however, extended over both.

In the first Sikh war the troops of Kuppoorthulla fought against the British at Aleewal, and, in consequence of these hostilities and of the failure of the Sirdar to furnish supplies from his Cis-Sutlej estates to the British army, the Cis-Sutlej estates were confiscated. When the Jullunder Doab came under the dominion of the British Government in 1846, the Trans-Sutlej possessions of the Aloowalia Sirdar were maintained in his independent possession, conditional on his paying the British Government a commutation in cash of the service engagements by which he had previously been bound to the Government of Lahore. The value of the Jullunder estates was estimated at Rupees 5,77,763. The conditions of the confirmation were in favor of the Sirdar and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, on condition of good conduct and good management, that no customs or duties of any kind be levied, and that he make and keep in repair the high roads through his lands.

LEJ STATES.

The commutation for military service in the Jullunder Doab was fixed at Rupees 1,38,000, but subsequently a reduction of Rupees 7,000 was made from this on account of the Noormehal jaghire, which was included with the Kuppoothulla territory when first calculating the tribute due by the Rajah, but which was afterwards declared to be distinct therefrom. The Baree Doab estates, estimated to yield Rupees 25,270, but which have since been assessed at Rupees 16,742, were released to the Sirdar Nihal Sing on a life tenure, and subject to British jurisdiction.

In 1849 Sirdar Nihal Sing was created a Rajah. He died in September 1852, and was succeeded by his son, Rundheer Sing, the present Rajah. During the mutiny of 1857, and subsequently in Oudh in 1858, the Rajah Rundheer Sing rendered service to the British Government. In recognition of his services performed at that time in the Jullunder Doab, the Government, among other rewards, remitted a year's tribute, and permanently reduced the tribute by Rupees 25,000.- The Rajah, however, requested that the hereditary jaghire in the Baree Doab, which had been resumed on the death of Rajah Nihal Sing in 1852, though of less present value, might be restored to him in lieu of the remission of tribute. This request was complied with, and the jaghire was released to the Rajah in perpetuity, the civil and police jurisdiction remaining in the hands of the British authorities. The tribute payable by the Rajah accordingly stands at its former amount, viz., Rupees 1,31,000.

For his services in Oudh the Rajah received the estates of Boundee and Bithowlee in perpetuity, with remission of half the revenue (No. CXXVI.)

By a Sunnud (No. CXXVII.) the Rajah has been guaranteed the right of adoption.

If under any of the Rajahs misgovernment should exist, the Government may depose that Rajah, and place on the throne any other of the family.

In 1854, the Sanatarium of Dalhousie, in the Chumba Territory, was made over to Government by the Rajah, the stipulation being that Rupees 2,000 should be remitted from the yearly tribute, which now stands at Rupees 10,000

PESHAWUR FRONTIER.

From a Report by the Commissioner of the Peshawur Division.

MOMUNDS.

THE Momunds are a large tribe occupying the hilly country on the north-west border of the Peshawur valley, adjoining Bajour and Koonur to the north, and the district of Ningrehar to the west, the southern boundary being formed by the Cabul River. They own allegiance to the Ameer of Cabul, from whom their chiefs receive cash allowances, and the revenue of certain districts in the direction of Jelalabad, amounting to about Rupees 60,000 per annum. The tribe numbers 17,000 men, and is divided into six clans. Owing to the direct influence exercised by the Ameer over the Momunds, it was chiefly through this tribe that he endeavored, after the annexation of the Punjab, to harass our border. The chief, Saadut Khan, was also personally inimical to us, because, during our brief connexion with the affairs of Afghanistan in 1841, he had been superseded in the chiefship by his cousin, Torabaz Khan, who was unable to maintain his ground after the British had left the country. The tribe possessed peculiar facilities for causing annoyance, as two of the roads leading to Afghanistan pass through their territories.

Three of the clans border on our districts, the Turrukzai, Haleemzai, and Pindiali Momunds, and all three were in the enjoyment of certain villages within the Peshawur district, of the collective value of Rupees 10,000 per annum, and thus owned joint allegiance to the British Government and the Ameer. In 1850 and 1851 their raids and robberies were frequent. Large bodies of them entered the plain by night and destroyed our villages, massacring the people or carrying them off to the hills till ransomed by their friends. The grazing lands of our villages lie immediately under the Momund hills, and at last scarcely a day passed without some of the cattle being carried off

The district was becoming disorganized, and in October 1851 Sir Colin Campbell (Lord Clyde), who was then commanding at Peshawur, received the orders of Government to proceed against the tribe. He took the field with a considerable force, and attacked the Turrukzai (or Michni) and the Haleemzai clans. The whole tribe opposed themselves to him under Saadut Khan, and operations continued for three months. During that time their villages immediately on the border were destroyed, their towers blown up, and, in the several skirmishes which occurred, many of their men were slain. The tribe became disheartened; and when the Fort of Michni had been completed and garrisoned, and police posts had been placed along the border, with towers of communication, the troops were withdrawn. Scarcely had this been done when, in April 1852, the tribe determined to make another combined effort. They were attacked and completely routed by Sir Colin Campbell, and from that day the tribe never appeared against us in a body, and left the three clans on our border to make their own arrangements.

The Haleemzai under their chief, Ahmed Shere, at once tendered their submission, and entered into terms of Agreement (No. CXXXII.) They were allowed to re-settle on payment of an annual tribute of Rupees 200, and on condition of loyalty and good service. To these terms they have adhered with singular steadfastness, and in 1857 they were so useful to the local authorities, that Ahmed Shere received an annual grant in acknowledgment of their services.

The Turrukzai Mowunds did not at once succumb, but opposed to the utmost of their power the building of the Fort which was to hold them in check. Finding, however, that the other clans rendered them no assistance, and that the feud was more injurious to themselves than to us, they also submitted, and were allowed to re-settle on payment of an annual tribute of Rupees 600. Their chief, Rahmdad, was a crafty and restless man, and incited by him they again commenced a series of lawless acts, and finally the greater portion of them left their villages in British Territory and went to their hills in open feud in August 1854. A force was dispatched against them under Sir Sydney Cotton, who attacked them by a movement on both sides of the Cabul River, and destroyed their principal villages of Shah Moolah Khail and Sadun. Their losses on the occasion were severe, and the lesson was final. They submitted unconditionally, and those who had thrown off their allegiance were only allowed to re-settle on payment of revenue assessed upon their lands, amounting to Rupees 3,000 per annum. Those who had remained loyal continued as before to hold their lands rent-free, on payment of their share of the tribute. No written agreements were entered into, but these arrangements have been successful, and the clans have continued as good subjects as any in the valley.

The Pindiali clan long continued at feud with us, but at last, worn out by a ten years' struggle and blockade, they sued for pardon and for peace; and in November 1860, their chief, Nawab Khan, submitted unconditionally, and was pardoned on making restitution to our subjects for stolen property, and paying compensation for other injuries caused by his clan.

RANEZAI.

The troops were still in the field after the defeat of the Momunds, when intelligence was received of a bold act of atrocity in another part of the district.

The large village of Tunzi, on the Swat River, was the residence of a powerful chief named Ajoon Khan, a young man of a restless, proud, and bigotted character. A large part of the village was held by him rent-free, but he desired the whole of it, and exemption from personal attendance at our courts, and from the interference of our revenue and police officials in his village.

Finding that these demands were not likely to be complied with, he adopted the course, not unfrequent during the Douranee and Sikh rule, of removing to the hills, calling around him a band of adventurers, and heading them in acts of aggression upon British villages, in the hope that the Government would be induced to yield to such pressure and grant him the privilege he sought. He took up his quarters in the Otmarkhail villages to the north of the district, and received in jaghire several villages on the border from the Syud King of Swat, who was himself anticipating the advent of the British, and willingly received such fugitives, locating them on his border to act as an advance guard. Several of our Khans had in this manner fled to him and been provided for. The villages assigned to them were separated from British Territory by the independent district of the 'Ranezai'.

clan, an open valley in the north-east corner of Eusafzai, through which these malcontents were in the habit of passing in their forays to British villages. PESHAWUR
FRONTIER

A detachment of the Guides had shortly before been attacked at Goojur Gurhee by one of these bands under the fugitive Mokurum Khan. On the night of the 20th April 1852, Ajoon Khan, with a band of 200 horsemen, attacked the large village of Charsudda, which was the head-quarters of the Hushtnuggur Tehsil. The Tehsildar, himself a Syud, was murdered and cut to pieces, several other officials were similarly treated, and the Tehsil treasury was plundered. The whole of the Hushtnuggur district was thrown into alarm and confusion. In all these acts the chief support of the rebels was the Syud King of Swat, and the aiders and abettors were the tribes of Otmankhail and Ranezai.

For the signal chastisement of these tribes a force of 5,000 men was collected near Tungi, on the Swat River, and Sir Colin Campbell proceeded in May against the Otmankhail, who number 3,000 matchlocks. They offered considerable resistance, but they were finally driven from their strongholds with much loss, and their chief villages of Pranghar and Nawadum were completely destroyed. The force passed on into Ranezai and captured the leading men of the tribe.

No agreement was entered into at that time with the Otmankhail, but their defeat at Pranghar convinced them of their inability to cope with us, and they have never since offended. The Ranezai chiefs shortly afterwards submitted, and wished to become British subjects. This was not acceded to, but they were allowed by Colonel Mackeson, then Commissioner of Peshawur, to re-settle on terms (No. CXXXIII.), to which they have since steadfastly adhered. At the same time a fort was constructed at Abozai, on the Swat River, to check these tribes. The result of the expedition was to restore order and security to the Hushtnuggur district, and to put a stop to the flight of chiefs and mulliks.

HUSSUN KHAIL AND ASHU KHAIL.

There are two principal Passes leading from Peshawur to Kohat, the Kohat Pass and the Jowakih Pass. The latter is occupied by the Jowakih clan of Afreedees, but in the hills leading to it on the

FRONTIER.

Peshawur side are the Hussun Khail villages of Janakhor and Koose. Between these two Passes the hills are occupied by the Ashu Khail. All the above are sub-divisions of the Adam Khail tribe. The Jowakih village of Boree had, throughout the Sikh rule, been notorious as the residence of freebooters, who plundered on the Attock road. After annexation its notoriety increased, and being strongly located in the mouth of the Pass, criminals from the Peshawur and Rawul Pindie districts found an asylum there, and made it the point from which they started on their marauding expeditions. It was therefore found necessary to proceed against the place in force. Sir John Lawrence, then Chief Commissioner, accompanied the expedition, and the troops encamped in the plain between the two Passes. During the investigation which ensued, it appeared that the Hussun Khail and Ashu Khail were powerless against the Jowakih clan, but in the presence of the British Force they were enabled to separate themselves, and entered into an Agreement on their own parts on the 15th November 1853 (No CXXXIV.) The Hussun Khail number 900 matchlocks, and the Ashu Khail 800. They have faithfully adhered to their Engagements since.

JOWAKIHS OF BOREE.

The force then proceeded to attack the Jowakihs in their stronghold of Boree. The operations were difficult, and, owing to the nature of the ground, our loss was severe; but the village and all its towers were destroyed, and the Jowakihs were driven from all the positions which they had occupied. The destruction of Boree had the desired effect, and in two months the chief submitted, and entered into an Agreement on the 14th January 1854 (No. CXXXV.), engaging to abstain from raids themselves, and to eject within two months all the fugitive freebooters with them. These Engagements have been strictly fulfilled by them.

The Jowakihs number 1,000 matchlocks. Subsequently to these proceedings Fort Mackeson was constructed in the plain between the two Passes, and the police post of Shumsnuttoo to command the entrance to the Jowakih Pass, with patrolling roads and connecting towers.

KOHAT PASS AFREEDDEES.

FRONTIER

This Pass is occupied by the Gulla section of the Adam Khail tribe of Afreedees, except the village of Akhar, at the Peshawur entrance, which belongs to the Hussun Khail section of the same tribe. They number 1,200 matchlocks. The defile extends from near Eymul Chabootra, in the Peshawur plain, for a distance of about 12 miles. The road then winds over a mountain, the crest of which forms the boundary between the Gulla Afreedees and the Bungushes who occupy the Kohat valley. From this crest to Kohat is a distance of about 7 miles, the greater part of which is a descent through mountain gorges unoccupied by any tribe.

Soon after annexation, the Afreedees of this Pass began to be troublesome, and were incited to lawless acts by emissaries of the Cabul Government. Their suspicions were also aroused by the construction of a road from Kohat towards the fastnesses, and there was also discontent regarding the salt regulations at the Trans-Indus mines.

On the 2nd February 1850 a party of Sappers, engaged on the above road about 3 miles from Kohat, was attacked by the Afreedees, and nearly all were killed or wounded. The Commander-in-Chief, Sir Charles Napier, was at Peshawur, and he issued orders for the forcing of the Pass, with the double object of strengthening Kohat and punishing the Afreedees. This was accomplished between the 10th and 13th February with some loss to ourselves. The villages in the Pass were partially destroyed, and a Regiment of Cavalry and one of Infantry were left at Kohat.

In April hostilities were renewed, and a Company of Infantry from Kohat was placed in a post on the crest of the mountain. The post was soon found to be untenable, and the detachment was withdrawn. It was then resolved to try the effect of a blockade, and the Afreedees were debarred from all ingress or dealings with the Peshawur or Kohat valleys.

In April 1849 the Afreedees of the Pass had agreed to keep open the communication for a sum of Rupees 5,700 per annum, 3,000 of which was to be paid to the mulliks, and 2,700 to be paid to forty-five men, to be placed at certain posts in the Pass. This agreement was of course made void by the above proceedings, and after the blockade had been enforced, the Deputy Commissioner of Peshawur made a similar agreement with the mulliks of the Jowakih Pass. This, combined with the pressure caused by the blockade, induced the Gulla Afreedees to sue for the old terms, which were granted them. The fulfilment of these was entrusted to Rahmut Khan, chief of the Orukzai clan, who received Rupees 2,000 per annum for the duty, and was directed to locate on the crest of the mountain 100 men of his tribe to be paid at the rate of Rupees 5 a month each. The total cost of this arrangement was therefore as follows:

Allowance to Mulliks of the Pass	...	Rs.	3,000
„ Watchmen „ „	...	„	2,700
„ Rahmut Khan	...	„	2,000
Detachment of Orukzai	...	„	6,000
<hr/>
Total,			Rs. 13,700

This arrangement continued till the close of 1853, when the continued misconduct of the Afreedees necessitated a change. The Deputy Commissioner of Kohat proposed that the Bungushes should be entrusted with the road from Kohat to the crest of the mountain, and the Gulla Afreedees with their own defile only. This was stoutly opposed by the latter, who claimed the crest of the mountain as their own. The Bungushes advanced to take possession of it, but were driven back, and evinced their inability to cope with the Afreedees. At this time the force which had destroyed Boree was encamped in the neighborhood, and it was arranged that a simultaneous movement should be made against the Pass from both sides. Perceiving their danger, the Gulla Afreedees submitted and withdrew their claim to the crest of the mountain, leaving it to the Government to make what arrangements they pleased for the road. Accordingly, on the 1st December 1853, they entered into an Agreement (No. CXXXVI.) to maintain the Pass on the old terms, from Eymul Chabootra on the Peshawur side to the foot of the mountain. They also relinquished Rupees 300 of the allowance to the mulliks in favor of the Bussi Khail, a clan occupying the hills close to the entrance of the Pass. The cost of this arrangement, which holds good to the present day, is as follows :—

BEZOTEE AND FEROZE KHAIL.

It remained to arrange for the security of the road from the crest of the mountains to Kohat. By the arrangement of November 1850 this had been entrusted to Rahmut Khan and the Orukzai at a cost of Rupees 8,000 per annum. The Bungushes having failed to make good their position against the Afreedees, called to their aid certain neighboring tribes, to whom they assigned portions of the allowance, retaining for themselves Rupees 3,000. Of these tribes the Feroze Khail and Bezotee clans of the Orukzai were the chief. One tower on the crest was assigned to them, and they were to receive Rupees 2,000. The Agreement is No CXXXVII. They number 1,500 men.

JOWAKIH AFREEDDEES.

The Jowakih Afreedees, who number 1,100 men, also received Rupees 2,000 for the maintenance of another tower on the crest. The Agreement with them is dated 3rd December 1853 (No. CXXXVIII.)

A similar Agreement (No. CXXXIX.) was made with the Sipah tribe of Orukzai, who number 300 men. A third tower was assigned to them, and an allowance of Rupees 500. Bahadur Shere Khan, the Bungush chief, was placed in charge of the whole of the Pass arrangements on Rupees 1,200 per annum.

It will thus be seen that the entire cost of the Pass is as follows :—

Allowance to Gulla Afreedees	Rs.	5,400

„ Bezotee and Feroze Khail	„	2,000
„ Jowakih Afreedees	„	2,000

PESHAWAR

. RABIAH KHAIL.

This tribe occupies the hills north of Hungoo, in the Kohat district, and numbers about 600 men. They are a clan of the powerful Orukzai tribe. After the annexation of the Meerunzai valley, the Orukzais combined to threaten our border. Numerous raids were committed by them, and in 1855, the Rabiah Khail attacked and plundered the British village of Shahoo Khail. A force proceeded against them under Brigadier General Chamberlain, and on the 1st September 1855 successfully carried their positions on the Sumana range, inflicting considerable loss on the tribe. They immediately submitted; and on the 20th September 1855 entered into an Engagement (No. CXL.) for future good conduct, to which they have since adhered.

AKA KHAIL.

This is a large Afreedee tribe, numbering 1,500 men, whose summer residence is in the Teerah mountains, but they migrate in the winter to the Hills bordering on the Peshawur district, between the Kohat Pass and the Bara River, where they dwell in caves, grazing their cattle in the plain. They had frequently committed cattle thefts and robberies near the Kohat Pass, but the tribe was not considered so hostile as others. In the autumn of 1854, when Lieutenant Hamilton, District Engineer, was encamped at Badabair, engaged in completing the Kohat and Peshawur road, a large body of about 800 men of the Aka Khail came down a ravine from the hills, and silently surrounding the camp, suddenly lit torches and attacked it. The sleeping inmates were nearly all slain. Lieutenant Hamilton was wounded. The camp was plundered, and the tents fired. A small force at once took the field under Colonel Cragie, and entering the Aka Khail hills, inflicted as much injury as it could on the tribe. At the same time they were effectually blockaded, which was a source of still greater injury to them, as they were dependent on Peshawur for their support during the winter by the sale of firewood. Troops remained in front of them, and many of their cattle and people fell into our hands or were killed in skirmishes. They did not, however, submit that season, and returned as usual in the spring to their summer settlements in Teerah. In the autumn of 1855, when they were about to migrate, steps were taken to continue the blockade, and finding themselves exposed to this they sued for peace finally consenting to pay a fine of Rupees 2,670, to abstain from plunder in British Territory, and to give hostages for their future good conduct. An Agreement to this effect (No. CXLI.) was entered into with them on the 11th January 1856. PESHAWUR FRONTIER.

KOOKEE KHAIL.

This is one of the principal tribes of the Khyber, numbering 6,000 men. They occupy the Pass of that name as far as Ali Musjid, and receive a cash allowance from Ameer Dost Mahomed, to whom they own a nominal allegiance. They have been, since annexation, more notorious for harbouring criminals and refugees than for direct acts of aggression, and as they derive their means of subsistence chiefly from the sale of firewood in our cantonments, we have always possessed a ready means of punishing them for lawless acts. Such an act was committed in January 1857, when Dost Mahomed was encamped at Jumrood, after his interview with Sir John Lawrence, whose camp was a few miles nearer Peshawur. A party of young Officers rode beyond the Ameer's camp towards the Pass, and were fired on by the Kookeq Khail. One of the number, Lieutenant Hand, was so severely wounded that he died during the night. The crime having been brought home to men of the tribe, they were blockaded, and many of their men fell into our hands. During these hostilities the mutiny broke out, but the blockade was continued in full force, and was so injurious to the interests of the tribe, that they paid down a fine of Rupees 3,000 and entered into the Agreement marked No. CXLII.

OTMAN KHAIL.

The Kohat district is closely surrounded by independent tribes, more or less connected with those inhabiting British districts. Special grounds of hostilities have occurred with some of them, which have been detailed above, but it was found expedient to have an understood course of procedure with all, because we could not limit our intercourse with them according to circumstances as at Peshawur. A simple Agreement was therefore entered into with them, laying down what was expected of them in their intercourse with British subjects. The tribes with whom such Agreements have been made at Kohat are—

I. The Otman Khail, a clan of the Orukzai tribe, numbering 450 men.

FRONTIER.

II The Zymoosht, who occupy the north-western hills of Meeranzai, and number about 5,000 men.

III. The Shekhan, another clan of the Orukzai, numbering 2,500 men.

IV. The Alisherzai, who number 3,000 men.

V. The Aka Khail, who number 500 men.

VI. The Ali Khail, an Orukzai clan of 3,000 men, north of Hungoo.

VII. The Mishtee, north of Ibrahimzai, who number 3,000 men

VIII. The Mummoozai, north of Hungoo, numbering 3,000 men.

These Agreements have been made at different times, but are all of the same tenor. One only, that with the Otman Khail, dated 2nd August 1858 (No CXLIII), is here given.

TRIBES IN KAJOOREE.

North of the Bara River, on the Peshawur border, is a tract of hilly country known as "Kajooree." It is occupied in the winter by parties of the Sipah, Kummorai, Mullikdeen Khail, and Kumber Khail tribes. This joint occupancy has been very inconvenient, as it has enabled them to allow members of other tribes to pass through their settlements for purposes of robbery and theft, in which cases the responsible party could seldom be ascertained. On this account they refused on several pretexts to become jointly responsible. But in the early part of 1861 a party of villagers from British Territory, who were grazing their cattle in the vicinity, were attacked by the Zakha Khail, who had been residing in Kajooree. One was killed, three were wounded, and their cattle was plundered. Some of the Kajooree men were seized, and further proceedings threatened, unless immediate reparation was made and an agreement entered into of joint responsibility for the future. The tribes concerned sent their representatives to Peshawur, paid a fine of Rupees 1,000, and entered into the desired Agreement, which closes that corner of the district against the Zakha Khail and other robbers. The Agreement with the Sipah and Kummorai tribes was made on the 24th April 1861 (No. CXLIV.); that with the Mullikdeen Khail and Kumber Khail was effected shortly afterwards, and is of the same tenor.

JYDOONS.

PESHAWUR
No CXXXII

This tribe is partly settled in the Hazara district, where they are British subjects; but a portion remained independent on the spurs and slopes of the Mahabun mountain, on the right bank of the Indus. Since annexation they have been peaceable and on friendly terms with us, but in their neighborhood is the fanatic colony of Sittana, the members of which have been incessantly engaged in raids, robberies, and murders in British Territory. This involved the Jydoons, through whose lands the robbers were obliged to pass on their forays, as also the Otmanzai Pathans of Kyah and Kubbul, two villages on a narrow strip of plain between the Jydoon hills and the Indus.

In 1858 a force under Sir Sydney Cotton proceeded against Sittana and destroyed it. On that occasion the Jydoons remained quiet, and the Otmanzai were our allies. The fanatics subsequently re-settled in the vicinity of Sittana, and resumed their former depredations. In the early part of 1861 it was necessary to take steps against them, and the Jydoons and Otmanzai were called to account for permitting them to re-settle and to pass through their country when proceeding to and returning from British Territory. A blockade was instituted, and soon afterwards these tribes expressed themselves willing to submit to any terms demanded of them. After some interval they agreed (Nos. CXLV. and CXLVI.) to pay a fine of Rupees 1,000, to close their country against the Sittana fanatics or other robbers, and to cease from levying certain oppressive dues from traders proceeding up and down the Indus.

PROCEEDINGS of COLONEL MACKESON, Commissioner of Peshawur, in the matter of the re-settlement of RANEZAI.

Whereas the Khans of the Ranezai have this day come to me and solicited pardon of their past offences, and to be allowed to re-settle in their country on the following conditions:—

I If the Government require them to pay revenue, they will do so.

II. If the Government desire to build a Fort in Ranezai, they are at liberty to do so.

III. If they are left by the Government to re-settle of themselves they will do so.

IV. The Khans agree that they will always be ready to do service for the Government, and will not receive into their country any person evil-disposed to the Government, nor give such person a road through their country.

V. If an army comes against them too strong for them to cope with, they will come with their families into British Territory.

On hearing these offers the Khans were informed that the British Government had no desire to extend its territories, nor to take revenue from Ranezai, but that it was incumbent on the said Government to protect its own borders from any aggression from Ranezai or elsewhere, in order that its subjects might remain in security and in the peaceful discharge of their several occupations; if any such aggression is attempted, it must be punished.

The Khans of Ranezai are hereby allowed peacefully to re-settle in their villages, and nobody will interfere with them. If in any way they commit a breach of their promises, notice will not be given to them as before, but a British Force will be sent to capture and punish them.

The Mulkis of Leondkhor having loyally come forward to assist in the re-settlement of Ranezai, it is hoped that the Khans will honestly carry out their engagements for the honor of the said Mulkis, and at their request the fine of Rupees five thousand is remitted, and the Ranezai prisoners will be released. Let them be ever grateful for the kindness and forbearance of the Government.

1st.—That two men of our tribe should constantly remain as part of the garrison of the Bungush tower on the boundary.

From a Report by the Commissioner of Derajat Division.

THE tribes from north to south of the Derajat Frontier come in the following order :—

Puthan Tribes	  1 Ahmedzye, 2 Othmanzye, 3 Muhsood, 4 Buttunees, 5 Sheoranees. 6 Usteranahs or Oosteranees.  } Wuzeerees.

Except with the Muhsood Wuzeerees no written Engagements have been entered into with the border tribes of the Derajat. The Muhsood Wuzeerees had for years remained in a hostile position towards the British Government, and lawless bands, recruited from the sub-divisions of the tribe residing nearest to our border, had constantly plundered and harried the neighboring British Territory. The inconvenience of this had been somewhat less felt from the fact of their operations being almost entirely confined to the Tank border, which was not under direct British management, and where Nawab Shah Newaz Khan Khuttie Khail contrived to carry on matters in a half friendly half defensive manner, which, though little satisfactory, it was deemed inadvisable to interrupt. A crash eventually came, when, in the absence of the Nawab and the chief Military and Civil authorities, the Muhsood tribe, headed by their most famous Mullick, attempted to plunder the Town of Tank. They were gallantly defeated with great loss by a body of Punjab Cavalry and some Police Horse. This defeat was followed up within a month by an expedition into the Wuzeeree Hills. Ransom was taken for one of the two chief towns of the tribe, and the other town was destroyed. Time has made us aware of how heavily the Muhsoods felt this blow, but at first they would not bow to make peace. The force returned in May 1860. In March 1861, after a year of comparative quiet, the heads of the tribes came down to sue for peace. Terms were offered them which they said they were unable to accept, and they returned to their hills.

After this they tried to do all the mischief they could, but rather lost than won in dealing with our outposts. In June 1861 they again sued for terms, and whereas they had been before required to make peace as one body, they were now allowed to deal with us by sections, there being three large divisions of the tribe. This was considered a boon; peace was made (No. CXLVII.) with apparent good will on both sides, the British Government securing to itself the power of indemnity for injuries by the confiscation of the merchandize of offending sections of the tribe. In less than two months the Treaty was broken by the murder of a party of grass-cutters. This was said to have been done at the instigation of a Mullick, who had not been a consenting party to the Treaty. Two sections were concerned in this murder. The whole of their tribes-men within reach, and all their property were seized, and the tribe was excluded from British Territory. This exclusion continued till the middle of October, when the heads of the tribe again came down and made good the fine of Rupees 4,500 imposed upon them by the terms of the Treaty. Peace was thus restored. The tribe now declare openly an anxious desire on their own part to maintain peace, and they give good evidence of their sincerity. At the same time they allow that they have not yet brought all the subdivisions of their tribe to their own way of thinking. But they state their hope to be able to do so ere long, and in the mean time guarantee indemnity for injuries.

A Belooch Contingent is maintained for the defence of the Derajat Frontier, and with a view more especially to enlist the sympathies of the chiefs and tribes on the side of Government. The ~~homage~~ are stationed at different posts along the frontier as near as possible to their own Estates. The pay of the Contingent is included in the cost of the police for the district. The Belooch chiefs, resident in our territories, are held answerable for the Passes from the mountains opposite their lands, in consideration for which service they receive certain allowances from Government, amounting in all to Rupees 5,200 yearly.

If, in the course of that year, no injury or offence is committed by the Shanum Khail Section of the Muhsoods in Government Territory, the hostages will be entitled to release at the expiry of the prescribed period. In the event of the occurrence of any breach, or of the committal of any offence for which reparation has not already been provided in this Treaty, the release or detention of the hostages will be at the pleasure of the British Government.

Having, as delegates from the Shanum Khail Section of the Muhsood Wuzerees, undertaken to abide by the above conditions, we each and all attach our marks to the paper of Agreement, and trust the Government will accept this covenant on our parts.

C A B O O L.

AT the beginning of the present century the Dooranee Empire, extending from Herat to Cashmere, and from Balkh to Scinde, which had been built up by Ahmed Shah Abdallee, remained undivided in the hands of his grandson, Zeman Shah. Having incurred the enmity of the powerful Barukzai tribe, Zeman Shah was deposed and blinded by his brother Mahmood, who was supported by Futteh Khan and the Barukzais. He eventually died a pensioner of the British Government at Loodhiana. In 1803 Shah Mahmood was driven out by Sujah-ool-Mulk, the younger brother of Zeman Shah, and Shah Suja was still in possession of the undivided Empire of Ahmed Shah at the time of Mr Elphinstone's mission in 1808.

This mission was sent for the purpose of concerting with Shah Suja the means of mutual defence against the threatened invasion of Afghanistan and India by the Persians in confederacy with the French. The mission was well received, and it resulted in the conclusion of a Treaty (No. CXLVIII.) of alliance, which was ratified by Lord Minto on 17th June 1809. It was understood that the stipulations of the second Article rendered it incumbent on the British Government to assist Shah Suja only in the event of an attack by the French and Persians for the purpose of fulfilling the terms of their confederacy, but not if Persia alone should invade Afghanistan without such a purpose, or in consequence of former enmity or recent disputes.

Mr. Elphinstone had scarcely left Cabool ere Shah Suja was driven out by Shah Mahmood with the aid of Futteh Khan. Wandering about for some years the sport of fortune, now a captive in Cashmere, now the prisoner of Runjeet Sing at Lahore, in September 1816 Shah Suja found an asylum in the British Territories at Loodhiana.

In the meantime Futteh Khan Barukzai, who was the chief support of Shah Mahmood's power, having incurred the jealousy of that monarch, was blinded and slain. The death of Futteh Khan roused the vengeance of the Barukzai clan. Of the twenty brothers of CABOOL. Futteh Khan, one of the youngest, Dost Mahomed Khan, was foremost in avenging his murder. Shah Mahmood was driven from all his dominions, except Herat; the whole of Afghanistan was parcelled out among the Barukzai brothers, and in the confusion consequent on this revolution, Balkh was seized by the Chief of Bokhara, the Derajat by Runjeet Sing, and the outlying province of Scind assumed independence. In the partition of Afghanistan, Ghuzni fell to the share of Dost Mahomed, but he soon established his supremacy at Cabool also, and thus became the most powerful of the Barukzai Sirdars.

Shah Suja, who had still a strong party in Cabool, had never lost hopes of recovering his kingdom. With this view, having concluded a Treaty* with Runjeet Sing in 1833, he marched through Scind, where he defeated the Ameer, and advanced on Candahar, which he temporarily occupied. Here he was signally defeated by Dost Mahomed, and he fled again in dismay to his asylum at Loodhiana. During the distractions consequent on these events, Runjeet Sing possessed himself of the valley of Peshawur. Roused by the aggressions of the Sikhs, Dost Mahomed resolved on declaring a religious war on them. He assumed the title of Ameer-ool-Momnin, Commander of the Faithful, and called on all true followers of the Prophet to join in his expedition. With an immense army he advanced to the Peshawur valley, but Runjeet Sing sowed treason in the camp, and the army melted away. Thus Peshawur was lost to the Ameer.

It had long been the policy of the British Government to raise a barrier in Persia to the invasion of India by France or Russia from the West, and no means had been spared to increase the influence of the British at the Court of Tehran. By her conquests in the north, however, resulting in the Treaty of Toorkomanshai in 1828, Russia was enabled to obtain an ascendancy in Persia, which she employed to encourage the claims of the Shah to sovereignty over Herat and Western Afghanistan. When, in 1838, the Persian army appeared before Herat, Dost Mahomed was not disinclined to welcome a power

CABOOL from which he expected support in his designs against the Sikhs and his attempts to recover Peshawur.

Meanwhile Lord Auckland had sent a mission to Cabool under Captain Burnes. The mission was professedly a commercial one, but had also in view the checking of the advance of Persia and the establishment of peace between the Ameer and Runjeet Sing. Dost Mahomed, however, was unable to obtain from the Envoy the assurance which he hoped for of the good offices of the British Government in procuring the restoration of Peshawur, and he therefore turned to the Russians, from whom he hoped to obtain greater advantages than from an English alliance.

The policy of the British Government to preserve the independence of Afghanistan was thus threatened with defeat. It was believed that Shah Suja would be welcomed by a powerful party in Cabool, to whom the Barukzai rule was odious. The restoration of the exiled monarch was resolved on, and with this object the tripartite Treaty* of June 1838 between the British Government, Runjeet Sing and Shah Suja, was executed. On the 8th of May 1839, Shah Suja was crowned at Candahar, and shortly afterwards Dost Mahomed surrendered himself, and was carried a prisoner into Hindostan. The welcome, however, which was expected for Shah Suja from the people, was not given. He was supported entirely by British bayonets. Insurrections soon broke out, which were headed by Mahomed Akbar, the second son of Dost Mahomed, and which ended in the destruction of the British army at Cabool and the murder of Shah Suja. These disasters were retrieved by Generals Pollock and Nott, who, with avenging armies, forced their way, the one by the Khyber Pass, and the other from Candahar by Ghuzni, to Cabool. Having vindicated the honor of the British arms, the British army evacuated Afghanistan, Dost Mahomed was released and permitted to return to Cabool, and the Afghans were left to form any Government they might choose.

During the second Punjab war, Dost Mahomed descended from Cabool, and re-occupied the Peshawur valley, but after the final overthrow of the Sikhs at the battle of Goojratt, the Ameer fled back beyond the Khyber on the approach of the British troops. For CABOOL several years thereafter there was no intercourse between the British Government and the Ameer, but the Ameer did not cease to incite the hill tribes on the Peshawur Frontier to annoy the British Government by perpetual hostilities.

In 1850 the Ameer annexed Balkh to his dominions. In 1854, finding himself weakened by the antagonism of his brothers in Candahar, and by the interference of Persia, he deputed his son, Gholam Hyder Khan, to Peshawur, where, in March 1855, a Treaty (No. CXLIX.) was concluded, stipulating that there should be peace between the British Government and the Ameer, that each would respect the territories of the other, and that the friends and enemies of the British Government should be the friends and enemies of Cabool.

After the Treaty had been concluded and signed, Gholam Hyder Khan intimated that it was the intention of his father's Government to send troops to occupy the valley of Dour. This, together with other lands Cis- and Trans-Indus, had been relinquished by Shah Suja to the Sikh Government, and after the annexation of the Punjab the British Government had a right thereto. But such right had never been asserted, and the Governor-General consented to the Ameer occupying the valley on his own behalf.

In 1856, when hostilities took place with Persia, the state of affairs at Herat caused alarm to the Ameer, who consulted the British Government regarding them. This resulted in the conclusion of an Agreement (No. CL.) on the 26th January 1857, confirming the Treaty of 1855, and arranging for the payment of a subsidy by the British Government to the Ameer, to enable him to strengthen his frontier, and for the deputation of British Officers to Candahar, during the continuance of the Persian war, to see that the subsidy was appropriated to the object in view, as well as for the residence at Cabool and Peshawur respectively of a Native Envoy of the British and Cabool Governments.

The recent invasion of the Cabool dominions from Herat, resulting in the siege of that town by the Ameer, has excited much speculation as to the future of Cabool. There seems little doubt that the kingdom is only kept from dismemberment by the personal influence of the Ameer, who is now of great age. The following are given as the probable statistics of the available army of the Ameer by Major Lumsden, who was deputed to Candahar on the conclusion of the Treaty of January 1857. The Regular army may be calculated at 16 Regiments of Infantry of a nominal strength of 800 bayonets each, and 3 Regiments of Cavalry each 300 strong, with an artillery park of 1 mortar, 5 heavy guns, 76 field pieces, and 6 mountain train guns. Besides these there are about 3,500 Irregular Infantry or Jezailchees, and a local militia, of whom not more than from 1,000 to 1,500 could be got together at one place. The Irregular Horse may be taken at an extreme estimate of 20,000 men. The estimated population of the Ameer's kingdom is 2,456,800 souls.

ARTICLES of AGREEMENT made at PESHAWUR on the 26th January 1857 (corresponding with Jumades-ool-Awul, 29th A. H. 1273), between AMBER DOST MOHOMMUD KHAN, Ruler of CABOOL and of those Countries of AFFGHANISTAN now in his possession, on his own part, and Sir JOHN LAWRENCE, K C B, Chief Commissioner of the PUNJAB, and Lieutenant-Colonel H. B. EDWARDS, C. B., Commissioner of PESHAWUR, on the part of the HONORABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY, under the authority of the Right Honorable CHARLES JOHN VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor-General of India in Council.

1. Whereas the Shah of Persia, contrary to his engagement with the British Government, has taken possession of Herât, and has manifested an intention to interfere in the present possessions of Ameer Dost Mohommud Khan, and there is now war between the British and Persian Governments, therefore the Honorable East India Company, to aid Ameer Dost Mohommud Khan, to defend and maintain his present possessions in Balkh, Cabool, and Candahar against Persia, hereby agrees, out of friendship, to give the said Ameer one lakh of Company's Rupees monthly during the war with Persia, on the following conditions.

2. The Ameer shall keep his present number of Cavalry and Artillery, and shall maintain not less than 18,000 Infantry, of which 13,000 shall be Regulars divided into 13 Regiments.

3. The Ameer is to make his own arrangements for receiving the money at the British treasuries, and conveying it through his own country.

4. British Officers, with suitable native establishments and orderlies, shall be deputed, at the pleasure of the British Government, to Cabool, or Candahar, or Balkh, or all three places, or wherever an Afghan army be assembled to act against the Persians. It will be their duty to see generally that the subsidy granted to the Ameer be devoted to the military purposes for which it is given, and to keep their own Government informed of all affairs. They will have nothing to do with the payment of the troops, or advising the Cabool Government; and they will not interfere in any way in the internal administration of the country. The Ameer will be responsible for their safety and honorable treatment, while in his country, and for keeping them acquainted with all military and political matters connected with the war.

5. The Ameer of Cabool shall appoint and maintain a Vakeel at Peshawur.

6. The subsidy of one lakh per mensem shall cease from the date on which peace is made between the British and Persian Governments, or at any previous time at the will and pleasure of the Governor-General of India.

7. Whenever the subsidy shall cease the British Officers shall be withdrawn from the Ameer's country; but at the pleasure of the British Government, a Vakeel, not a European Officer, shall remain at Cabool on the part of the British Government, and one at Peshawur on the part of the Government of Cabool.

8. The Ameer shall furnish a sufficient escort for the British Officers from the British border when going to the Ameer's country, and to the British border when returning.

9. The subsidy shall commence from 1st January 1857, and be payable at the British treasury one month in arrears.

10. The five lakhs of Rupees which have been already sent to the Ameer (three to Candahar and two to Cabool), will not be counted in this Agreement. They are a free and separate gift from the Honorable East India Company. But the sixth lakh now in the hands of the mahajuns of Cabool, which was sent for another purpose, will be one of the instalments under this Agreement.

11. This Agreement in no way supersedes the Treaty made at Peshawur on 30th March 1855 (corresponding with the 11th of Rujjub 1271), by which the Ameer of Cabool engaged to be the friend of the friends and enemy of the enemies of the Honorable East India Company; and the Ameer of Cabool, in the spirit of that Treaty, agrees to communicate to the British Government any overtures he may receive from Persia or the allies of Persia during the war, or while there is friendship between the Cabool and British Governments.

13. Whereas the Ameer has expressed a wish to have 4,000 muskets given him in addition to the 4,000 already given, it is agreed that 4,000 muskets shall be sent by the British Government to Tull, whence the Ameer's people will convey them with their own carriage.
